AN INJUNCTION SUIT AGAINST GAS COMPANY

LEGAL BASIS FOR PROPOSED PROCEEDINGS

The prompt action of the city council, at a special meeting held Saturday night, leaves no doubt in the minds of the people that the members mean business and will do everything in their power to prevent the gas corporation from increasing the rate to private consumers.

As was stated Saturday evening Auditor Davidson received no reply from the gas people in answer to a communication addressed to them early in the week asking for a conference. It had been the desire of the citizens' committee and the council that the gas company make some definite statement in regard to its reasons for proposing an increase in the gas rate to take effect in August. None being forthcoming, and believing that the corporation proposed to ignore the wishes of the consumers as well as the council, President Horwell called a meeting of the citizens' committee and the council. All of the members of council were present, together with several citizens who have been interested in the movement to resist the increase, and no time was wasted in preliminaries.

Auditor Davidson reported he had received no official reply to his request for a conference, but that a representative of the gas corporation had visited his office in the evening, after it had been demonstrated that council would take some action and pleaded for more time in which to answer. He was not in a position to extend the time, and members of the council thought the time given was quite long enough. Member Croxall, of the Fourth ward, made a motion to the effect that the city solicitor be instructed to procure an injunction from the court to restrain the gas corporation from inaugurating and enforcing the new rate and also to prevent it from removing the supply from the streets of East Liverpool. The motion carried promptly.

On Tuesday night, June 23, the city council, acting upon the advice of Solicitor Davidson, passed an ordinance regulating the price of natural gas. Their authority for the action was found in a section of the state law, which says:

"Section 2478 (Regulating price of electric light, artificial and natural gas). The council of any city or village

A MYSTERIOUS ROBBERY REPORTED

A mysterious robbery occurred at the home of Harvey Barnhart, of Second street, near Washington, some time during last night, and as a result Mr. Barnhart is the loser by $50 in currency and a valuable revolver. The money was stolen from Mr. Barnhart's trousers and the revolver from the mantel of his sleeping room, on the second floor of the building. The theft was committed while Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart and the children were sleeping.

When seen this afternoon Mrs. Barnhart stated that her husband and herself are at a loss to account for the burglary. It is apparent that the burglar was either possessed of an unusual amount of daring or was intimately acquainted with the interior of the premises. The entrance was effected through a rear door and to reach the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart the burglar had to pass through the dining room and ascend a dark pair of stairs. The revolver was first taken from the mantle and the burglar then delved into the trousers, securing the pocketbook containing the money.

During the time the theft was being committed, Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart slept soundly and the theft was not discovered until this morning. An investigation of the premises was made after the discovery, but no trace of the burglar could be found. The matter has been reported to the police.

NEW HOSPITAL CORNER STONE WILL BE LAID TOMORROW

The cornerstone of the new hospital will be laid tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. No program has been arranged, and owing to circumstances the operation will be attended by no ceremony whatever.

The building committee had hoped to be well along with the work in hand by this time, but have been hindered by first one thing then another until it was only within the past few weeks that building operations have been in progress. On account of this and the fact that it would require time to prepare and carry out the usual program, the ceremony will be absolutely informal. The members of the building committee have decided upon the articles which the packet will contain, and they will be placed in a box and deposited without ceremony.

The packet will consist of the city newspapers and other articles which it is customary to place in the stone. A list of the members of the association together with the officers will also be placed within. It is probable the ceremony will be witnessed by a large number of interested ones.

The building committee has determined that nothing shall interfere with the building operations now that they have been started, and aside from the actual time that must be consumed in setting the stone the bricklayers will not be interrupted. Good progress is being made by the workmen now employed at the building, and it is announced by the contractors that the task will be completed in plenty of time to have the institution formally opened to the public before cold weather sets in.

RELIANCE AGAIN LEADS IN THE YACHT RACE TODAY

Sandy Hook, August 31.—(Special.)—With the wind blowing at the rate of 10 knots an hour and the seas rolling in heavy swells, the Reliance and the Shamrock crossed the starting line at 11:45:20 and 11:45:24, respectively. The start gained by the superior craftsmen on the Reliance gave the defender a lead that could not be overcome by the Shamrock and the American boat steadily gained. When they were half way to the outer mark the Reliance was at least a quarter of a mile ahead.

TROLLEY LINE EXTENSION TORONTO TO WELLSVILLE

Rights of Way Between the Two Towns Practically All Secured.

Toronto, August 31.—Toronto, Empire and Wellsville will, in all probability, be united by a traction line next season, as the work of obtaining the right of way between the towns of Empire and Wellsville has been practically all completed, except from two land owners. B. D. Beacom, the general manager of the United States Telephone company, has been doing this work for the projectors, and on Friday night was in consultation with the city fathers at Empire relative to a franchise through that village.

As soon as that is obtained, it is stated by Mr. Beacom, that the matter of connecting with the Toronto line, now being extended to Elliottsville, half way between Toronto and Empire, will be taken up.

LIVELY EVENING IN THE HOLLOW

SOME WERE RATHER UGLY

Chief Wyman, accompanied by Officers Aufderheide, Mahoney, Dunn, Dawson and Bryan, made things lively in Jethro Hollow Saturday night. According to pre-arrangement they all assembled at a certain point in the West End at about 12:30 o'clock ready for a pull of disorderly houses. If there were any that escaped deteetion no one in that section of the city knows of its location. The proprietors, inmates and visitors of three houses were arrested and those who did not furnish security for their appearance today were hauled to central station and locked up.

With the stealth of Nick Carter and his famous gang of sleuths the chief and officers approached the houses, hiding themselves under the darkness of the trees and in neither case did the people of the houses have the least premonition of their fate. The hour had passed when hauls are generally made and they were enjoying themselves to the limit when the officers knocked for admittance. Thinking in each case that the sounds on the doors were produced by victims wanting a night's lodging the officers were allowed access to the houses without the usual window and door smashing.

Though all of the houses were going in full blast the house rented by Newton Croxall, an ex-convict, was the scene of the most disorder. It was there that Chief Wyman came near getting a disfigured physiognomy. The chief applied for admission and when it was given him the inmates, discovering who he was, pitched into him and the rest of the officers in great shape. The girls and male visitors at the house were not so bad, but the alleged proprietor and a friend of his who was in a room asleep at the time of the entrance woke up in a bad humor and refused stubbornly to depart. They finally gave in, however, and the patrol wagon was summoned. While the wagon was enroute to the hollow Croxall says he did not like the idea of riding in the wagon in a sober frame of mind and that he drank a pint of whisky and a bottle of ale. The amount he guzzled had the effect he desired. It was not long until it began cropping out all over him and when an argument was started with the chief he very indiscreetly took a punch at the officer. The chief says that Croxall did land a blow on his mouth. The blow was more than the chief could take and he retaliated by knocking Croxall to the floor. One of the girls then showed fight and she and Officer Dunn had a fistic act.

The arrival of the patrol wagon was hailed with delight and Croxall and a couple of the girls were hustled off to the city jail. Croxall had about $180 on his clothes, but would not give any of it for security. As a result he and the two girls spent the night in a cell. Yesterday morning they were very anxious to get out, however, and Newton produced the money. While they were making up their minds to hand over the money the girls, two of the lowest females ever arrested in this city, made the air blue in the vicinity of the city hall with oaths. They acted so disgracefully that the women in that section of the city had to leave to

OHIO STATE FAIR OPENED TODAY

The Exhibition Said to Be Much Superior to That of Former Years.

NOTED MEN IN POLITICS

Will Speak on Wednesday and Thursday, Designated Respectively As Republican and Democratic Days. Aggressive Prohibition Campaign.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 31.—Ohio's mammoth industrial exposition holds the boards at the state capital this week. The fair opened this morning and closes Saturday. It is bigger and better than ever and worth seeing. This being centennial year, the state board of agriculture, which has charge of the fair, has striven to make it an epoch in the history of the state's industrial expositions. Two new features will be in evidence—Republican and Democratic days. Democratic day will be Wednesday, when Governor Nash will preside. The speakers will be William Jennings Bryan, Hon. John H. Clarke, Tom L. Johnson and Frank P. Niles, of Toledo, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor. A Democrat will preside on Republican day, which will be Thursday—Hon. Lawrence T. Neal, of Chillicothe. Secretary Shaw will be present as President Roosevelt's representative, and other speakers will be Senator Hanna, Col. Myron T. Herrick and Hon. W. G. Harding, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor. Both meetings are to be non-partisan, but it is to be expected that some politics will be injected into each. The advance guard of the big influx of visitors arrived today and the attendance at the fair will likely break all records.

Rev. N. D. Creamer, of Columbus, Prohibition candidate for governor, is conducting an aggressive campaign and expects to speak in a majority of the counties before election time. He began his itinerary on August 7 and has already been in 20 counties. He will be in the Eighteenth district the fore part of October. On October 1 he will be in Stark, October 2 Carroll, October 3 Columbiana, October 5 Mahoning and October 6 Trumbull. Columbiana and Stark counties are the Prohibition strongholds of the state. Despite the fact that the party has made little advancement, it shows no signs of discouragement and each year finds it fighting manfully for the principles on which it was founded.

The Ohio Rifle team, in command of Assistant Adjutant General Edward T Miller, has left for Sea Girt, N. J., to compete in the national contest for the Hilton trophy. On the team is Corporal Charles B. Winders, of Company G, Sixth regiment, the crack shot of the world, who was a member of the United States team which won the international shoot at Henley, England, several weeks ago. The Hilton trophy is valued at $2,000 and at present is held by New York. Each year shows a big improvement in the marksmanship of the Ohio Guardsmen and has given rise to the hope that this state will carry off the prize before a great while.

Thomas McGee, a former East Liverpool potter, came over to Columbus from Crooksville Sunday, to call on friends and visit the institutions which make the city interesting. It was his first trip to the city. He is employed in the Crooksville pottery, which he reports is busy. He says that the people of that community are hospitable, progressive and deeply interested in their two white ware potteries, one of which is now building.

Harry McArter, of Lisbon, has arrived to spend a week with his brother, J. S. McArter, of 209 West Eleventh avenue.

Near Death from Paralysis.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—Mrs. Thos. B. Stewart, aged about 65 who was stricken with paralysis a week ago at her home in Wayne township, has been steadily growing weaker and is now thought to be near death. The entire left side is paralyzed.

Two Killed By a Wire

Beaver, Pa., August 31.—Owen Bowen, aged 16, and George Adams, colored, aged 30, were killed by a live electric light wire yesterday afternoon on the property of John Daley on Beaver terrace.

BULLET CAME OUT OF THE WRONG END

New Garden Boy Shot in the Breast While Handling a Rifle.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—George Woolf, the 16-year-old son of C. L. Woolf, of New Garden, was wounded in the breast Saturday by a 22-calibre bullet from a target rifle.

Young Woolf had cornered some game in a hole under the roots of a tree, and in stirring about with the gun barrel, got the muzzle plugged up. He was not aware of this until he pulled the trigger and the bullet came out at the breach, penetrating the breast and plowing upward into the shoulder. At last accounts the bullet had not been located.

CHIEF'S MEMORY SERVED HIM WELL

A BOLD ROBBERY RECALLED

When Newton Croxall, who was arrested on a charge of running a disorderly house in Jethro Hollow, was searched before confinement in a cell at central station Saturday night, Chief Wyman, together with money and other valuables, got possession of a lady's gold watch and chain. Usually such a find would not create any suspicion on the part of the chief, it not being uncommon for a man to have a lady's watch in his possession. But in this case the chief at once brought to mind a little escapade in which Croxall and a watch were strong features.

The chief remembered that Croxall and a young man by the name of Rambo had been sent to the Ohio penitentiary about three years ago, after being convicted of highway robbery. They stopped two well known young ladies of the city, sisters by the name of Schaffer, while they were en route to their home one dark night in a buggy, and after frightening them all but to death, robbed them of some money, other minor things and a gold watch. When the two men were arrested and convicted the stolen articles were not produced, and so far as the girls were concerned, were never given a thought after the trial. Chief Wyman knew all about the case that sent the two fellows over the road, both to serve five year sentences, and it is not strange that he was reminded of the affair upon seeing a lady's watch in the possession of Croxall, who got a pardon some time ago.

Feeling positive that he was not mistaken the chief sent the Schaffer sisters word to appear at the city hall this morning. They did so and immediately recognized the watch. One of the girls positively identified it by remembering initials that are inscribed on the outside of the case and that the watch was minus a rim, which she has laid away at home.

Miss Schaffer, after making the identification complete, was advised to seek a justice of the peace and commence proceedings to get possession of the watch. She secured the aid of 'Squire Rose and the proper proceedings were at once instituted.

NO SALE OF BONDS WAS EFFECTED

St. Clair Township Trustees Refuse a $400 Premium on $20,000.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—The county commissioners were notified Saturday afternoon that the $20,000 worth of bonds for road improvements, offered for sale by the St. Clair township trustees Friday, were not disposed of.

The most favorable bid received offered to take them at a premium of $400. An additional bid will be considered tomorrow.

River Rapidly Falling.

There is so little prospect of the boating stage in the river being maintained until the end of the week that the packets will not attempt to resume operations. The river has fallen four feet since yesterday and continues to recede today. By the end of the week it is expected that there will be less water than before the rains.

CROSSING THE TRACK TWO MEN MET DEATH

Got In the Way of the Fort Wayne Flyer at Leetonia and Were Ground to Pieces.

ANOTHER TRAIN PASSING CONFUSED THEM

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—Two more lives were blotted out in a twinkling at Leetonia Saturday when Newton Fife and Michael Schlosser, both residents of that village, were struck and instantly killed by a Ft. Wayne flyer.

The accident occurred at 9 o'clock at the Columbia street crossing, near the station. The men had started over to the station from the Valley hotel, a few rods south of the Ft. Wayne tracks. At the crossing they had to wait until an eastbound freight train on the track next to them passed, and as the caboose cleared the crossing they stepped over the south track and onto the north track just in front of the flyer, which they had neither seen nor heard.

The flyer was rushing along at a terrific speed and the men were hurled a considerable distance, the skull of each was crushed and nearly every bone in their bodies were broken.

Coroner Jones was notified, but as it was a clear case of accidental death, the matter of an inquest was left to local authorities. The bodies were removed to Crowl's undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial.

Newton Fife was born at West Point and was 45 years old. He is survived by a wife, a married daughter and several small children. His mother, Mrs. Martha Fife, of Lisbon, also survives him, in addition to four brothers and three sisters: John H., of New York; William, of St. Mary's, W. Va.; George, of Youngstown, and James, of Leetonia, and Mrs. P. A. Walters, Mrs. George R. Moore and Miss Margaret, all of Lisbon. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock at the late home of the deceased, with burial at the Mennonite cemetery, a mile east of Leetonia.

Fife was in the employ of the Buckeye Engine company, of Salem, on some special work the company is doing in Leetonia.

Schlosser, who was a native of Austria, was 35 years old and unmarried. He had no near relatives in this country. Funeral services were held from the undertaking rooms in Leetonia at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with burial at Oakdale cemetery. Schlosser was employed at the Cherry Valley furnace.

TRIED TO LET A TRAIN KILL HER

A West End Woman Songht to End Her Days But Her Husband Came to Her Rescue.

Rather than take part any longer in a war of words with her husband, the like of which, it is said, have been very common since her marriage, Mrs. Fletcher Massey, of the West End, made a desperate attempt to end her life this afternoon by jumping in front of the pony engine, which was going at a fast rate of speed up the Horn switch. She was saved from the horrible death by her husband, who grabbed her when the engine was not more than six feet away.

Massey and his wife are said to have had trouble ever since their marriage several years ago, and at one time the husband deserted her for quite a long period. They were out together today, and in their wanderings got up in the central portion of the city. Shortly after 1 o'clock they concluded to return home and going over to the Horn switch started on the journey. While walking down the track they became engaged in an argument and Massey's epithets finally became so harsh that Mrs. Massey concluded death preferable to a life with such a person as a helpmeet. She warned him to cease in his tirade time and again, but he heeded nothing, she said, and when she saw the approach of the pony engine she determined without saying a word to end it all.

That she did not accomplish the desperate act was due to her being overzealous. The husband saw her make the first step toward the track, but thought nothing until she leaped far down the track. He knew then the end she was attempting to accomplish and he jumped with one bound to her side. Grabbing her by the arms he gave one strenuous pull and succeeded in freeing her from certain death by his quick action.

The trainmen saw the act, but were unable to stop the engine and would undoubtedly have run over the distracted woman. After her rescue the husband commenced again on a tirade and tried to get her to explain. She simply said that death would be better than a life with him.

An enormous crowd was attracted to the scene, and the above story was told by a spectator.

One of the important questions settled at the special meeting of council held Saturday evening was the disposal of the $92,925 worth of bonds. As announced in the News Review, the question was taken up with the intention of getting rid of the bonds at some figure and the councilmen were not long in accepting what they thought to be the best offer.

The proposition made by Attorney George Gaston, of Cleveland, wherein he agreed to secure a buyer if the city would give him $175 brokerage, was turned down after the city auditor informed the body that he had received a telegram from J. R. Williams & Co., of Pittsburg, stating that they would buy the bonds and give a premium of $200 for them. That was the largest premium yet offered and council took advantage of the offer.

The company made it plain in the proposition, however, that the bonds would not be taken unless they could be furnished by Wednesday of this week. The councilmen went to the lowest bidder and found that they could not do the work by that time. Consequently the work was given to another party.

By so disposing of the bonds the city clerk and treasurer will have the money in a very short time and some of the obligations that have been drawing interest at the rate of seven per cent will soon be wiped away. That will afford a source of much general satisfaction over the city. The business men will be especially benefited as stated previously in the News Review. Since the city has been owing local banks $5,000 or more it has been impossible for the business men to get money, they being compelled to go to Pittsburg after it. They will now be able to get what money they need.

Contractor Ryan and numerous others will also benefit by the sale.

He began his itinerary on August 7 and has already been in 20 counties. He will be in the Eighteenth district the fore part of October. On October 1 he will be in Stark, October 2 Carroll, October 3 Columbiana, October 5 Mahoning and October 6 Trumbull. Columbiana and Stark counties are the Prohibition strongholds of the state. Despite the fact that the party has made little advancement, it shows no signs of discouragement and each year finds it fighting manfully for the principles on which it was founded.

The Ohio Rifle team, in command of Assistant Adjutant General Edward T Miller, has left for Sea Girt, N. J., to compete in the national contest for the Hilton trophy. On the team is Corporal Charles B. Winders, of Company G, Sixth regiment, the crack shot of the world, who was a member of the United States team which won the international shoot at Henley, England, several weeks ago. The Hilton trophy is valued at $2,000 and at present is held by New York. Each year shows a big improvement in the markmanship of the Onio Guardsmen and has given rise to the hope that this state will carry off the prize before a great while.

Thomas McGee, a former East Liverpool potter, came over to Columbus from Crooksville Sunday, to call on friends and visit the institutions which make the city interesting. It was his first trip to the city. He is employed in the Crooksville pottery, which he reports is busy. He says that the people of that community are hospitable, progressive and deeply interested in their two white ware potteries, one of which is now building.

Near Death from Paralysis.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—Mrs. Thos. B. Stewart, aged about 65 who was stricken with paralysis a week ago at her home in Wayne township, has been steadily growing weaker and is now thought to be near death. The entire left side is paralyzed.

Two Killed By a Wire

Beaver, Pa., August 31.—Owen Bowen, aged 16, and George Adams, colored, aged 30, were killed by a live electric light wire yesterday afternoon on the property of John Daley on Beaver terrace.

New Garden Boy Shot in the Breast While Handling a Rifle.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—George Woolf, the 16-year-old son of C. L. Woolf, of New Garden, was wounded in the breast Saturday by a 22-calibre bullet from a target rifle.

Young Woolf had cornered some game in a hole under the roots of a tree, and in stirring about with the gun barrel, got the muzzle plugged up. He was not aware of this until he pulled the trigger and the bullet came out at the breach, penetrating the breast and plowing upward into the shoulder. At last accounts the bullet had not been located.

New Safe Put In.

A BOLD ROBBERY RECALLED

When Newton Croxall, who was arrested on a charge of running a disorderly house in Jethro Hollow, was searched before confinement in a cell at central station Saturday night, Chief Wyman, together with money and other valuables, got possession of a lady's gold watch and chain. Usually such a find would not create any suspicion on the part of the chief, it not being uncommon for a man to have a lady's watch in his possession. But in this case the chief at once brought to mind a little escapade in which Croxall and a watch were strong features.

The chief remembered that Croxall and a young man by the name of Rambo had been sent to the Ohio penitentiary about three years ago, after being convicted of highway robbery. They stopped two well known young ladies of the city, sisters by the name of Schaffer, while they were en route to their home one dark night in a buggy, and after frightening them all but to death, robbed them of some money, other minor things and a gold watch. When the two men were arrested and convicted the stolen articles were not produced, and so far as the girls were concerned, were never given a thought after the trial. Chief Wyman knew all about the case that sent the two fellows over the road, both to serve five year sentences, and it is not strange that he was reminded of the affair upon seeing a lady's watch in the possession of Croxall, who got a pardon some time ago.

Feeling positive that he was not mistaken the chief sent the Schaffer sisters word to appear at the city hall this morning. They did so and immediately recognized the watch. One of the girls positively identified it by remembering initials that are inscribed on the outside of the case and that the watch was minus a rim, which she has laid away at home.

Miss Schaffer, after making the identification complete, was advised to seek a justice of the peace and commence proceedings to get possession of the watch. She secured the aid of 'Squire Rose and the proper proceedings were at once instituted.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—The county commissioners were notified Saturday afternoon that the $20,000 worth of bonds for road improvements, offered for sale by the St. Clair township trustees Friday, were not disposed of.

The most favorable bid received offered to take them at a premium of $400. An additional bid will be considered tomorrow.

River Rapidly Falling.

There is so little prospect of the boating stage in the river being maintained until the end of the week that the packets will not attempt to resume operations. The river has fallen four feet since yesterday and continues to recede today. By the end of the week it is expected that there will be less water than bfore the rains.

Got In the Way of the Fort Wayne Flyer at Leetonia and Were Ground fo Pieces.

ANOTHER TRAIN PASSING CONFUSED THEM

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—Two more lives were blotted out in a twinkling at Leetonia Saturday when Newton Fife and Michael Schlosser, both residents of that village, were struck and instantly killed by a Ft. Wayne flyer.

The accident occurred at 9 o'clock at the Columbia street crossing, near the station. The men had started over to the station from the Valley hotel, a few rods south of the Ft. Wayne tracks. At the crossing they had to wait until an eastbound freight train on the track next to them passed, and as the caboose cleared the crossing they stepped over the south track and onto the north track just in front of the flyer, which they had neither seen nor heard.

The flyer was rushing along at a terrific speed and the men were hurled a considerable distance, the skull of each was crushed and nearly every bone in their bodies were broken.

Coroner Jones was notified, but as it was a clear case of accidental death, the matter of an inquest was left to local authorities. The bodies were removed to Crowl's undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial.

Newton Fife was born at West Point and was 45 years old. He is survived by a wife, a married daughter and several small children. His mother, Mrs. Martha Fife, of Lisbon, also survives him, in addition to four brothers and three sisters: John H., of New York; William, of St. Mary's, W. Va.; George, of Youngstown, and James, of Leetonia, and Mrs. P. A. Walters, Mrs. George R. Moore and Miss Margaret, all of Lisbon. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock at the late home of the deceased, with burial at the Mennonite cemetery, a mile east of Leetonia.

Fife was in the employ of the Buckeye Engine company, of Salem, on some special work the company is doing in Leetonia.

Schlosser, who was a native of Austria, was 35 years old and unmarried. He had no near relatives in this country. Funeral services were held from the undertaking rooms in Leetonia at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with burial at Oakdale cemetery. Schlosser was employed at the Cherry Valley furnace.

A West End Woman Songht to End Her Days But Her Husband Came to Her Rescue.

Rather than take part any longer in a war of words with her husband, the like of which, it is said, have been very common since her marriage, Mrs. Fletcher Massey, of the West End, made a desperate attempt to end her life this afternoon by jumping in front of the pony engine, which was going at a fast rate of speed up the Horn switch. She was saved from the horrible death by her husband, who grabbed her when the engine was not more than six feet away.

Massey and his wife are said to have had trouble ever since their marriage several years ago, and at one time the husband deserted her for quite a long period. They were out together today, and in their wanderings got up in the central portion of the city. Shortly after 1 o'clock they concluded to return home and going over to the Horn switch started on the journey. While walking down the track they became engaged in an argument and Massey's epithets finally became so harsh that Mrs. Massey concluded death preferable to a life with such a person as a helpmeet. She warned him to cease in his tirade time and again, but he heeded nothing, she said, and when she saw the approach of the pony engine she determined without saying a word to end it all.

That she did not accomplish the desperate act was due to her being overzealous. The husband saw her make the first step toward the track, but thought nothing until she leaped far down the track. He knew then the end she was attempting to accomplish and he jumped with one bound to her side. Grabbing her by the arms he gave one strenuous pull and succeeded in freeing her from certain death by his quick action.

The trainmen saw the act, but were unable to stop the engine and would undoubtedly have run over the distracted woman. After her rescue the husband commenced again on a tirade and tried to get her to explain. She simply said that death would be better than a life with him.

One of the important questions settled at the special meeting of council held Saturday evening was the disposal of the $92,925 worth of bonds. As announced in the News Review, the question was taken up with the intention of getting rid of the bonds at some figure and the councilmen were not long in accepting what they thought to be the best offer.

The proposition made by Attorney George Gaston, of Cleveland, wherein he agreed to secure a buyer if the city would give him $175 brokerage, was turned down after the city auditor informed the body that he had received a telegram from J. R. Williams & Co., of Pittsburg, stating that they would buy the bonds and give a premium of $200 for them. That was the largest premium yet offered and council took advantage of the offer.

The company made it plain in the proposition, however, that the bonds would not be taken unless they could be furnished by Wednesday of this week. The councilmen went to the lowest bidder and found that they could not do the work by that time. Consequently the work was given to another party.

By so disposing of the bonds the city clerk and treasurer will have the money in a very short time and some of the obligations that have been drawing interest at the rate of seven per cent will soon be wiped away. That will afford a source of much general satisfaction over the city. The business men will be especially benefited as stated previously in the News Review. Since the city has been owing local banks $5,000 or more it has been impossible for the business men to get money, they being compelled to go to Pittsburg after it. They will now be able to get what money they need.

Contractor Ryan and numerous others will also benefit by the sale.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

IMMENSE CONTRACT.

One of the largest contracts ever placed with a western pottery was recently secured by the Weir Pottery company, of Monmouth, Ill. It was made with the Sleepy Eye Milling company, of Sleepy Eye, Minn., and the first run on the ware is now being made. On August 1 the first shipment to the Minnesota company was made, and the goods are now being turned out as rapidly as possible.

Little idea of the extent of the order can be obtained until figures are given. The contract calls for 500,000 pieces of Flemish ware, and also gives the milling concern option on 500,000 more. They advise the Weir people that they will probably take advantage of the option they hold, so that when the contract is finished it is probable that one concern will have purchased an even million pieces of the Monmouth ware. The first order of 500,000 pieces will weigh 1,750,000 pounds and to transport it 73 cars will be used.

The order from the Sleepy Eye people speaks much for the ware that is being turned out by the Weir company. This company has already become famous as the manufacturers of the Weir fruit jar, but several other different kinds of ware are now being made at its plant. The order from the famous Minnesota flouring company is for Flemish ware, an entirely new product for the Monmouth company.

KOKOMO'S NEW PLANT.

Edward Cook has returned from Kokomo, Ind., where he has been engaged for two months in constructing the buildings for the Columbia Sanitary Pottery company. Mr. Cook also superintended the repairs of the kilns for the Crown Pottery company plant. New crowns and mouths were placed in the kilns. The Columbia pottery will be ready for operation in two weeks. Clay is already being made. The main building is 640x60 feet and two stories in height. The kiln department is 90x84 feet. All the buildings are of brick. The capacity of the new pottery is five kilns, which can be increased as desired.

NEW BOHEMIA WARE.

An entirely new china has been introduced into London under the name of Eosen Aurora. It comes from Bohemia and has been awarded medals at several exhibitions. Its chief characteristic is the exquisite luster which is produced on the surface, giving it a metallic appearance. The prevailing colors of the work are deep purple, crimson and orange, with a dull bronze sheen. The designs are mostly l'Art Nouveau style, simple motives obtained by lines and curves on vases of novel and artistic shape, scarcely any two pieces being exactly alike.

A GOOD SELECTION.

Charles Pelly, who has been selected as the art director of the new Carrollton plant, was a visitor to that town last week and spent several days looking over the new plant. Mr. Pelly will remove his family to Carrollton as soon as the plant is ready for operation. The selection of Mr. Pelly as the manager of the decorating department was a good stroke upon the part of the firm and in him it has a first-class man. Mr. Pelly has been connected with the American Ceramic Art company and has also been employed as a decorator at the Sevres.

PAINFUL INJURY.

CLAY MANUFACTURERS *!

JIGGERMEN IDLE TODAY.

THE WEATHER.

CARROLLTON NOTES.

The third kiln was dried out yesterday.

The first clay was prepared for the ware yesterday.

The bricklayers will resume work on the last pair of decorating kilns the first of the week.

The sixth kiln of saggers was fired yesterday. There are now about 4,000 saggers on hand.

The dripping house, biscuit ware room and green room have been put in readiness for occupancy.

Charles Terry, who has been working in the sagger department for the past three weeks, has returned to East Liverpool.

The pottery company have secured the services of four salesmen who will go out just as soon as the samples can be prepared.

The management is being greatly handicapped through the failure of the machinery to arrive. It has been expected for over a week.

The moulds have been removed from the mould shop to their respective places in the pressing and jigger departments, which is in the second story.

Will Hackney, the mould maker, states that he now has a sufficient number of moulds on hand for the pottery to commence work. Mr. Fletcher, the sagger man, says he is also ready with the saggers.

The employes of the pottery living at a distance have been notified to report for work next Monday morning, when the pottery will be put in operation. At least a dozen men are here now awaiting the starting of the concern.

Will Leigh, of Lisbon, has rented the Fawcett house, and he and his mother will move here in the course of a few weeks. Their goods are now stored in the room formerly occupied by the pottery officials. Mr. Leigh is a jigger-man.

H. W. Saunders, of Hanley, England, has come here from Trenton, N. J. He is the modeler for the pottery and is putting out some beautiful specimens which are in keeping with the national reputation he has for doing first-class work. One of them is a brush and comb tray, and another a fruit dish. Mr. Saunders is testing some of the red clay found between here and Scroggsfield. He is a graduate in chemistry and an adept modeler.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

THE Y. M. C. A. RUNS A BIG HOTEL

The Young Men's Christian Association chartered the big hotel at Silver Bay, Lake George, for the month of August and filled this resort, together with some of the neighboring cottages, with its members and their families. During the first 10 days an institute with meetings in the morning and evening was held. The addresses were given by men who are leaders in Christian thought and activity. Bible study and studies of the social life of young men were arranged for those who desired to attend at other hours.

During the entire month a training conference for secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association was held, in which 21 men were registered. Next year a department for training physical directors will be introduced. There are now over 200 vacancies in the Young Men's Christian association secretarial ranks demanding men who have been trained for the direction of associations. This may be now called a new profession. Nearly 2,000 men are engaged in it. The two training schools of the Young Men's Christian Association at Springfield, Mass., and at Chicago are able to supply but a small part of the number required.

There is just now opening at Silver Bay a conference for the older boys of the association's boys' departments with 150 boys in attendance from all parts of the country east of Wisconsin. These boys are officers and leaders of the boys' departments, in which there are over 40,000 boys enrolled.

The western associations have an encampment on Lake Geneva of 14 acres, which has been crowded from June to August 30, the dining room accommodates nearly 300. In its institute for training secretaries and physical directors it had 113 men enrolled. Beginning with the conference for college men and ending with that for the association members, athletics, boating, swimming and mountain climbing filled the days of the men present as much as the conferences and other meetings. It is a combination vacation resort and institute.

THE PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS

THE WORLD HAS LEARNED

And Is Still Learning Much About the Nature of the Dread Disease And Methods of Combatting It—Consumption Not Hereditary.

Columbus, August 31.—(Special)—Dr. C. O. Probst, secretary of the new Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, has issued the following interesting statement:

The Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis was organized in November, 1901. The name indicates its object. One of the chief methods to be employed for obtaining this object will be the dissemination of reliable information concerning the cause and prevention of tuberculosis. A series of short articles on this subject, of which this is the first, has been prepared.

Many interesting phases of the subject must be left untouched from lack of space; but any question which interested readers may wish to have answered should be sent to the secretary, who will furnish the information desider, if possible.

The society now numbers more than 300 members—men and women, physicians and laymen. Anyone wishing to join will be warmly welcomed.

Tuberculosis is a disease which may affect any organ of the body. The lungs are most generally attacked. Here it is known as consumption, on account of the great wasting of the body usually present before death.

Tuberculosis destroys more than 6,000 people in this state every year. If allowed to go on unchecked fully 400,000 of those now living in Ohio must die from this illness.

The disease has been known from the earliest history of medicine, and continues to prevail in all parts of the civilized world. Its infectious character was long ago more than once suggested.

Toward the close of the eighteenth century this must have been the popular belief in many countries. In Naples in 1782, a royal decree required the disease to be reported and quarantined. Disinfection was carried out after the death or recovery of the patient.

This idea of the communicability of consumption, so strongly fixed in the minds of Neapolitans and others, was gradually dispelled by the theory of heredity. It is of great importance that this question of heredity should be correctly and very generally understood.

To know that it is not an inherited disease should bring hope and gladness to thousands of tuberculous parents, and to the children of such parents. Acting under the belief that the disease was inherited no precautions were taken to prevent the communication of consumption from one to another. Whole families were swept away—not on account of heredity, but because the living germ that produces it was not destroyed.

With the discovery of the veritable cause of tuberculosis, to which allusion will be made later on, heredity as the cause of the disease could no longer be accepted.

We can now be absolutely certain that without this germ of tuberculosis there can be no tuberculosis.

To inherit consumption it would be necessary for this germ to be transmitted from parent to offspring, and we know that this practically never happens.

Heredity does play a part in the development of tuberculosis, but only the minor part of one among many of the predisposing causes.

One may inherit a tendency to tuberculosis. Other things being equal, a child with one parent, and especially both, consumptive, will be more apt to develop the disease when exposed to the exciting cause than a child whose parents have been free from tuberculosis.

Experiments in preventing the spread of tuberculosis among animals is most instructive. Bangs, of Copenhagen, who is an authority on this subject, has shown that it is possible to entirely eradicate the disease from a herd of cattle in the following manner:

The animals are all tested for tuberculosis by injections of tuberculin. The sick and the well animals are then completely separated. Calves born of tuberculous mothers are at once removed, and are fed on the milk from a healthy animal.

Frequent tests with tuberculin are made of the apparently healthy animals, and any found to have developed tuberculosis are rejected. In one or two years' time it is possible in this manner to entirely weed out tuberculosis from a large held of animals, even when 60 per cent or more of them were affected in the beginning.

The same results may be obtained in the human family. Bernheim gives the following striking examples:

"The family B. was composed of five children, a father who died of consumption and a mother who was well.

"The second child was removed from its home immediately after its birth, reared by a healthy nurse until he was 13 years of age, and then put into a school. He is now a healthy man of 36. He has never lived with his parents.

"The four other children lived with their parents. Two of them have died of pulmonary tuberculosis, and the other two have the disease in an advanced stage.

"In another family of seven children the father and mother were both tuberculous. The second and the fifth child were removed from their parents and their brothers and sisters, and never lived with them.

"The five children reared by their parents have all died of tuberculosis. The two who were isolated have remained well, are now both married and have fine healthy children of their own."—(From "Tuberculosis—Infection, Heredity," etc., by Dr. A. G. Young.)

This early and complete separation of children and parents will seldom be possible, nor is it necessary, for if strict precautions are taken by consumptive parents to guard their offspring against infection in the home they will be in little danger of contracting the disease.

We may dismiss heredity, then, by saying that it is simply a predisposing cause of tuberculosis, like alcoholism, overcrowding, bad ventilation, damp soil, etc.

No one need be disheartened because he has lost a parent or near relative from consumption. He is, it is true, slightly more prone to the disease than others. But this predisposition may be overcome by simple hygienic measures, to be spoken of later, which will at the same time protect him against many other diseases due to faulty habits of living.

The next article will be devoted to the cause of tuberculosis—the nature of the germ that produces it and the various predisposing causes that render the human body a favorable soid for its growth.

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

ALCOHOL IN ALL LIQUID KIDNEY AND RHEUMATIC REMEDIES CONDEMNS THEM.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up, and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

IMMENSE CONTRACT.

One of the largest contracts ever placed with a western pottery was recently secured by the Weir Pottery company, of Monmouth, Ill. It was made with the Sleepy Eye Milling company, of Sleepy Eye, Minn., and the first run on the ware is now being made. On August 1 the first shipment to the Minnesota company was made, and the goods are now being turned out as rapidly as possible.

Little idea of the extent of the order can be obtained until figures are given. The contract calls for 500,000 pieces of Flemish ware, and also gives the milling concern option on 500,000 more. They advise the Weir people that they will probably take advantage of the option they hold, so that when the contract is finished it is probable that one concern will have purchased an even million pieces of the Monmouth ware. The first order of 500,000 pieces will weigh 1,750,000 pounds and to transport it 73 cars will be used.

The order from the Sleepy Eye people speaks much for the ware that is being turned out by the Weir company. This company has already become famous as the manufacturers of the Weir fruit jar, but several other different kinds of ware are now being made at its plant. The order from the famous Minnesota flouring company is for Flemish ware, an entirely new product for the Monmouth company.

KOKOMO'S NEW PLANT.

Edward Cook has returned from Kokomo, Ind., where he has been engaged for two months in constructing the buildings for the Columbia Sanitary Pottery company. Mr. Cook also superintended the repairs of the kilns for the Crown Pottery company plant. New crowns and mouths were placed in the kilns. The Columbia pottery will be ready for operation in two weeks. Clay is already being made. The main building is 640x60 feet and two stories in height. The kiln department is 90x84 feet. All the buildings are of brick. The capacity of the new pottery is five kilns, which can be increased as desired.

NEW BOHEMIA WARE.

An entirely new china has been introduced into London under the name of Eosen Aurora. It comes from Bohemia and has been awarded medals at several exhibitions. Its chief characteristic is the exquisite luster which is produced on the surface, giving it a metallic appearance. The prevailing colors of the work are deep purple, crimson and orange, with a dull bronze sheen. The designs are mostly l'Art Nouveau style, simple motives obtained by lines and curves on vases of novel and artistic shape, scarcely any two pieces being exactly alike.

A GOOD SELECTION.

Charles Pelly, who has been selected as the art director of the new Carrollton plant, was a visitor to that town last week and spent several days looking over the new plant. Mr. Pelly will remove his family to Carrollton as soon as the plant is ready for operation. The selection of Mr. Pelly as the manager of the decorating department was a good stroke upon the part of the firm and in him it has a first-class man. Mr. Pelly has been connected with the American Ceramic Art company and has also been employed as a decorator at the Sevres.

PAINFUL INJURY.

CLAY MANUFACTURERS *!

JIGGERMEN IDLE TODAY.

THE WEATHER.

CARROLLTON NOTES.

The third kiln was dried out yesterday.

The sixth kiln of saggers was fired yesterday. There are now about 4,000 saggers on hand.

The dripping house, biscuit ware room and green room have been put in readiness for occupancy.

Charles Terry, who has been working in the sagger department for the past three weeks, has returned to East Liverpool.

The pottery company have secured the services of four salesmen who will go out just as soon as the samples can be prepared.

The management is being greatly handicapped through the failure of the machinery to arrive. It has been expected for over a week.

The moulds have been removed from the mould shop to their respective places in the pressing and jigger departments, which is in the second story.

Will Hackney, the mould maker, states that he now has a sufficient number of moulds on hand for the pottery to commence work. Mr. Fletcher, the sagger man, says he is also ready with the saggers.

The employes of the pottery living at a distance have been notified to report for work next Monday morning, when the pottery will be put in operation. At least a dozen men are here now awaiting the starting of the concern.

Will Leigh, of Lisbon, has rented the Fawcett house, and he and his mother will move here in the course of a few weeks. Their goods are now stored in the room formerly occupied by the pottery officials. Mr. Leigh is a jigger-man.

H. W. Saunders, of Hanley, England, has come here from Trenton, N. J. He is the modeler for the pottery and is putting out some beautiful specimens which are in keeping with the national reputation he has for doing first-class work. One of them is a brush and comb tray, and another a fruit dish. Mr. Saunders is testing some of the red clay found between here and Scroggsfield. He is a graduate in chemistry and an adept modeler.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

The Young Men's Christian Association chartered the big hotel at Silver Bay, Lake George, for the month of August and filled this resort, together with some of the neighboring cottages, with its members and their families. During the first 10 days an institute with meetings in the morning and evening was held. The addresses were given by men who are leaders in Christian thought and activity. Bible study and studies of the social life of young men were arranged for those who desired to attend at other hours.

During the entire month a training conference for secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association was held, in which 21 men were registered. Next year a department for training physical directors will be introduced. There are now over 200 vacancies in the Young Men's Christian association secretarial ranks demanding men who have been trained for the direction of associations. This may be now called a new profession. Nearly 2,000 men are engaged in it. The two training schools of the Young Men's Christian Association at Springfield, Mass., and at Chicago are able to supply but a small part of the number required.

There is just now opening at Silver Bay a conference for the older boys of the association's boys' departments with 150 boys in attendance from all parts of the country east of Wisconsin. These boys are officers and leaders of the boys' departments, in which there are over 40,000 boys enrolled.

The western associations have an encampment on Lake Geneva of 14 acres, which has been crowded from June to August 30, the dining room accommodates nearly 300. In its institute for training secretaries and physical directors it had 113 men enrolled. Beginning with the conference for college men and ending with that for the association members, athletics, boating, swimming and mountain climbing filled the days of the men present as much as the conferences and other meetings. It is a combination vacation resort and institute.

THE PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS

And Is Still Learning Much About the Nature of the Dread Disease And Methods of Combatting It—Consumption Not Hereditary.

Columbus, August 31.—(Special)—Dr. C. O. Probst, secretary of the new Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, has issued the following interesting statement:

The Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis was organized in November, 1901. The name indicates its object. One of the chief methods to be employed for obtaining this object will be the dissemination of reliable information concerning the cause and prevention of tuberculosis. A series of short articles on this subject, of which this is the first, has been prepared.

Many interesting phases of the subject must be left untouched from lack of space; but any question which interested readers may wish to have answered should be sent to the secretary, who will furnish the information desider, if possible.

The society now numbers more than 300 members—men and women, physicians and laymen. Anyone wishing to join will be warmly welcomed.

Tuberculosis is a disease which may affect any organ of the body. The lungs are most generally attacked. Here it is known as consumption, on account of the great wasting of the body usually present before death.

Tuberculosis destroys more than 6,000 people in this state every year. If allowed to go on unchecked fully 400,000 of those now living in Ohio must die from this illness.

The disease has been known from the earliest history of medicine, and continues to prevail in all parts of the civilized world. Its infectious character was long ago more than once suggested.

Toward the close of the eighteenth century this must have been the popular belief in many countries. In Naples in 1782, a royal decree required the disease to be reported and quarantined. Disinfection was carried out after the death or recovery of the patient.

This idea of the communicability of consumption, so strongly fixed in the minds of Neapolitans and others, was gradually dispelled by the theory of heredity. It is of great importance that this question of heredity should be correctly and very generally understood.

To know that it is not an inherited disease should bring hope and gladness to thousands of tuberculous parents, and to the children of such parents. Acting under the belief that the disease was inherited no precautions were taken to prevent the communication of consumption from one to another. Whole families were swept away—not on account of heredity, but because the living germ that produces it was not destroyed.

With the discovery of the veritable cause of tuberculosis, to which allusion will be made later on, heredity as the cause of the disease could no longer be accepted.

We can now be absolutely certain that without this germ of tuberculosis there can be no tuberculosis.

To inherit consumption it would be necessary for this germ to be transmitted from parent to offspring, and we know that this practically never happens.

Heredity does play a part in the development of tuberculosis, but only the minor part of one among many of the predisposing causes.

One may inherit a tendency to tuberculosis. Other things being equal, a child with one parent, and especially both, consumptive, will be more apt to develop the disease when exposed to the exciting cause than a child whose parents have been free from tuberculosis.

Experiments in preventing the spread of tuberculosis among animals is most instructive. Bangs, of Copenhagen, who is an authority on this subject, has shown that it is possible to entirely eradicate the disease from a herd of cattle in the following manner:

The animals are all tested for tuberculosis by injections of tuberculin. The sick and the well animals are then completely separated. Calves born of tuberculous mothers are at once removed, and are fed on the milk from a healthy animal.

Frequent tests with tuberculin are made of the apparently healthy animals, and any found to have developed tuberculosis are rejected. In one or two years' time it is possible in this manner to entirely weed out tuberculosis from a large held of animals, even when 60 per cent or more of them were affected in the beginning.

The same results may be obtained in the human family. Bernheim gives the following striking examples:

"The family B. was composed of five children, a father who died of consumption and a mother who was well.

"The second child was removed from its home immediately after its birth, reared by a healthy nurse until he was 13 years of age, and then put into a school. He is now a healthy man of 36. He has never lived with his parents.

"The four other children lived with their parents. Two of them have died of pulmonary tuberculosis, and the other two have the disease in an advanced stage.

"In another family of seven children the father and mother were both tuberculous. The second and the fifth child were removed from their parents and their brothers and sisters, and never lived with them.

"The five children reared by their parents have all died of tuberculosis. The two who were isolated have remained well, are now both married and have fine healthy children of their own."—(From "Tuberculosis—Infection, Heredity," etc., by Dr. A. G. Young.)

This early and complete separation of children and parents will seldom be possible, nor is it necessary, for if strict precautions are taken by consumptive parents to guard their offspring against infection in the home they will be in little danger of contracting the disease.

We may dismiss heredity, then, by saying that it is simply a predisposing cause of tuberculosis, like alcoholism, overcrowding, bad ventilation, damp soil, etc.

No one need be disheartened because he has lost a parent or near relative from consumption. He is, it is true, slightly more prone to the disease than others. But this predisposition may be overcome by simple hygienic measures, to be spoken of later, which will at the same time protect him against many other diseases due to faulty habits of living.

The next article will be devoted to the cause of tuberculosis—the nature of the germ that produces it and the various predisposing causes that render the human body a favorable soid for its growth.

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up, and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

ALL THAT IS GOOD COMES FROM LOVE

THE EVIL OF SELFISHNESS

Through It Comes Everything That Is Bad, While Love Is Refining and Enobling—The Grand Example of Mary.

Two large congregations assembled at the First M. E. church yesterday and the services were highly enjoyed by all. Besides most eloquent and forcible sermons delivered by the pastor, Rev. Milton Butler Pratt, D. D., the musical programs were pleasing features. The choir, assisted by Miss Katherine McKeever, one of the most talented vocalists in the city, performed its work with credit.

"The Audacity of Love" was the subject chosen by the able minister for his morning sermon and he preached with an inspiration that held every listener throughout the discourse. To love, the preacher credited all that is good, and drew all conclusions by a comparison of love with selfishness. The latter, in the opinion of the speaker, is at the root of all great evils and but for it the world today would be one mammoth paradise.

The subject was founded on the 20th chapter of John, 15th verse. It is a chapter in which the disciple, John, writes of the crucifixion and eloquently portrays the audacity of love when describing the appearance of Mary at the sepulcher. Her love for Jesus flamed up and she stubbornly refused to be bounded. Her love arose superior to the sense of reason. When she found that the body had been taken away the only thought that occurred to her was that it had been stolen. It did not occur to her at all that something divine had removed it. Her feeble strength was no barrier in her mind. She asked the gardener to direct her where the body had been taken and she would get it. This she did without meditating for a moment concerning the magnitude of the proposition. It was her deep love for Christ that led her to do it.

The footsteps of the race are marked by the accomplishment of the impossible. It is our wonderful audacity that has accomplished such things. And behind the audacity is love. The world is made up of individuals and it is through the individuals that we accomplish an end, be it good or bad. The environments that make an individual good have a like result on an entire community, and those that make the individual bad have the same effect on the community. Therefore the individual should covet good. Selfishness by all means should be shunned. Through it everything bad is derived. What the nations would do were it not for the love of God being shed abroad in the human heart is hard to state. This love of God is the only reforming power which we have. Love is refining. There are many definitions for the word but there should be but one. When translated into terms concrete it means "unselfish regard for others' welfare."

To admire one is not to love him. The human race believes that love is simply to admire and adore, but in that a great mistake is made. The reflex influence of love is indeed refining. It will eliminate that which by influence would cause harm. Any influence that would teach or feed a bad spirit would be and is eliminated everything when love is accomplished. Love is also elevating. It detects signs of danger invisible to the eye. It gives man sharpened faculties. Who imagines that Washington or any other such man could have ever accomplished those great historical feats but for his sharpened faculties? Behind all of it was love. No truly great man ever lived who did not possess that faculty.

Love is dauntless. Does the patriot know when he is whipped? Does the Christian ever die? The only dauntless power in the world is love. A man possessing love can only be aroused when danger lurks near him. Love dies triumphant at the last. Love is not only dauntless, it is almighty. Love lays the foundation for the country's welfare. It stands for God at any cost.

Selfishness antagonizes Jesus. It can be found at the root of everything displeasing to God. We are blessed with all that is beautiful, gracious and honorable and it is not through selfishness that we are given it, it is through Christian love. All that has trampled down human souls from Alpha and Omega emenates from selfishness. These things being undisputed facts, will you base your lives on Christian love or on unchristian selfishness? We owe everything of which we are proud to the love of God. Think, meditate on your own career. Remember how God has crowned you with success, honor and glory. Through these you are benefitted much and to God's love are you indebted for them all.

THE TIE THAT BINDS TOGETHER FOR GOOD

"The New Commandment" was the subject of Rev. Edwin Weary's sermon at St. Stephen's church last evening. From Christ's words, "Love Ye One Another," as a text, he delivered a powerful discourse. In part he said:

"There is a vast difference between the word 'like' and the word 'love.' We like because we are being directly benefited by something; when we love we seek to benefit others. We like to please ourselves; we love to please others.

"To live is to find out our true selves. By loving the individuality asserts itself and becomes impersonated in someone else. We speak of person. What does it mean? If one is wrapped up in himself, living merely for selfish gratifications and has no personality is not being revealed. He consideration for his fellowmen, his must come out of himself and live in another. He must have a regard for those about him and sympathize with them in their human frailties and rejoicewith them in their strength and happiness. He must live for others as well as for himself.

"Love is not confined to animate beings but inanimate objects as well. We love truth, honor, honesty and all the virtues and we love our country. If we love our country we gain citizenship and we gain manhood. If we love truth, honor, honesty and the noble virtues we manifest the characteristics of true manhood because we follow the lead of God who created us in the image of Himself. There is but one law, the law of love. Society is founded upon it. Wherever you find sociability you will find that it is a creation of the principle of love. Society can be instituted by no other for love is divine and holds men together.

"What are the institutions of society? They are the nation, the family and the church. These three institutions are based on love. We cannot find a nation, a Christian nation, existing today without love forming the basic principle of its laws. The law of love is the great underlying of all law, both spiritual and civic. We cannot find a family living in the sweet comfort of happiness and harmony without love forming the binding tie. We cannot find the church of God existing today with its influence pointing for good to mankind without finding love for both God and man the guiding law. There are other societies existing today. Hundreds of clubs and organizations are formed, but they are founded on contract and not on love and they do not have a durable life.

"A great work has been given to the church to teach this law of universal love. It must teach its members to sacrifice for the sake of others. It is in love for others that we exemplify the meaning of true love. In medical, phychological and scientific research we are told that we all live for one another and that we could not live apart. Love must bind us in the bonds of fellowship and the human family will be what it was ordained to be by God, the noblest institution of existence."

STARS IN THE CROWN

Rev. Dr. McWilliams, of Parnassus, Pa., who was a class mate of Rev. C. G. Jordan, preached at the First Presbyterian church yesterday. In his morning sermon he said:

"Preaching is telling the glad news. The sermon that does not exalt Jesus is no sermon. We are to preach Him by word and deed. Will you go empty handed before Him? Do you want no star in your crown?

"A young woman was dressing for an evening party, and had placed a beautiful cluster of diamonds in her hair when her little sister who looked on in wonder said: 'My Sunday school teacher told me if I could win a soul for Jesus I would have a star in my crown.' The older one went to her party, and when she came home saw the little sister sleeping calmly and sweetly. Her heart was touched. 'I wonder if it might be the star in her crown,' she said, and kneeling down in her costly raiment she prayed until she knew her soul was saved, and the crown of the little sister held its coveted star.

"Some of us think religion is narrow, but we must extend it to all. Be careful in your preaching for the recording angel is taking notes, and the book of records bears it all.

"Let your light shine. It is no disgrace to go to Sunday school. John did his work as Elijah did his. The lips that had cried Repent and be baptized' were stilled forever, the strong arm was cold and stiff in death, sacrificed to the whim of a jealous woman. But his voice is with us today. Will you not hear it? Will you not cry out 'My Saviour and my God?'

"A distinguished artist once painted a picture of Calvary. A mother whose sailor son had refused to hear the voice of the Saviour persuaded him to go and see it, and while he went she prayed. The painter saw him enter the room and anxious to know what a sailor would think of his work followed him in. Long he looked upon the canvas. A tear rolled down his cheek, and he arose saying, 'The man who painted that believes, as mother believes and I believe, too.' Isn't it marvelous that the canvas touched by the master hand could change this man? Isn't it marvelous that as we look through the eyes of faith He will love us and save us for life in eternity?"

NO REASON TO BE ASHAMED OF CHRIST

"Not Ashamed of the Gospel" was the theme of Rev. J. W. Gorrell's sermon delivered before a large congregation at the Christian church last evening. Referring to the triumphs of Christianity during nineteen centuries, during which Christ has received the homage of the greatest and noblest intellects and the adoration of the purest hearts and the reverence of civilized humanity, the speaker said, it is difficult for us to see how there could be any temptation to be ashamed of the gospel.

"The Religion of Christ," he continued, "had its beginning in Palestine, a small country. The founder was a Jew and His mother was an humble woman. The death on the cross was a disgraceful death. The most of the first disciples were of the poorer people. To a man of worldly mind these things would be very damaging. Paul was not ashamed of the gospel, although it demanded faith in a crucified redeemer and a life of self denial.

"It offered no preferment from a worldly standpoint—no throne, no splendid ritual or magnificent temple. Paul gave up his standing as a rabbi, accepted Judaism as a preparatory dispensation, which was repulsive to a Jew; gave up his position in Grecian philosophy. Paul looked upon the gospel as the divine way of reconciling the guilty to God.

"Paul considered the gospel as the highest manifestation of God's power. The gospel achieves moral transformations. Christians should never in any societies or circumstances be ashamed of the gospel. Christianity has changed savagery to civilization. It has caused whole nations to abolish slavery. It has overthrown the worships of heathen gods with all attendant cruelty of sacrifices. The purposes of the gospel are the highest and noblest of earth. No Christian should be ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Back from Vacation.

Rev. A. A. Steele has returned from his vacation spent in the mountains, and last evening occupied the pulpit at the M. P. chapel on Pleasant Heights. Since the change was made converting the chapel from a congregational to a Methodist Protestant institution, it has been unusually prosperous and the attendance has increased materially. Services are conducted regularly each Sunday, Rev. Steele being the pastor.

An Excellent Sermon.

Rev. C. S. Manor, formerly of this city, occupied the pulpit last evening of the First United Presbyterian church and preached to a large congregation, composed in part of many of his old friends. His sermon was strong, convincing and eloquent.

EAST END

Will Lecture at the Second United Presbyterian Church on Friday Night.

During the past summer the congregations of the East End churches have had opportunities to hear a number of missionary workers, home from the oriental countries for a few months vacation and rest, and in every instance the lectures were greatly enjoyed. An announcement of particular interest to those who delight in stories of the far east was made this morning that Rev. Willis Hotchkiss, a missionary, whose field has been in the very heart of Darkest Africa, will lecture at the Second Presbyterian church on next Friday evening.

Rev. Mr. Hotchkiss is spending a few months in this country after almost 10 years of hard work among the savages of the jungles. In that time he has met with many thrilling experiences and many times has been compelled to face the gravest of dangers, and his recollections and experiences should certainly prove highly entertaining.

Two Picnics This Week.

Two church picnics are to be held this week, that of the Erie street Methodist on next Thursday at Inglewood grove and that of the Second Presbyterian on Friday at Thompson park. The program for the Methodist picnic has been announced and plenty of innocent amusement for the entire day has been provided. The program for the Presbyterian picnic has also been announced and includes many entertaining athletic contests.

The Secrest Lecture.

Rev. J. E. Secrest, who is to lecture at the Erie street Methodist church tomorrow evening, will take a topic from some important matter pertaining to the Steubenville district Epworth League, of which he is president. An invitation has been extended to the Epworth Leagues of East Liverpool and Wellsville to hear the lectures by the president and a large attendance is promised.

Organizing a Circle.

D. Frank White, district deputy for the Protected Home Circle, returned Saturday evening from a visit of several days at Mechanicstown, in the interest of the order. He has been organizing a circle for that town and met with encouraging success. The required number of members has been secured and he expects to return and install the new circle within the next two weeks.

Rev. Mr. McQuiston Home.

Rev. D. W. McQuiston, of the Second United Presbyterian church, who has been passing his vacation in the west, returned Saturday evening. He visited Iowa, Michigan and several other western states and renewed many old acquaintances and friendships. He is feeling hale and hearty and eager to resume his pastoral duties.

A Special Sermon.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt, of the Erie street Methodist church, is preparing a sermon for next Sunday that promises to be of more than usual interest and which will certainly be most timely. The topic is "Seven Indictments Against Modern Dancing," and will be well worth hearing.

Will Elect Officers.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Erie street Methodist church will meet next Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William House, on Pennsylvania avenue. The meeting is one of the most important for some time as officers for the ensuing year are to be elected.

Will Attend the Races.

The race meet at Beaver Falls this week is attracting the attention of East End horsemen and many will attend. Robert L. owned by Will Larkins, and a popular local favorite will start in one of the pacing events and is expected to carry away the money.

To Give Reception.

Invitations are out for a reception to be given in honor of Paul Andrews of First avenue, who is to return to college in a short time. The reception will be given on Tuesday evening at the Andrews home on First avenue.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Miss Kitty White has returned from a visit to New York.

W. A. Orin has resigned at Dawson's meat market to accept a position at Larkins' grocery.

Quite a number of East End people were at the Hollow Rock camp meeting yesterday, among them, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones and Mr. and Mrs. John Grant.

A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Jerome McCormick, of near Columbian park.

Martha Hilton, of Sandy Bottom, who has been seriously ill of typhoid fever, is now convalescent.

Dr. M. W. Taylor returned this morning from Darlington, where he spent Sunday with his parents.

Miss Margaret Aufderheide, of Ashtabula, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Norton, of St. George street.

O. J. Mason, of St. Louis, arrived here last night and will visit W. A. Orin, of St. George street, for a few days.

Eureka Circle will meet tomorrow night to initiate a number of candidates and attend to some other business matters.

C. C. McAfee will leave tomorrow for Pomeroy, where he will meet his wife and son, who have been visiting relatives there.

Invitations have been received by a number of East End young people for the dance to be given Wednesday evening at the home of Postmaster William Burt, of Ohioville. The invitation will be accepted by several couples.

Coal Bunkers on Fire.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 31.—The flagship Yankee, of the naval training squadron, flying the flag of Rear Admiral W. C. Wise and which has been engaged in the maneuvering off Portland, entered the harbor with her midship bunker afire. The fire was discovered Thursday morning by smoke on the gundeck. Some 200 tons of coal were removed from the top of the bunker, leaving some 300 tons. Then the fire hose was used and since that time the fire has been smoldering. The crew is still engaged in moving the coal from one bunker to another. The Yankee coaled at Bar Harbor on Aug. 9 and this is some of the soft coal taken aboard there.

Two large congregations assembled at the First M. E. church yesterday and the services were highly enjoyed by all. Besides most eloquent and forcible sermons delivered by the pastor, Rev. Milton Butler Pratt, D. D., the musical programs were pleasing features. The choir, assisted by Miss Katherine McKeever, one of the most talented vocalists in the city, performed its work with credit.

"The Audacity of Love" was the subject chosen by the able minister for his morning sermon and he preached with an inspiration that held every listener throughout the discourse. To love, the preacher credited all that is good, and drew all conclusions by a comparison of love with selfishness. The latter, in the opinion of the speaker, is at the root of all great evils and but for it the world today would be one mammoth paradise.

The subject was founded on the 20th chapter of John, 15th verse. It is a chapter in which the disciple, John, writes of the crucifixion and eloquently portrays the audacity of love when describing the appearance of Mary at the sepulcher. Her love for Jesus flamed up and she stubbornly refused to be bounded. Her love arose superior to the sense of reason. When she found that the body had been taken away the only thought that occurred to her was that it had been stolen. It did not occur to her at all that something divine had removed it. Her feeble strength was no barrier in her mind. She asked the gardener to direct her where the body had been taken and she would get it. This she did without meditating for a moment concerning the magnitude of the proposition. It was her deep love for Christ that led her to do it.

The footsteps of the race are marked by the accomplishment of the impossible. It is our wonderful audacity that has accomplished such things. And behind the audacity is love. The world is made up of individuals and it is through the individuals that we accomplish an end, be it good or bad. The environments that make an individual good have a like result on an entire community, and those that make the individual bad have the same effect on the community. Therefore the individual should covet good. Selfishness by all means should be shunned. Through it everything bad is derived. What the nations would do were it not for the love of God being shed abroad in the human heart is hard to state. This love of God is the only reforming power which we have. Love is refining. There are many definitions for the word but there should be but one. When translated into terms concrete it means "unselfish regard for others' welfare."

To admire one is not to love him. The human race believes that love is simply to admire and adore, but in that a great mistake is made. The reflex influence of love is indeed refining. It will eliminate that which by influence would cause harm. Any influence that would teach or feed a bad spirit would be and is eliminated everything when love is accomplished. Love is also elevating. It detects signs of danger invisible to the eye. It gives man sharpened faculties. Who imagines that Washington or any other such man could have ever accomplished those great historical feats but for his sharpened faculties? Behind all of it was love. No truly great man ever lived who did not possess that faculty.

Love is dauntless. Does the patriot know when he is whipped? Does the Christian ever die? The only dauntless power in the world is love. A man possessing love can only be aroused when danger lurks near him. Love dies triumphant at the last. Love is not only dauntless, it is almighty. Love lays the foundation for the country's welfare. It stands for God at any cost.

Selfishness antagonizes Jesus. It can be found at the root of everything displeasing to God. We are blessed with all that is beautiful, gracious and honorable and it is not through selfishness that we are given it, it is through Christian love. All that has trampled down human souls from Alpha and Omega emenates from selfishness. These things being undisputed facts, will you base your lives on Christian love or on unchristian selfishness? We owe everything of which we are proud to the love of God. Think, meditate on your own career. Remember how God has crowned you with success, honor and glory. Through these you are benefitted much and to God's love are you indebted for them all.

THE TIE THAT BINDS TOGETHER FOR GOOD

"The New Commandment" was the subject of Rev. Edwin Weary's sermon at St. Stephen's church last evening. From Christ's words, "Love Ye One Another," as a text, he delivered a powerful discourse. In part he said:

"There is a vast difference between the word 'like' and the word 'love.' We like because we are being directly benefited by something; when we love we seek to benefit others. We like to please ourselves; we love to please others.

"To live is to find out our true selves. By loving the individuality asserts itself and becomes impersonated in someone else. We speak of person. What does it mean? If one is wrapped up in himself, living merely for selfish gratifications and has no personality is not being revealed. He consideration for his fellowmen, his must come out of himself and live in another. He must have a regard for those about him and sympathize with them in their human frailties and rejoicewith them in their strength and happiness. He must live for others as well as for himself.

"Love is not confined to animate beings but inanimate objects as well. We love truth, honor, honesty and all the virtues and we love our country. If we love our country we gain citizenship and we gain manhood. If we love truth, honor, honesty and the noble virtues we manifest the characteristics of true manhood because we follow the lead of God who created us in the image of Himself. There is but one law, the law of love. Society is founded upon it. Wherever you find sociability you will find that it is a creation of the principle of love. Society can be instituted by no other for love is divine and holds men together.

"What are the institutions of society? They are the nation, the family and the church. These three institutions are based on love. We cannot find a nation, a Christian nation, existing today without love forming the basic principle of its laws. The law of love is the great underlying of all law, both spiritual and civic. We cannot find a family living in the sweet comfort of happiness and harmony without love forming the binding tie. We cannot find the church of God existing today with its influence pointing for good to mankind without finding love for both God and man the guiding law. There are other societies existing today. Hundreds of clubs and organizations are formed, but they are founded on contract and not on love and they do not have a durable life.

"A great work has been given to the church to teach this law of universal love. It must teach its members to sacrifice for the sake of others. It is in love for others that we exemplify the meaning of true love. In medical, phychological and scientific research we are told that we all live for one another and that we could not live apart. Love must bind us in the bonds of fellowship and the human family will be what it was ordained to be by God, the noblest institution of existence."

STARS IN THE CROWN

Rev. Dr. McWilliams, of Parnassus, Pa., who was a class mate of Rev. C. G. Jordan, preached at the First Presbyterian church yesterday. In his morning sermon he said:

"Preaching is telling the glad news. The sermon that does not exalt Jesus is no sermon. We are to preach Him by word and deed. Will you go empty handed before Him? Do you want no star in your crown?

"A young woman was dressing for an evening party, and had placed a beautiful cluster of diamonds in her hair when her little sister who looked on in wonder said: 'My Sunday school teacher told me if I could win a soul for Jesus I would have a star in my crown.' The older one went to her party, and when she came home saw the little sister sleeping calmly and sweetly. Her heart was touched. 'I wonder if it might be the star in her crown,' she said, and kneeling down in her costly raiment she prayed until she knew her soul was saved, and the crown of the little sister held its coveted star.

"Some of us think religion is narrow, but we must extend it to all. Be careful in your preaching for the recording angel is taking notes, and the book of records bears it all.

"Let your light shine. It is no disgrace to go to Sunday school. John did his work as Elijah did his. The lips that had cried 'Repent and be baptized' were stilled forever, the strong arm was cold and stiff in death, sacrificed to the whim of a jealous woman. But his voice is with us today. Will you not hear it? Will you not cry out 'My Saviour and my God?'

"A distinguished artist once painted a picture of Calvary. A mother whose sailor son had refused to hear the voice of the Saviour persuaded him to go and see it, and while he went she prayed. The painter saw him enter the room and anxious to know what a sailor would think of his work followed him in. Long he looked upon the canvas. A tear rolled down his cheek, and he arose saying, 'The man who painted that believes, as mother believes and I believe, too.' Isn't it marvelous that the canvas touched by the master hand could change this man? Isn't it marvelous that as we look through the eyes of faith He will love us and save us for life in eternity?"

Coal Bunkers on Fire.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 31.—The flagship Yankee, of the naval training squadron, flying the flag of Rear Admiral W. C. Wise and which has been engaged in the maneuvering off Portland, entered the harbor with her midship bunker afire. The fire was discovered Thursday morning by smoke on the gundeck. Some 200 tons of coal were removed from the top of the bunker, leaving some 300 tons. Then the fire hose was used and since that time the fire has been smoldering. The crew is still engaged in moving the coal from one bunker to another. The Yankee coaled at Bar Harbor on Aug. 9 and this is some of the soft coal taken aboard there.

Despondent Chinaman Suicides.

Honolulu, Aug. 31.—Charles Ahi, a prominent member of the Bow Wong society, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He had recently returned from China. Persecutions there on account of his reform record caused him to come to Honolulu. He was expelled from college in China and was despondent over his inability to remain there.

Hanna's Health Improved.

Cleveland, Aug. 31.—Senator M. A. Hanna, who was taken suddenly ill a few days ago in his office, is much improved and will try to go to his office to attend a political conference with state leaders.

The city council has decided to let no grass grow under its feet and has ordered that immediate steps be taken looking toward a decision of the important points involved in the question at issue between the city and the gas company. The action is right and proper and will be universally commended. Whether the city has a right to fix gas rates at a figure that shall not be extortionate is a question that concerns every gas consumer, and there are few persons in East Liverpool who do not depend upon the natural gas company for their fuel supply. Nobody is in a humor for allowing the monopoly to have its own way and thus striking a serious blow at the prosperity of the city. East Liverpool is close to the gas producing territory and much of its rapid growth in the past few years has been due to the fact that that excellent fuel has been abundant and reasonably cheap. The city cannot afford tamely to submit to such a defiance of the law and of its authority as the gas company is attempting, thus making a luxury of a commodity that has become a household necessity here. The battle will undoubtedly be strenuous, but with right and justice on its side the city ought to win it.

The school terms are about to open in Ohio, and many country districts are finding it difficult to engage teachers. Hod carriers and day laborers can get as much pay as some of these districts are offering and can also have work more months in the year. Under these circumstances the dearth of educators is not to be wondered at. Ohio school boards must raise wages in rural schools if they expect the schools to prosper.

Six months have elapsed since the Ohio Bankers' association undertook the task of raising by popular subscription $25,000 with which to purchase a silver service for the battleship Ohio. According to the latest report, only $3,000 of this amount has been realized, and unless more ginger is put into the work, the battleship will be christened without this desirable adjunct to her equipment. Is state pride lacking?

Sir Thomas Lipton has learned that America leads in a good many other things besides building and sailing yachts and is frank enough to say so. In return for the free advertising he and his business are getting on this side of the water he is certainly disposed to do the fair thing, and he makes an excellent press agent.

It takes an Ohio man to size up Tom Johnson. Private Dalzell's description of him as "a wandering Willie in the political arena, a wild ass braying in the Democratic desert," is hard to excel.

Two more American heiresses are expected soon to become the wives of English dukes. It's simply wonderful how the supply of English dukes holds out.

The city is to be congratulated on getting a premium on its bonds, even though it was compelled to wait.

Lipton does not give up easily, but the logic of events compels him to acknowledge American superiority.

There are plenty of good reasons why the order to Admiral Cotton should not be countermanded.

On sober second thought, Colombia thinks she would rather have that $10,000,000 than to miss it.

The Turkey shooting season has opened in the orient.

in which electric lighting companies, natural or artificial gas companies, or gas light or coke companies may be established, or into which their wires, mains or pipes may be conducted, are hereby empowered to regulate, from time to time, the price which said electric lighting, natural or artificial gas, or gas and coke companies may charge for electric light or for gas for lighting or fuel purposes, furnished by such companies to the citizens, public grounds and buildings, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues, wharves and landing places and such electric lighting, natural or artificial gas, or gas light or coke companies shall, in no event charge more for any electric light, or natural or artificial gas furnished to such corporation or individuals than the prices specified by ordinance of such council; and such council shall also have power to regulate and fix the price which such companies shall charge for rent of their meters."

It was feared for a time that the company might abandon its lines in this city, but it is thought from an examination of the franchise under which the company operates here that it will not do so. The caluse on the subject says:

"If the use of said pipe for conducting said gas be abandoned for a period of one year, all rights under this ordinance shall cease." It has been stated that in case a protest was made by the justly indignant consumers, and an attempt to secure legislation was made the company would immediately abandon the territory. Members of the company have said there were many points they could reach without difficulty, the people of which would be glad to get gas at any price. According to the section quoted above the experiment would be an exceedingly expensive one, and hardly likely to be tried.

Solicitor Davidson is busy today preparing the petition in the proceedings and will forward the paper to the clerk of courts at Lisbon tomorrow.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Mrs. J. C. Taggart is rapidly improving after a brief illness.

A. S. Young is back from a visit to Scotland, his native land.

Arthur Beach has returned from an extended visit to England.

Mrs. H. C. Walter has returned after a week's visit with relatives near Verona, Pa.

Miss Elsie Wood, of Avondale street, goes to Wheeling this week where she will visit with friends.

Mrs. Thomas Richey, of Verona, Pa., is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. C. Walter, on the Northside.

Mrs. Florence Blackmore, of East Market street, has returned from a visit to Montreal, Canada.

Dr. W. A. Hobbs left Saturday for Chautauqua Lake, New York, where he will visit his family until tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lackaye, of Fourth street, entertained six of their young men friends at dinner yesterday.

Thomas Doherty left this morning for Akron, whither he goes as a delegate to the C. M. B. A. convention which opens tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Bert Wells, of Youngstown, is suffering from blood poisoning at Steubenville, caused by a wound in the hand made by the fin of a black bass which she was handling. Mr. Wells is a brother of W. E. Wells, of this city, and his wife was formerly Miss Nell Geisse, of East Liverpool.

Mrs. August Martin, who was seriously ill at her home near West Point, has so rapidly improved that she was able to be in this city on Saturday.

Mrs. William Bulger and daughter, Miss Olive, have returned to their home in the East End, Pittsburg, after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Bulger, of this city.

Dr. David Jones, pastor of the M. P. church of this city, and Delegate Proctor Ankrim left today for Kittanning, Pa., where the annual conference of the Pittsburg district will convene on Wednesday. The delegate from the First church has been instructed to request Dr. Jones' return to the East Liverpool congregation.

TRIED TO BREAK INTO THE CHURCH

DRINK-CRAZED MAN SAID HE WANTED TO TAKE PLEDGE.

Acted Like a Wild Man After Being Put in Jail—Other Drunks Arrested.

Declaring that he would take the pledge and that he would do so in the Catholic church, David Lovett, a porter, of Trenton, who has been on a spree in the city for several weeks, went to the door of St. Aloysius' church at a late hour Saturday night and when there was no response made to his knocks on the door he commenced to hammer it with blows that would have resulted in its destruction had Chief Wyman not been attracted to the scene.

Several men informed the chief that there was something unusual occurring near the Catholic church and he immediately made a run for that section of the city. Upon his arrival Lovett was kicking and pounding at the door of the church in desperation. The chief did not realize the condition of the poor fellow and he was handled rather roughly. A number of men were called by the chief to aid in making the arrest and after a desperate struggle Lovett was landed in the city jail.

During the hours of Saturday night and Sunday and even today the man, who has developed an awful case of delirium tremens, ranted and tore around in his cell like wild. His case is a most pitiable one and everything is being done to restore him to his normal senses.

The police arrested three other drunken men Sunday. George Stewart, who has appeared at city hall so many times that he is about to believe it is his home, was taken in by Officer Morris. James Ryan was also arrested by Morris and August Craft was placed under arrest by Officer Fisher. The latter trio will be heard this evening.

IN A PITIABLE CONDITION

Tax Collector of Rochester, Pa., Found Wandering and Demented.

Rochester, Pa., August 31.—Joseph A. Nelson, who had filled the office of tax collector for the borough of Rochester for 14 years, was discovered in the woods near Jamestown, N. Y., Saturday in a pitiable condition. He was suffering from a delusion that a number of Japanese and railroad detectives were trying to capture him, and had been wandering in the woods for several days. His clothing was torn, and he was wet to the skin from the rain which had fallen, and the exposure he had undergone had left him in a very serious condition.

Mrs. Nelson had gone to Jamestown some time ago to visit at the home of her brother, Walter Marsh, and the first of last week Mr. Nelson started for the same place to join his wife. He had not been feeling well for a few days, and it is believed that his mind became unbalanced while making the trip. It is believed that he had nothing to eat for at least three days, which added to his weakened condition.

Mrs. Nelson was located by the police in Jamestown, and when notified of the condition of her husband, called at police headquarters and took charge of him.

Mr. Nelson is well known in Rochester, where he has a number of relatives and friends. He served as deputy sheriff for a few months under Sheriff Bliss after the latter's election to office this year. Mr. Nelson is a veteran of the civil war, was born and raised in Rochester, and was a jeweler by occupation.

Will Admitted to Probate.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—The will of the late David Adams, of St. Clair township, has been admitted to probate and the widow, Louisa Adams, has accepted its terms. All the property, including the homestead and 3½ acres in St. Clair township is left to the wife, at her death to be divided equally between their sons, David T. and Roy Adams. Wm. H. Smith is named as executor.

Likely to Be Called as Pastor.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—Rev. James L. Reed, of West Alexandria, Pa., preached very acceptably to a large audience at the Bethel Presbyterian church in Wayne township Sunday morning. The church has been without a pastor for some time and a call will probably be extended to Rev. Mr. Reed. He has been invited to preach again a week from Sunday.

in which electric lighting companies, natural or artificial gas companies, or gas light or coke companies may be established, or into which their wires, mains or pipes may be conducted, are hereby empowered to regulate, from time to time, the price which said electric lighting, natural or artificial gas, or gas and coke companies may charge for electric light or for gas for lighting or fuel purposes, furnished by such companies to the citizens, public grounds and buildings, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues, wharves and landing places and such electric lighting, natural or artificial gas, or gas light or coke companies shall, in no event charge more for any electric light, or natural or artificial gas furnished to such corporation or individuals than the prices specified by ordinance of such council; and such council shall also have power to regulate and fix the price which such companies shall charge for rent of their meters."

It was feared for a time that the company might abandon its lines in this city, but it is thought from an examination of the franchise under which the company operates here that it will not do so. The caluse on the subject says:

"If the use of said pipe for conducting said gas be abandoned for a period of one year, all rights under this ordinance shall cease." It has been stated that in case a protest was made by the justly indignant consumers, and an attempt to secure legislation was made the company would immediately abandon the territory. Members of the company have said there were many points they could reach without difficulty, the people of which would be glad to get gas at any price. According to the section quoted above the experiment would be an exceedingly expensive one, and hardly likely to be tried.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Mrs. J. C. Taggart is rapidly improving after a brief illness.

A. S. Young is back from a visit to Scotland, his native land.

Arthur Beach has returned from an extended visit to England.

Mrs. H. C. Walter has returned after a week's visit with relatives near Verona, Pa.

Miss Elsie Wood, of Avondale street, goes to Wheeling this week where she will visit with friends.

Mrs. Thomas Richey, of Verona, Pa., is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. C. Walter, on the Northside.

Mrs. Florence Blackmore, of East Market street, has returned from a visit to Montreal, Canada.

Dr. W. A. Hobbs left Saturday for Chautauqua Lake, New York, where he will visit his family until tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lackaye, of Fourth street ,entertained six of their young men friends at dinner yesterday.

Thomas Doherty left this morning for Akron, whither he goes as a delegate to the C. M. B. A. convention which opens tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Bert Wells, of Youngstown, is suffering from blood poisoning at Steubenville, caused by a wound in the hand made by the fin of a black bass which she was handling. Mr. Wells is a brother of W. E. Wells, of this city, and his wife was formerly Miss Nell Geisse, of East Liverpool.

Mrs. August Martin, who was seriously ill at her home near West Point, has so rapidly improved that she was able to be in this city on Saturday.

Mrs. William Bulger and daughter, Miss Olive, have returned to their home in the East End, Pittsburg, after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Bulger, of this city.

Dr. David Jones, pastor of the M. P. church of this city, and Delegate Proctor Ankrim left today for Kittanning, Pa., where the annual conference of the Pittsburg district will convene on Wednesday. The delegate from the First church has been instructed to request Dr. Jones' return to the East Liverpool congregation.

TRIED TO BREAK INTO THE CHURCH

DRINK-CRAZED MAN SAID HE WANTED TO TAKE PLEDGE.

Declaring that he would take the pledge and that he would do so in the Catholic church, David Lovett, a potter, of Trenton, who has been on a spree in the city for several weeks, went to the door of St. Aloysius' church at a late hour Saturday night and when there was no response made to his knocks on the door he commenced to hammer it with blows that would have resulted in its destruction had Chief Wyman not been attracted to the scene.

Several men informed the chief that there was something unusual occurring near the Catholic church and he immediately made a run for that section of the city. Upon his arrival Lovett was kicking and pounding at the door of the church in desperation. The chief did not realize the condition of the poor fellow and he was handled rather roughly. A number of men were called by the chief to aid in making the arrest and after a desperate struggle Lovett was landed in the city jail.

During the hours of Saturday night and Sunday and even today the man, who has developed an awful case of delirium tremens, ranted and tore around in his cell like wild. His case is a most pitiable one and everything is being done to restore him to his normal senses.

The police arrested three other drunken men Sunday. George Stewart, who has appeared at city hall so many times that he is about to believe it is his home, was taken in by Officer Morris. James Ryan was also arrested by Morris and August Craft was placed under arrest by Officer Fisher. The latter trio will be heard this evening.

IN A PITIABLE CONDITION

Rochester, Pa., August 31.—Joseph A. Nelson, who had filled the office of tax collector for the borough of Rochester for 14 years, was discovered in the woods near Jamestown, N. Y., Saturday in a pitiable condition. He was suffering from a delusion that a number of Japanese and railroad detectives were trying to capture him, and had been wandering in the woods for several days. His clothing was torn, and he was wet to the skin from the rain which had fallen, and the exposure he had undergone had left him in a very serious condition.

Mrs. Nelson had gone to Jamestown some time ago to visit at the home of her brother, Walter Marsh, and the first of last week Mr. Nelson started for the same place to join his wife. He had not been feeling well for a few days, and it is believed that his mind became unbalanced while making the trip. It is believed that he had nothing to eat for at least three days, which added to his weakened condition.

Mrs. Nelson was located by the police in Jamestown, and when notified of the condition of her husband, called at police headquarters and took charge of him.

Mr. Nelson is well known in Rochester, where he has a number of relatives and friends. He served as deputy sheriff for a few months under Sheriff Bliss after the latter's election to office this year. Mr. Nelson is a veteran of the civil war, was born and raised in Rochester, and was a jeweler by occupation.

LEONARD EELLS ALSO GOT A BULLET

Leonard Eells, who shot Chief of Police Fred Houser through the right arm last Friday evening, was caught at Steubenville early Saturday evening by Detective Jewell and another detective of the C. & P. railroad. Mr. Jewell on Saturday received a minute description of the man wanted from Mayor Fogo and with his brother detective that evening they learned that a man had visited a certain doctor in Steubenville and had a 32-calibre bullet extracted from his back. They at once investigated and obtained a trace of him, finding him a short time afterwards. Eells had informed the physician who attended him, that a man had shot him at Toronto.

The bullet taken from the man's back was undoubtedly that of Chief Houser, as he had been using a 32-calibre revolver and Officer Morrissey a 38-calibre gun. Eells' wound was not a serious one. The bullet had entered his side and striking a rib, glanced around to his back where it lodged.

Eells was brought before Mayor Fogo this morning and the charge of shooting with intent to kill was read to him. He pleaded not guilty and the mayor bound him over to court in the sum of $1,000. He will be taken to Lisbon as soon as the sheriff can come and get him.

Miss Helen Russell, a sister of Howard Russell, who ran away from his home on lower Front street Saturday, August 15, received a letter from the missing boy Friday evening. It was dated Wilmington, Pa. In the letter he explained to his sister that he had secured a position in a mill at Wilmington and that he intended remaining there for the present. He asked that his clothes be sent to him at once.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell, the parents of the boy, went to Wilmington Saturday, where they took his clothes. Mrs. Russell was nearly distracted during the two weeks that nothing was learned of the whereabouts of the boy, but she has now recovered. Mr. and Mrs. Russell return from Wilmington some time today. They will allow their son to remain where he is.

P. H. C. Picnic a Success.

Quite a large crowd went to C. R. Moore's grove just west of the cemetery Saturday morning to attend the annual picnic and outing of Fidelity Circle No. 43, Protected Home Circle. The day was most enjoyably spent, the weather being perfectly suitable for the occasion. Athletic sports and games were indulged in. All of those who attended took their baskets and all ate together at one big table in the old fashioned picnic style. Spring water was plentiful, there being a fine spring on the grounds. Several members of the East Liverpool circles attended.

Schools Again Open.

All of the teachers of the public school assembled at the Central building on Ninth street at 3 p. m. Saturday for the purpose of having the school work for the coming year outlined to them by Superintendent McDonald. They were instructed as to just what work would be expected of them during the school year. All of the schools opened this morning. Little studying was done by the pupils today as the day was largely taken up in getting the work in readiness and assigning the scholars to the rooms they are to occupy.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Mrs. B. F. Wells, of Allegheny, was the guest of relatives here over Sunday.

Mrs. Samuel Kerr, of Bellevue, Pa., arrived in the city Saturday afternoon to visit over Sunday.

Edgar Hibbetts and Will Jack, of Main street, returned Saturday evening after enjoying a two weeks' vacation at Atlantic City.

Miss June Ault, of Toronto, has returned to her home after enjoying a ten days' visit with Wellsville and East Liverpool friends.

Mrs. Teressa McGill and Mrs. Russell, of Main street, went to Irondale Saturday, where they remained over Sunday visiting friends.

Miss Ruby E. C. Mason, of Canada, who teaches school here, returned to Wellsville Saturday afternoon after spending the summer at her home.

Superintendent C. C. Ewing, of the water works, left Sunday morning for Evansville, Ind., where he will attend the national convention of stationary engineers.

TWELVE COAL MINES HAVE BEEN LOCATED

ON THE ROUTE OF THE YOUNGSTOWN & SOUTHERN.

They Will Be Opened And Operated And Prospects Are Very Bright.

Youngstown, August 31.—(Special)—During the past week State Mine Inspector Biddestone located the opening for twelve coal mines in the North Lima field on the Youngstown & Southern electric railway line, promoted and organized by John H. Ruhlman and others. Inspector Biddestone made a most encouraging report of these fields to President Asa W. Jones, J. R. Long, Mr. Ruhlman and the others who are interested in the new road, and says the new territory has almost unlimited possibilities. The report of Inspector Biddestone gives Mr. Ruhlman and his associates reason to believe that Youngstown will again be the headquarters of one of the largest coal centers in the country.

Secretary and Treasurer Ruhlman, of the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company, made a trip to North Lima Saturday with Walter F. Wyeth, of the banking firm of Baker, Ayling & Co., of Boston, who with Messrs. Ruhlman and Jones financed the electric line. They went as far north as North Lima and returned just as the big downfall of rain commenced.

After his return Mr. Wyeth said: "It is a most beautiful piece of country and from what I saw today, the project looks to be a good one. I will make a trip through to East Liverpool upon my return from the west."

Contractors Joyce, Fawcett and Heasley are pushing forward the work of building the new road with the greatest of rapidity and are making good progress.

The report of Inspector Biddestone looks to be exceptionally good owing to the fact that he is noted for his honesty and integrity. He never made application for the office of state inspector of mines. Governor Nash sent for Biddestone and when the latter was apprised of his appointment he was one of the most astonished men in the state.

William E. Lewis has been engaged as driller for the North Lima coal field.

TELEPHONE CASE WAS ARGUED

He Did Not Agree With the Company's Attorney on One Important Point Raised.

Salem, August 31.—(Special)—Arguments were heard before Judge Robinson at Ravenna on Saturday afternoon in the suit of Farmer & Getz of this city, against the Columbiana County Telephone company, in which it is sought by mandamus to prevent the telephone company from increasing its rates to subscribers. The interests of the plaintiffs and of the city were looked after by City Solicitor L. P. Metzger, and the telephone company was represented by Attorneys Carey and Mullins, of Salem, and Attorney W. L. Carey, of Cleveland, general counsel for the company.

Attorney Metzger in his argument cited decisions and rulings in similar cases, said that the telephone decision so often quoted by the company was not rendered in a parallel case. He reviewed the case ably and at length.

J. R. Carey, of Salem, argued for the company and cited a section of the revised statutes relating to telephone and telegraph companies, stipulating that a city shall receive no consideration for a franchise granted. He held that the franchise did not constitute a contract, and that the only thing the city could do about a telephone system was to see that the wires and poles were properly placed.

The latter point was not agreed to by the judge, who held that the city had certain contracted rights. The only question was whether the city could legally control the rates for telephone service.

The judge reserved his decision until Tuesday.

Attending a Conference.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—Rev. J. A. Ulman, of the Lisbon M. E. church, and Rev. J. P. Anderson, of the Presbyterian church, left for Columbus today to attend a meeting of state Sunday school workers, which will include a conference of state and county officers.

POST OFFICE TO REMAIN IN PRESENT LOCATION

No Foundation for the Story That a Change Is About to Be Effected.

The announcement has been made on several occasions recently that the Chester postoffice would be moved from its present location to the vicinity of Sixth street. Neither the postmaster nor Mr. McCutcheon, who owns the building in which the postoffice is now located has made any such assertion, and there really has been no grounds for the announcement.

Since Mr. McCutcheon purchased the postoffice building recently, negotiations have been in progress between Postmaster Johnston and the owner whereby the office will remain where it is for four years. To the present their negotiations have proceeded without a hitch, and it is likely will be finally settled upon within the next few days. The postoffice is now situated in the most logical portion of the city and can be conveniently reached by a greater number of the city than in any other spot in the town. It will undoubtedly remain there.

CHESTER OIL COMPANY TO BEGIN OPERATIONS

Dissatisfaction With Drillers Who Had First Contract and a Change Will Be Made.

It has been given out that the members of the Chester Oil and Gas company would begin active operations during the present week, or as soon after the first of the month as it would be possible to get the rig and other paraphernalia on the ground. Though a number of the members have been seen, the report could not be confirmed.

It is certain that if the territory upon which the company still holds a lease is developed further, it will not be done by the parties who had the previous contract for doing the drilling. Members of the company seen today say they have becomed discouraged with the outlook and would not expend more money with the drillers unless given the assurance that the officers make a contract with some other firm. It was said today that Mr. Stewart would be willing to give bond for the faithful and satisfactory fulfillment of his contract, and some members of the company are in favor of allowing him to proceed. Some action will probably be taken this week.

Will Build a House.

James Murray, the big oil operator who moved his possessions from New Cumberland to Chester last week, will begin the erection of his new home and a magnificent barn within the next few days. Mr. Murray's residence will be located at the corner of Fifth street and Louisiana avenue, where he owns six large lots. The building will cost $8,000, while the barn will involve an expenditure of about $4,000.

EXCELLENT CONCERT

Afternoon Concert.

The trombone solo of Mr. E. D. Coe was a most enjoyable number.

A GREAT TEAM

The Sully family, sketch artists, who come to the Rock Springs theater this week, are the strongest aggregation on the road this season. Their sketch is strictly original and excruciatingly funny. Other members of the combination are Ely & Harvey, in a very funny comedy sketch; the kenetograph, Forbes & Forbes and the renowned troupe of dogs under the direction of Prof. Parker.

This latter act is alone worth the price of admission, and will be among the best drawing cards of the week.

Funeral Today.

Funeral services over the remains of James Kirke were conducted at the Methodist Episcopal church in Chester this morning, Rev. E. C. Lindsey officiating. The dead man was a brother-in-law of Robert Cunningham, of Chester, and died in Pennsylvania last week.

Another Physician.

Dr. Charles R. Campbell, a young physician recently graduating from Sterling Medical university, will locate in Chester soon. Dr. Campbell, whose home is near Hookstown, has many friends in this town who feel sure he will succeed here.

CHESTER NOTES.

A large party of Chester people made the trip to Hollow Rock camp meeting.

It has been officially announced that the First National bank of Chester will open for business next month.

Garrett Mercer has returned from a two weeks' vacation and is again located with the Chester Grocery company.

William Bee, the Carolina avenue shoe merchant, left today for Parkersburg, where he will visit for several days.

Mrs. Al Noling, who suffered a sunstroke last week, has been reported better. For several days it was thought the lady could not recover, but she rallied late in the week and is better today.

PROTECTED BY CHIEF WYMAN

WOMAN SAID HER HUSBAND SOUGHT TO KILL HER.

Bereft of any semblance of the finer nature that he once possessed, Patrick McCarroll, an oddman employed at the West End pottery, made a vicious assault on his wife Saturday night and but for the timely appearance of Chief Wyman, Mrs. McCarroll might have been a corpse today.

Loud cries of "Help! Murder!" and many other such frightful sounds attracted the attention of the chief, who happened to be in the vicinity of McCarroll's home, near the West End pottery, while he was en route to the disorderly houses in Jethro Hollow. The chief says the cries were the most heart-rending that he ever heard. The woman yelled as if in terrible distress and danger.

At every cry the chief quickened his steps and arrived at the rear door of the house while the poor woman was struggling for protection. She exclaimed that her brutal husband had beaten her until she was black and blue and that he threatened to kill her.

Angered beyond control of himself, the chief ran into the house, grabbed McCarroll by the nape of the neck and slammed him out into the street and then pushed him to a call box from where he summoned the patrol. McCarroll, though very brave when his opponent was a woman, quieted down like a baby and gave no trouble whatever to the chief. He was landed behind prison bars and he rameained there until Sunday morning, when he placed $10 as security for his appearance this evening at 7 o'clock.

McCarroll has quite a reputation for wife-beating and will be dealt with by the mayor accordingly.

At about the same time that McCarroll was arrested for his act, another such crime was being committed near Cartwright's pottey, report of which reached city hall today. There were no arrests made, however, the names being impossible to get.

Mr. Jewell on Saturday received a minute description of the man wanted from Mayor Fogo and with his brother detective that evening they learned that a man had visited a certain doctor in Steubenville and had a 32-calibre bullet extracted from his back. They at once investigated and obtained a trace of him, finding him a short time afterwards. Eells had informed the physician who attended him, that a man had shot him at Toronto.

The bullet taken from the man's back was undoubtedly that of Chief Houser, as he had been using a 32-calibre revolver and Officer Morrissey a 38-calibre gun. Eells' wound was not a serious one. The bullet had entered his side and striking a rib, glanced around to his back where it lodged.

Eells was brought before Mayor Fogo this morning and the charge of shooting with intent to kill was read to him. He pleaded not guilty and the mayor bound him over to court in the sum of $1,000. He will be taken to Lisbon as soon as the sheriff can come and get him.

Miss Helen Russell, a sister of Howard Russell, who ran away from his home on lower Front street Saturday, August 15, received a letter from the missing boy Friday evening. It was dated Wilmington, Pa. In the letter he explained to his sister that he had secured a position in a mill at Wilmington and that he intended remaining there for the present. He asked that his clothes be sent to him at once.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell, the parents of the boy, went to Wilmington Saturday, where they took his clothes. Mrs. Russell was nearly distracted during the two weeks that nothing was learned of the whereabouts of the boy, but she has now recovered. Mr. and Mrs. Russell return from Wilmington some time today. They will allow their son to remain where he is.

P. H. C. Picnic a Success.

Quite a large crowd went to C. R. Moore's grove just west of the cemetery Saturday morning to attend the annual picnic and outing of Fidelity Circle No. 43, Protected Home Circle. The day was most enjoyably spent, the weather being perfectly suitable for the occasion. Athletic sports and games were indulged in. All of those who attended took their baskets and all ate together at one big table in the old fashioned picnic style. Spring water was plentiful, there being a fine spring on the grounds. Several members of the East Liverpool circles attended.

Schools Again Open.

All of the teachers of the public school assembled at the Central building on Ninth street at 3 p. m. Saturday for the purpose of having the school work for the coming year outlined to them by Superintendent McDonald. They were instructed as to just what work would be expected of them during the school year. All of the schools opened this morning. Little studying was done by the pupils today as the day was largely taken up in getting the work in readiness and assigning the scholars to the rooms they are to occupy.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Mrs. B. F. Wells, of Allegheny, was the guest of relatives here over Sunday.

TWELVE COAL MINES HAVE BEEN LOCATED

ON THE ROUTE OF THE YOUNGSTOWN & SOUTHERN.

They Will Be Opened And Operated And Prospects Are Very Bright.

Youngstown, August 31.—(Special)—During the past week State Mine Inspector Biddestone located the opening for twelve coal mines in the North Lima field on the Youngstown & Southern electric railway line, promoted and organized by John H. Ruhlman and others. Inspector Biddestone made a most encouraging report of these fields to President Asa W. Jones, J. R. Long, Mr. Ruhlman and the others who are interested in the new road, and says the new territory has almost unlimited possibilities. The report of Inspector Biddestone gives Mr. Ruhlman and his associates reason to believe that Youngstown will again be the headquarters of one of the largest coal centers in the country.

Secretary and Treasurer Ruhlman, of the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company, made a trip to North Lima Saturday with Walter F. Wyeth, of the banking firm of Baker, Ayling & Co., of Boston, who with Messrs. Ruhlman and Jones financed the electric line. They went as far north as North Lima and returned just as the big downfall of rain commenced.

After his return Mr. Wyeth said: "It is a most beautiful piece of country and from what I saw today, the project looks to be a good one. I will make a trip through to East Liverpool upon my return from the west."

Contractors Joyce, Fawcett and Heasley are pushing forward the work of building the new road with the greatest of rapidity and are making good progress.

The report of Inspector Biddestone looks to be exceptionally good owing to the fact that he is noted for his honesty and integrity. He never made application for the office of state inspector of mines. Governor Nash sent for Biddestone and when the latter was apprised of his appointment he was one of the most astonished men in the state.

William E. Lewis has been engaged as driller for the North Lima coal field.

He Did Not Agree With the Company's Attorney on One Important Point Raised.

Salem, August 31.—(Special)—Arguments were heard before Judge Robinson at Ravenna on Saturday afternoon in the suit of Farmer & Getz of this city, against the Columbiana County Telephone company, in which it is sought by mandamus to prevent the telephone company from increasing its rates to subscribers. The interests of the plaintiffs and of the city were looked after by City Solicitor L. P. Metzger, and the telephone company was represented by Attorneys Carey and Mullins, of Salem, and Attorney W. L. Carey, of Cleveland, general counsel for the company.

Attorney Metzger in his argument cited decisions and rulings in similar cases, said that the telephone decision so often quoted by the company was not rendered in a parallel case. He reviewed the case ably and at length.

J. R. Carey, of Salem, argued for the company and cited a section of the revised statutes relating to telephone and telegraph companies, stipulating that a city shall receive no consideration for a franchise granted. He held that the franchise did not constitute a contract, and that the only thing the city could do about a telephone system was to see that the wires and poles were properly placed.

The latter point was not agreed to by the judge, who held that the city had certain contracted rights. The only question was whether the city could legally control the rates for telephone service.

The judge reserved his decision until Tuesday.

Attending a Conference.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—Rev. J. A. Ulman, of the Lisbon M. E. church, and Rev. J. P. Anderson, of the Presbyterian church, left for Columbus today to attend a meeting of state Sunday school workers, which will include a conference of state and county officers.

POST OFFICE TO REMAIN IN PRESENT LOCATION

The announcement has been made on several occasions recently that the Chester postoffice would be moved from its present location to the vicinity of Sixth street. Neither the postmaster nor Mr. McCutcheon, who owns the building in which the postoffice is now located has made any such assertion, and there really has been no grounds for the announcement.

Since Mr. McCutcheon purchased the postoffice building recently, negotiations have been in progress between Postmaster Johnston and the owner whereby the office will remain where it is for four years. To the present their negotiations have proceeded without a hitch, and it is likely will be finally settled upon within the next few days. The postoffice is now situated in the most logical portion of the city and can be conveniently reached by a greater number of the city than in any other spot in the town. It will undoubtedly remain there.

CHESTER OIL COMPANY TO BEGIN OPERATIONS

Dissatisfaction With Drillers Who Had First Contract and a Change Will Be Made.

It has been given out that the members of the Chester Oil and Gas company would begin active operations during the present week, or as soon after the first of the month as it would be possible to get the rig and other paraphernalia on the ground. Though a number of the members have been seen, the report could not be confirmed.

It is certain that if the territory upon which the company still holds a lease is developed further, it will not be done by the parties who had the previous contract for doing the drilling. Members of the company seen today say they have becomed discouraged with the outlook and would not expend more money with the drillers unless given the assurance that the officers make a contract with some other firm. It was said today that Mr. Stewart would be willing to give bond for the faithful and satisfactory fulfillment of his contract, and some members of the company are in favor of allowing him to proceed. Some action will probably be taken this week.

Will Build a House.

James Murray, the big oil operator who moved his possessions from New Cumberland to Chester last week, will begin the erection of his new home and a magnificent barn within the next few days. Mr. Murray's residence will be located at the corner of Fifth street and Louisiana avenue, where he owns six large lots. The building will cost $8,000, while the barn will involve an expenditure of about $4,000.

EXCELLENT CONCERT

Afternoon Concert.

Orchestra, "Belle of the Regiment" ..... Carey
Tenor Ballad, "Somebody's Darling" ..... Arthur Carlton
Bass solo, "Down in the Depths" ..... Glover Ware
Boy soprano, "Annie Laurie" ..... Master Victor Staats
Miserere, duett for trombone and cornet ..... Verdi
Violin imitations ..... Wm. Josh Daly
The Unity Quartet.
Glover Ware, Arthur Thrasher, Arthur Carlton, John Gray.

Evening Concert.

Polonaise, "On Mountain Height" ..... Keisler
The Unity Quartet.
March, Airs from "Carman" ..... Bizzet

A GREAT TEAM

The Sully family, sketch artists, who come to the Rock Springs theater this week, are the strongest aggregation on the road this season. Their sketch is strictly original and excruciatingly funny. Other members of the combination are Ely & Harvey, in a very funny comedy sketch; the kenetograph, Forbes & Forbes and the renowned troupe of dogs under the direction of Prof. Parker.

This latter act is alone worth the price of admission, and will be among the best drawing cards of the week.

Funeral Today.

Funeral services over the remains of James Kirke were conducted at the Methodist Episcopal church in Chester this morning, Rev. E. C. Lindsey officiating. The dead man was a brother-in-law of Robert Cunningham, of Chester, and died in Pennsylvania last week.

Another Physician.

Dr. Charles R. Campbell, a young physician recently graduating from Sterling Medical university, will locate in Chester soon. Dr. Campbell, whose home is near Hookstown, has many friends in this town who feel sure he will succeed here.

CHESTER NOTES.

A large party of Chester people made the trip to Hollow Rock camp meeting.

It has been officially announced that the First National bank of Chester will open for business next month.

Garrett Mercer has returned from a two weeks' vacation and is again located with the Chester Grocery company.

William Bee, the Carolina avenue shoe merchant, left today for Parkersburg, where he will visit for several days.

Mrs. Al Noling, who suffered a sunstroke last week, has been reported better. For several days it was thought the lady could not recover, but she rallied late in the week and is better today.

PROTECTED BY CHIEF WYMAN

Bereft of any semblance of the finer nature that he once possessed, Patrick McCarroll, an oddman employed at the West End pottery, made a vicious assault on his wife Saturday night and but for the timely appearance of Chief Wyman, Mrs. McCarroll might have been a corpse today.

Loud cries of "Help! Murder!" and many other such frightful sounds attracted the attention of the chief, who happened to be in the vicinity of McCarroll's home, near the West End pottery, while he was en route to the disorderly houses in Jethro Hollow. The chief says the cries were the most heart-rending that he ever heard. The woman yelled as if in terrible distress and danger.

At every cry the chief quickened his steps and arrived at the rear door of the house while the poor woman was struggling for protection. She exclaimed that her brutal husband had beaten her until she was black and blue and that he threatened to kill her.

Angered beyond control of himself, the chief ran into the house, grabbed McCarroll by the nape of the neck and slammed him out into the street and then pushed him to a call box from where he summoned the patrol. McCarroll, though very brave when his opponent was a woman, quieted down like a baby and gave no trouble whatever to the chief. He was landed behind prison bars and he rameained there until Sunday morning, when he placed $10 as security for his appearance this evening at 7 o'clock.

McCarroll has quite a reputation for wife-beating and will be dealt with by the mayor accordingly.

At about the same time that McCarroll was arrested for his act, another such crime was being committed near Cartwright's pottey, report of which reached city hall today. There were no arrests made, however, the names being impossible to get.

Carroll Club Won the Second of the Series From E. E. Grays and Teams Are Tied

The second game of the series of three games being played by the Carroll club and the East End Grays was witnessed in Columbian park Saturday afternoon by a large crowd. The Carroll club won the game by a score of 8 to 6 and now the teams are tied. There is much enthusiasm over the outcome and the next game will be a great attraction. Both teams are in elegant shape and will fight hard for the decisive game. The score:

DEFEAT GIVEN TO THE MONARCHS

Smith's Ferry Cleaned Them By Steam and They Credit It to Muddy Grounds.

Smith's Ferry put the bug on the Monarchs Saturday. They won by a score of 7 to 1. The locals credit the defeat to the muddy grounds, which caused them to make bad errors at costly time. The score:

Oaklands Ready.

Homestead Releases Washer.

Manager Risher, of the Homestead team, has released Buck Washer, of whom so much was expected last month when he was added to the team. It is claimed he failed to make good and Parkins, the new player from Evansville, will be put in his place. This announcement caused great surprise, as it was thought Washer would be retained the entire season. Risher still has three pitchers on his pay roll. They are Alex. Pearson, a right-handed twirler, and Osborne and Parkins, both southpaws.

Yokel Threw Lutz.

Beaver Falls, August 31.—(Special.)—M. R. Yokel, a Beaver Falls man, who is physical instructor at Harvard, threw Lawrence Lutz, a local wrestler, twice with ease Saturday night before a large crowd in the Sixth Avenue theater. The match was for $100 a side and Yokel was to throw Lutz twice within an hour. The betting was 3 to 1 that he would not, but he gained the first fall in six minutes and the second in 3½ minutes, both with half Nelsons. Ed Riley, of New Brighton, challenged the winner.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

It is rumored that Ned Hanlon will coach the Harvard crews.

Manager McGraw cannot keep still and continues to be fired from the field regularly.

Tim Flood, the Zanesville third baseman, who broke a knee cap at Ashland, Ky., last week, is probably out of the game for life. He was making a slide for second and struck his knee on a stake.

Irwin Wilhelm, of Wooster, released from the pitching staff of the Pittsburg team, since his return home has had offers from two National league teams and Birmingham and Little Rock, of the Southern league.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Henry George, Jr., will be Labor day orator at Youngstown.

William S. Aiken, a civil war veteran and prominent business man of Alliance, is dead, aged 70.

The death of a two-year-old child and the serious, possibly fatal, injury of its mother, Mrs. James Foster, of Warren, Ind., were caused by a train at a crossing in Warren.

At a meeting of the Republican Central committee of Jefferson county, it was ordered that the congressional primary elections be held on Wednesday, September 16.

John Parks, of Steubenville, for using profane and indecent language, was sentenced by Justive Love to pay $100 and costs, or about $144. It will take him a year to serve the sentence in the workhouse.

William Wells, owner of the ferry boat that plies between the Ohio and West Virginia shores at Steubenville, is confined to his home over the river with a badly swollen foot as the result of a snake bite.

The Beaver Coal and Coke company, which recently bought out the old Quaker Valley coal mine, at Rogers, has put a force of men at work to clean out the mine and put the machinery in shape to start up.

Elmer E. Garrison, formerly one of the wealthy and prominent business men of Steubenville, has squandered a fortune and is in the work house on a charge of forgery. His wife, who was Miss Tope, of New Cumberland, has applied for divorce.

Save the Children.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach well. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

IF YOU ARE SUFFERING FROM ANY DISEASE, WEAKNESS OR DISABILITY, WHY NOT CONSULT AN EXPERIENCED, EDUCATED SPECIALIST; ONE THOROUGHLY EQUIPPED WITH ALL THE NECESSARY APPLIANCES KNOWN TO MODERN MEDICAL SCIENCE?

SPECIALISTS IN CHRONIC AND PELVIC DISEASES.

THE FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE. Established 1886. Largest Practice and Most Complete Institution of its kind in the United States. Our record of cures is second to none. Our practice extends not only throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico, but also includes many foreign countries. Our long experience, remarkable skill, and universal success entitle us to the full confidence of the afflicted. For more than twenty years we have been making regular monthly visits to the principal cities of Ohio. The celebrated France Treatment is acknowledged by many, including prominent physicians, as being the most complete and successful treatment known to the medical world, for diseases of men and women. Wonderful Cures Effected in old cases which have been unskillfully treated. Our success is indicated by cures effected. Testimonials sent us by physicians and patients are positive proof. REFERENCES:—We can refer you to the First National Bank, or any bank or reputable business house in Columbus, Ohio; besides, any reliable mercantile agency can be consulted as to our financial standing.

NO MONEY REQUIRED OF RESPONSIBLE PARTIES TO COMMENCE TREATMENT.

WE TREAT AND CURE all curable diseases of the Stomach and Bowels, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles, Diarrhœa; Eye and Ear Diseases; Heart and Liver Diseases; Blood and Skin Diseases, such as Scrofula, Ulcers, Eczema, Pimples; Female Diseases, especially those cases which have baffled the skill of other physicians. Epileptic Fits, Rupture, permanently cured by a new, scientific method. Brain, Spinal and Nervous Diseases, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Headache, Sleeplessness, Dizziness, Brain and Nervous Exhaustion, and Spinal Irritation. Cures in the shortest possible time, without the use of mercury or hindrance from business. Curable cases are guaranteed when others have failed. Charges for treatment will be made satisfactory; consultation free.

SYPHILIS positively cured without the use of injurious drugs. No matter of how long standing, our Special Treatment cures when doctors, patent medicines and hot springs have failed. We have cured thousands of the worst forms of this disease.

OUR MEDICATED BOUGIE NEVER FAILS TO CURE

THE FRANCE URETHRAL TREATMENT is a medicated Bougie for the cure of Stricture and all forms of Diseases of the Bladder, Urethra, and Prostate Gland. The Bougies are inserted into the urethral canal upon retiring at night; they slip into position without the slightest effort, requiring a short time to dissolve. They act like a mild electric current, invigorating and imparting vim and snap to the entire body. The curative effect is felt from the first application. Our special treatment completely dissolves the Stricture and permanently removes obstructions from the urinary passage.

Treatment by Correspondence. Each person applying for Medical Treatment should bring or send from two to four ounces of urine, which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination. We have cured hundreds of cases we have never seen. Write for book of 100 pages and list of 500 questions. Correspondence, Consultation and Examination free and strictly confidential. No names published without written consent. Treatment sent by mail or express to any part of the United States.

FIGHTERS FELL TO THEIR DEATH

Guard Rail of the Craft Gave Way and Two Men Were Drowned.

Bellaire, August 31.—In a fight on the ferryboat Charon, here Saturday night, between a non-union machinist, Frank Williams, and two strikers, William Pracht and Anthony Holleran, the guard rail gave way and all went in to the river. Williams escaped, but the other two were drowned.

A strike is in progress at the plant of the National Tube company in Benwood. Williams, who was living in the blockhouse in the inside of the enclosure at the works, came over to Bellaire Saturday night. After he had been drinking liquor for some time, he started yelling, "I am a scab and able to take care of myself." His actions attracted the attention of the strikers, who tried to dissuade him to cease working, but he was firm in his refusal.

Finally some one hit Williams, and he started to run for the ferry landing, with a crowd after him. It was just 11:10, and the Charon was ready to go over the river with about 25 people. Williams came over the bank, and onto the boat he went pell mell, and only two of the strikers, Pracht and Holleran, with him, just as the boat pulled away from the landing. When the boat was out in the river 100 yards the three were fighting fiercely near the guard rail. The non-union man was down, and the others were hitting him. Suddenly he got up and they all clinched again. Williams drew a revolver and fired. The guard rail gave way and all went into the river.

It was pitch dark. A large crowd had gathered on the river bank, and one of the three, Williams, was seen to swim ashore. When he got out into a lot of willows he was found by a police officer and taken to the city building. The other two sank to a watery grave. Williams has been but eight months in this country, and only two weeks in the National tube works.

The Ohio river being high just at present, and very swift, it will likely be some time before the bodies can be found. The river has been dragged all morning, but with no success.

There was a large crowd of strikers and their sympathizers on the West Virginia side awaiting to see if Williams would be brought over there to jail, and it is safe to say that if he had been he would never have reached the prison.

ORDINANCE 773

Granting Certain Privileges to and Exacting Certain Obligations From the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad Company, Its Lessee.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

Section 1. The Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company, and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are hereby granted the right to lay and operate one track, in addition to those now existing, (said existing tracks are shown by a map now on file with the City Clerk, said map being dated January 14, 1903) on and across all streets and alleys in this city where said company's tracks are now located, excepting on what is known as the Horn Switch track and excepting also Second street at its junction with Broadway, said additional track to be constructed on an alignment practically the same as the tracks now existing.

Section 2. Said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company, and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are hereby granted the right to lay and operate one track, in addition to that provided for in Section 1, on and across all streets and alleys between the point of intersection of Jefferson and West Second streets and the westerly line of Second street at its junction with Broadway, on which there now exists one or more tracks of said company. All extensions of tracks and all additional tracks in Sections 1 and 2 hereinabove designated, are to be constructed upon the said Cleveland and Pittsburg company's right of way and upon land to be hereafter acquired by said company, except at the intersections of streets and alleys with the said company's tracks.

Section 3. It is hereby provided, that Ralston's Crossing shall be vacated and that said company shall construct or cause to be constructed an undergrade crossing at its bridge No. 111, in accordance with the plans agreed upon and herewith submitted and marked Exhibit "A"; said company to provide a sixteen foot driveway immediately south of the property on the northerly line of said company's right of way from the intersection of Ralston's Crossing and the said company's tracks, eastwardly to the public road leading to the said undergrade crossing; to construct or cause to be constructed, a forty foot roadway commencing at a point in the road leading to Ralston's Crossing where said road is to be abandoned as aforesaid and continuing thence eastwardly, south to the C. & P. R. R. company's right of way, to and through the culvert of the said company's railroad bridge No. 111, and extending thence northwardly to the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, to provide the necessary right of way for the extension of the last described road from a point in the said road southeastwardly from the said culvert, eastwardly at a width of forty feet to the west line of lot No. 1400 and connecting with a road already in existence at the northside of said lot No. 1400. All of said proposed roads hereinabove described, are shown upon a plat hereinwith filed and marked Exhibit "A" as aforesaid.

Section 4. It is provided, ordained and agreed, that the said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, shall dedicate to the said city as and for an alley, the eastwardly twenty feet of lot No. 4392 and that the alley now platted and existing between the present southerly right of way line of said company and the row of twelve lots purchased by it from the Puritan Land company, in the East End, shall be vacated from Central avenue to the westwardly line of the alley above provided for also that the alley between lots Nos. 4389 and 4390 shall be vacated from the southerly right of way line of said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company to the northerly line of St. George street, provided that said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company or the said Pennsylvania company, its lessee, shall construct on said lots, a brick depot or station building to cost not less than $5,000.00. All of said alleys, streets and lots herein referred to are shown by a plat herewith filed and marked Exhibit "B."

Section 5. The foregoing grants to the said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are expressly made upon condition that they shall by duly authorized agent, accept this ordinance with all its terms and conditions and shall agree thereby and as a part thereof to

First—Maintain all existing street and alley crossings on the tracks and right of way of said company and to establish and to maintain a crossing at either Virginia avenue or Central avenue as may hereafter be determined; and to establish and maintain a crossing at Elizabeth street, whenever the City Council shall deem said crossing necessary. All crossings hereinabove named are hereby dedicated to said City.

Second—To provide a flagman at East and West Market streets on the hill tracks, whenever said track is used for the passage of trains and cars.

Third—To light all street intersections with said Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad, in any manner that might be legally required.

Fourth—To remove on six months' notice the side tracks now located and existing on city property at the foot of Broadway and extending eastwardly therefrom, whenever Council demands it.

Fifth—To hold and save the said city harmless from any and all damage or damages, that may arise by reason of any improvements or excavations or by reason of any construction or vacation made in pursuance to or by reason of the provisions of this ordinance.

Sixth—To pave all driveways to and between teaming tracks in the lower yards.

Seventh—To erect a freight depot at or near what is known as the Horn Switch or hill yards when the City Council demands it.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed August 11, 1903.

Attest: WILLIS DAVIDSON, Clerk of Council.

Smith's Ferry Cleaned Them By Steam and They Credit It to Muddy Grounds.

Smith's Ferry put the bug on the Monarchs Saturday. They won by a score of 7 to 1. The locals credit the defeat to the muddy grounds, which caused them to make bad errors at costly time. The score:

Oaklands Ready.

Homestead Releases Washer.

Manager Risher, of the Homestead team, has released Buck Washer, of whom so much was expected last month when he was added to the team. It is claimed he failed to make good and Parkins, the new player from Evansville, will be put in his place. This announcement caused great surprise, as it was thought Washer would be retained the entire season. Risher still has three pitchers on his pay roll. They are Alex. Pearson, a right-handed twirler, and Osborne and Parkins, both southpaws.

Yokel Threw Lutz.

Beaver Falls, August 31.—(Special)—M. R. Yokel, a Beaver Falls man, who is physical instructor at Harvard, threw Lawrence Lutz, a local wrestler, twice with ease Saturday night before a large crowd in the Sixth Avenue theater. The match was for $100 a side and Yokel was to throw Lutz twice within an hour. The betting was 3 to 1 that he would not, but he gained the first fall in six minutes and the second in 3½ minutes, both with half Nelsons. Ed Riley, of New Brighton, challenged the winner.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

It is rumored that Ned Hanlon will coach the Harvard crews.

Manager McGraw cannot keep still and continues to be fired from the field regularly.

Tim Flood, the Zanesville third baseman, who broke a knee cap at Ashland, Ky., last week, is probably out of the game for life. He was making a slide for second and struck his knee on a stake.

Irwin Wilhelm, of Wooster, released from the pitching staff of the Pittsburg team, since his return home has had offers from two National league teams and Birmingham and Little Rock, of the Southern league.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Henry George, Jr., will be Labor day orator at Youngstown.

William S. Aiken, a civil war veteran and prominent business man of Alliance, is dead, aged 70.

The death of a two-year-old child and the serious, possibly fatal, injury of its mother, Mrs. James Foster, of Warren, Ind., were caused by a train at a crossing in Warren.

At a meeting of the Republican Central committee of Jefferson county, it was ordered that the congressional primary elections be held on Wednesday, September 16.

John Parks, of Steubenville, for using profane and indecent language, was sentenced by Justive Love to pay $100 and costs, or about $144. It will take him a year to serve the sentence in the workhouse.

William Wells, owner of the ferry boat that plies between the Ohio and West Virginia shores at Steubenville, is confined to his home over the river with a badly swollen foot as the result of a snake bite.

The Beaver Coal and Coke company, which recently bought out the old Quaker Valley coal mine, at Rogers, has put a force of men at work to clean out the mine and put the machinery in shape to start up.

Elmer E. Garrison, formerly one of the wealthy and prominent business men of Steubenville, has squandered a fortune and is in the work house on a charge of forgery. His wife, who was Miss Tope, of New Cumberland, has applied for divorce.

Save the Children.

Singers Contest for Prizes.

Detroit, Aug. 31.—The Swiss-American singing societies contested for prizes here. The following societies entered the contest: The Grueti society, Akron, O.; Gemischter choir, Canton, O.; Helvetia Schweizer mannerchor, Allegheny.

Season at Chautauqua Closes.

Chautauqua, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The Chautauqua assembly has closed its two months' season. Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, of Armour institute, Chicago, preached the farewell sermon.

Turkish Consul General Dead.

Paris, Aug. 31.—The Turkish consul general at Marseilles, M. Gaetanaki, died suddenly while preparing to give a great feast in honor of the sultan next Tuesday.

Austrian Gunboat Founders.

Cadiz, Spain, Aug. 31.—The Austrian gunboat Sherla has foundered off this port. Eleven of her crew were saved by a French trans-Atlantic steamer.

SPECIALISTS IN CHRONIC AND PELVIC DISEASES.

THE FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE. Established 1886. Largest Practice and Most Complete Institution of its kind in the United States. Our record of cures is second to none. Our practice extends not only throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico, but also includes many foreign countries. Our long experience, remarkable skill, and universal success entitle us to the full confidence of the afflicted. For more than twenty years we have been making regular monthly visits to the principal cities of Ohio. The celebrated France Treatment is acknowledged by many, including prominent physicians, as being the most complete and successful treatment known to the medical world, for diseases of men and women. Wonderful Cures Effected in old cases which have been unskillfully treated. Our success is indicated by cures effected. Testimonials sent us by physicians and patients are positive proof. REFERENCES:—We can refer you to the First National Bank, or any bank or reputable business house in Columbus, Ohio; besides, any reliable mercantile agency can be consulted as to our financial standing.

NO MONEY REQUIRED OF RESPONSIBLE PARTIES TO COMMENCE TREATMENT.

WE TREAT AND CURE all curable diseases of the Stomach and Bowels, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles, Diarrhœa; Eye and Ear Diseases; Heart and Liver Diseases; Blood and Skin Diseases, such as Scrofula, Ulcers, Eczema, Pimples; Female Diseases, especially those cases which have baffled the skill of other physicians. Epileptic Fits, Rupture, permanently cured by a new, scientific method. Brain, Spinal and Nervous Diseases, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago, Headache, Sleeplessness, Dizziness, Brain and Nervous Exhaustion, and Spinal Irritation. Cancer cured without the use of a knife. Kidney and Bladder Diseases, Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Inflammation of the Bladder, Enlarged Prostate, Frequent and Dribbling Urination, etc. Throat, Lung and Nasal Diseases, such as Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, Deafness, etc., cured by our original system of home treatment. Rheumatism: our Special Treatment for Rheumatism is the most successful known.

It costs no more to employ an expert than to risk your life with an inexperienced physician.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES. After years of experience, we have discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by a new method. The cure is effected by home treatment; entirely harmless and easily applied. You may consult us in confidence, no matter what the trouble may be. The France System of Local Treatment with Medicated Pad, Developer and Vacuum Treatment for Men is positively the most complete and successful known for Varicocele and Stricture, also weak and undeveloped organs. Cures in the shortest possible time, without the use of mercury or hindrance from business. Curable cases are guaranteed when others have failed. Charges for treatment will be made satisfactory; consultation free.

OUR MEDICATED BOUGIE NEVER FAILS TO CURE.

THE FRANCE URETHRAL TREATMENT is a medicated Bougie for the cure of Stricture and all forms of Diseases of the Bladder, Urethra, and Prostate Gland. The Bougies are inserted into the urethral canal upon retiring at night; they slip into position without the slightest effort, requiring a short time to dissolve. They act like a mild electric current, invigorating and imparting vim and snap to the entire body. The curative effect is felt from the first application. Our special treatment completely dissolves the Stricture and permanently removes obstructions from the urinary passage.

Treatment by Correspondence. Each person applying for Medical Treatment should bring or send from two to four ounces of urine, which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination. We have cured hundreds of cases we have never seen. Write for book of 100 pages and list of 500 questions. Correspondence, Consultation and Examination free and strictly confidential. No names published without written consent. Treatment sent by mail or express to any part of the United States.

Guard Rail of the Craft Gave Way and Two Men Were Drowned.

Bellaire, August 31.—In a fight on the ferryboat Charon, here Saturday night, between a non-union machinist, Frank Williams, and two strikers, William Pracht and Anthony Holleran, the guard rail gave way and all went in to the river. Williams escaped, but the other two were drowned.

A strike is in progress at the plant of the National Tube company in Benwood. Williams, who was living in the blockhouse in the inside of the enclosure at the works, came over to Bellaire Saturday night. After he had been drinking liquor for some time, he started yelling, "I am a scab and able to take care of myself." His actions attracted the attention of the strikers, who tried to dissuade him to cease working, but he was firm in his refusal.

Finally some one hit Williams, and he started to run for the ferry landing, with a crowd after him. It was just 11:10, and the Charon was ready to go over the river with about 25 people. Williams came over the bank, and onto the boat he went pell mell, and only two of the strikers, Pracht and Holleran, with him, just as the boat pulled away from the landing. When the boat was out in the river 100 yards the three were fighting fiercely near the guard rail. The non-union man was down, and the others were hitting him. Suddenly he got up and they all clinched again. Williams drew a revolver and fired. The guard rail gave way and all went into the river.

It was pitch dark. A large crowd had gathered on the river bank, and one of the three, Williams, was seen to swim ashore. When he got out into a lot of willows he was found by a police officer and taken to the city building. The other two sank to a watery grave. Williams has been but eight months in this country, and only two weeks in the National tube works.

The Ohio river being high just at present, and very swift, it will likely be some time before the bodies can be found. The river has been dragged all morning, but with no success.

There was a large crowd of strikers and their sympathizers on the West Virginia side awaiting to see if Williams would be brought over there to jail, and it is safe to say that if he had been he would never have reached the prison.

ORDINANCE 773

Granting Certain Privileges to and Exacting Certain Obligations From the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad Company, Its Lessee.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

Section 1. The Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company, and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are hereby granted the right to lay and operate one track, in addition to those now existing, (said existing tracks are shown by a map now on file with the City Clerk, said map being dated January 14, 1889) on and across all streets and alleys in this city where said company's tracks are now located, excepting only what is known as the Horn Switch track and excepting also Second street at its junction with Broadway, said additional track to be constructed on an alignment practically the same as the tracks now existing.

Section 2. Said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company, and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are hereby granted the right to lay and operate one track, in addition to that provided for in Section 1, on and across all streets and alleys between the point of intersection of Jefferson and West Second streets and the westerly line of Second street at its junction with Broadway, on which there now exists one or more tracks of said company. All extensions of tracks and all additional tracks in Sections 1 and 2 hereinabove designated, are to be constructed upon the said Cleveland and Pittsburg company's right of way, and upon land to be hereafter acquired by said company, except at the intersections of streets and alleys with the said company's tracks.

Section 3. It is hereby provided, that Ralston's Crossing shall be vacated and that said company shall construct or cause to be constructed an undergrade crossing at its bridge No. 111, in accordance with the plans agreed upon and herewith submitted and marked Exhibit "A"; said company to provide a sixteen foot driveway immediately south of the property on the northerly line of said company's right of way from the intersection of Ralston's Crossing and the said company's tracks, eastwardly to the public road leading to the said undergrade crossing; to construct or cause to be constructed, a forty foot roadway commencing at a point in the road leading to Ralston's Crossing where said road is to be abandoned as aforesaid and continuing thence eastwardly, south to the C. & P. R. company's right of way, to and through the culvert of the said company's railroad bridge No. 111, and extending thence northwardly to the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, to provide the necessary right of way for the extension of the last described road from a point in the said road southeastwardly from the said culvert, eastwardly at a width of forty feet to the west line of lot No. 1400 and connecting with a road already in existence at the northside of said lot No. 1400. All of said proposed roads hereinabove described, are shown upon a plat herewith filed and marked Exhibit "A" as aforesaid.

Section 4. It is provided, ordained and agreed, that the said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, shall dedicate to the said city as and for an alley, the easterly twenty feet of lot No. 4392 and that the alley now platted and existing between the present southerly right of way line of said company and the row of twelve lots purchased by it from the Puritan Land company, in the East End, shall be vacated from Central avenue to the westwardly line of the alley above provided for also that the alley between lots Nos. 4380 and 4390 shall be vacated from the southerly right of way line of said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company to the northerly line of St. George street, provided that said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company or the said Pennsylvania company, its lessee, shall construct on said lots, a brick depot or station building to cost not less than $5,000.00. All of said alleys, streets and lots herein referred to are shown by a plat herewith filed and marked Exhibit "B."

Section 5. The foregoing grants to the said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are expressly made upon condition that they shall by duly authorized agent, accept this ordinance with all its terms and conditions and shall agree thereby and as a part thereof to

First—Maintain all existing street and alley crossings on the tracks and right of way of said company and to establish and to maintain a crossing at either Virginia avenue or Central avenue as may hereafter be determined; and to establish and maintain a crossing at Elizabeth street, whenever the City Council shall deem said crossing necessary. All crossings hereinabove named are hereby dedicated to said City.

Second—To provide a flagman at East and West Market streets on the hill tracks whenever said track is used for the passage of trains and cars.

Third—To light all street intersections with said Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad, in any manner that might be legally required.

Fourth—To remove on six months' notice the side tracks now located and existing on city property at the foot of Broadway and extending eastwardly therefrom, whenever Council demands it.

Fifth—To hold and save the said city harmless from any and all damage or damages, that may arise by reason of any improvements or excavations or by reason of any construction or vacation made in pursuance to or by reason of the provisions of this ordinance.

Sixth—To pave all driveways to and between teaming tracks in the lower yards.

Seventh—To erect a freight depot at or near what is known as the Horn Switch or hill yards when the City Council demands it.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

JOHN HORWELL,

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the car stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry.

CHAPTER XXII.

GRENFALL LORRY'S FOE.

THE Princess Yetive had not flinched a hair's breadth from the resolution formed on that stormy night when she sacrificed pride and duty on the altar of love and justice. Prince Bolaroz's ultimatum overwhelmed her, but she arose from the wreckage that was strewn about her conscience and remained loyal, steadfast and true to the man in the monastery. To save his life was all she could hope to accomplish, and this she was bound to do at any cost. She could be nothing to him, not even friend. So long as he lived he would be considered the murderer of Lorenz, and until the end a price would hang over his head. She, Princess of Graustark, had offered a reward for him. For that reason he was always to be a fugitive, and she least of all could hope to see him. There had been a brief, happy dream, but it was swept away by the unrelenting rush of reality. The mere fact that she, and she alone, was responsible for his flight placed between them an unsurmountable barrier.

Clinging tenaciously to her purpose, she was still cognizant of the debt she owed the trusting, loving people of Graustark. One word from her could avert the calamity that was to fall with the dawn of the fatal 20th. All Graustark blindly trusted and adored her. To undeceive them would be to administer a shock from which they could never recover.

Her highness' manner was at all times frank and untroubled. She was apparently light hearted. Her cheeks had lost none of their freshness. Her eyes were bright. Her smile was quick and merry, her wit unclouded. Receptions, drawing rooms and state functions found her always vivacious, so much so that her court wondered not a little. Daily reports brought no news of the fugitive, but while others were beginning to acquire the haggard air of worry and uncertainty she was calmly resigned. The 15th, the 16th, the 17th, the 18th and now the 19th of November came and still the princess revealed no marked sign of distress.

Heavy hearted and with bowed heads the people of Graustark saw the 19th fade in the night, the breaking of which would bring the crush of pride, the end of power. At court there was the silent dread and the dying hope that relief might come at the last hour. Men with pale faces and tearful eyes wandered through the ancient castle, speechless, nerveless, miserable. Brave soldiers crept about, shorn of pride and filled with woe. Citizens sat and stared aimlessly for hours, thinking of naught but the disaster so near at hand and so unavoidable. The whole nation surged as if in the last throes of death. Tomorrow the potency of Graustark was to die, its domain was to be cleft in twain, disgraced before the world.

And on the throne of this afflicted land sat the girl Yetive, proud, tender, courageous. Tomorrow would see the north torn from the south, the division of families, the rending of homes, the bursting of hearts. She sanctioned all this because she loved Lorry and because he had done no wrong.

Aware of her financial troubles and pursuing the advantage that his rival's death had opened to him, Prince Gabriel of Dawsbergen renewed his ardent suit. Scarce had the body of the murdered prince left the domain before he made his presence marked. Knowing that he was in truth the mysterious Michael who had planned her abduction, she feared and despised him, yet dared make no public denunciation. As Dawsbergen was too powerful to be antagonized at this critical time, she was constantly forced to submit to the most trying and repulsive of ordeals. Tact and policy were required to control the violent, hot blooded young ruler from the south. Day after day he haunted the castle, persistent in his efforts to induce her to accept his proposition. So fierce was his passion, so implacable his desire, that he went among the people of Edelweiss, presenting to them his proposal, hoping thereby to add public feeling to his claims. He tried to organize a committee of citizens to go before the princess with the petition that his offer be accepted and the country saved. But Graustark was loyal to its princess. Not one of her citizens listened to the wily prince, and more than one told him or his emissaries that the loss of the whole kingdom was preferable to the marriage he desired. The city sickened at the thought.

His last and master stroke in the struggle to persuade came on the afternoon of the 19th, at an hour when all Edelweiss was in gloom and when the princess was taxed to the point where the mask of courage was so frail that she could scarce hide her bleeding soul behind it.

Bolaroz of Axphain, to quote from the news dispatch, was in Edelweiss, a guest, with a few of his lords, in the castle. North of the city were encamped 5,000 men. He had come prepared to cancel the little obligation of fifteen years' standing. With the hated creditor in the castle, his influence hovering above the town, the populace distracted by the thoughts of the day to come, Gabriel played what he considered his best card. He asked for and obtained a final interview with Yetive, not in her boudoir or her reception room, but in the throneroom, where she was to meet Bolaroz in the morning.

The princess, seated on her throne, awaited the approach of the resourceful, tenacious suitor. He came, and behind him strode eight stalwart men bearing a long iron bound chest, the result of his effort with his bankers. Yetive and her nobles looked in surprise on this unusual performance. Dropping to his knee before the throne, Gabriel said, his voice trembling slightly with eagerness and fear:

"Your highness, tomorrow will see the turning point in the history of two, possibly three, nations—Graustark, Axphain and Dawsbergen. I have included my own land because its ruler is most vitally interested. He would serve and save Graustark, as you know, and he would satisfy Axphain. It is in my power to give you aid at this last, trying hour, and I implore you to listen to my words of sincerest friendship—yes, adoration. Tomorrow you are to pay to Prince Bolaroz 25,000,000 gavvos or relinquish the entire north half of your domain. I understand the lamentable situation. You can raise no more than 15,000,000, and you are helpless. He will grant no extension of time. You know what I have proffered before. I come today to repeat my friendly offer and to give unquestioned bond as to my ability to carry it out. If you agree to accept the loan I extend—10,000,000 gavvos for fifteen years at the usual rate of interest—you can on tomorrow morning place in the hand of Axphain when he makes his formal demand the full amount of your indebtedness in gold. Ricardo, open the chest!"

An attendant threw open the lid of the chest. It was filled with gold coins.

"This box contains 100,000 gavvos. There are in your halls nine boxes holding nine times as much as you see here, and there are nine times as much all told on the way. This is an evidence of my good faith. Here is the gold. Pay Bolaroz and owe Gabriel, the greatest happiness that could come to him."

There was a dead silence after this theatrical action.

"The interest on this loan is not all you ask, I understand," said Halfont slowly, his black eyes glittering. "You ask something that Graustark cannot and will not barter—the hand of its sovereign. If you are willing to make this loan, naming a fair rate of interest, withdrawing your proposal of marriage, we can come to an agreement."

"I have the happiness of your sovereign at heart as much as my own," he said. "She shall never want for devotion; she shall never know a pain."

"You are determined, then, to adhere to your original proposition?" demanded the count.

"She would have married Lorenz to save her land, to protect her people. Am I not as good as Lorenz? Why not give"— began Gabriel viciously, but Yetive arose and, with gleaming eyes and flushing cheeks, interrupted him.

"Go! I will not hear you—not one word!"

He passed from the room without another word. Her court saw her standing straight and immovable, her white face transfigured.

CHAPTER XXIII.

THE VISITOR AT MIDNIGHT.

BELOW the castle and its distressed occupants, in a dark, damp little room, Grenfall Lorry lived a year in a day. On the night of the 18th, or, rather, near the break of dawn on the 19th, Captain Quinnox guided him from the dangerous streets of Edelweiss to the secret passage, and he was safe for the time being. The entrance to the passage was through a skillfully hidden opening in the wall that inclosed the park. A stone doorway so cleverly constructed that it defied detection led to a set of steps, which in turn took one to a long, narrow passage. This ended in a stairway fully a quarter of a mile from its beginning. Ascending this stairway one came to a secret panel through which, by pressing a spring, the interior of the castle was reached. The location of the panel was in one of the recesses in the wall of the chapel, near the altar. It was in this chapel that Yetive exchanged her male attire for a loose gown weeks before, and the servant who saw her come from the door at an unearthly hour in the morning believed she had gone there to seek surcease from the troubles which oppressed her.

Lorry was impatient to rush forth from his place of hiding and to end all suspense, but Quinnox demurred. He begged the eager American to remain in the passage until the night of the 19th, when, all things going well, he might be so fortunate as to reach the princess without being seen. It was the secret hope of the guilty captain that his charge could be induced by the princess to return to the monastery to avoid complications. He promised to inform her highness of his presence in the underground room and to arrange for a meeting. The miserable fellow could not find courage to confess his disobedience to his trusting mistress. Many times during the day she had seen him hovering near, approaching and then retreating, and had wondered not a little at his peculiar manner.

And so it was that Lorry chafed and writhed through a long day of suspense and agony. Quinnox had brought to the little room some candles, food and bedding, but he utilized only the former. The hours went by and no summons called him to her side. What was to become of him? What was to be the end of this drama? What would the night, the morrow, bring about?

It was 9 o'clock in the evening when Quinnox returned to the little room. The waiting one had looked at his watch a hundred times, had run insanely up and down the passage in quest of the secret exit, had shouted aloud in the frenzy of desperation.

"Have you seen her?" he cried, grasping the newcomer's hand.

"I have; but, before God, I could not tell her what I had done! Your visit will be a surprise, I fear a shock."

"Then how am I to see her? Fool! Am I to wait here forever"—

"Have patience! I will take you to her tonight—aye, within an hour. Tomorrow morning she signs away the northern provinces, and her instructions are that she is not to be disturbed tonight. Not even will she see the Countess Dagmar after 9 o'clock. It breaks my heart to see the sorrow that abounds in the castle tonight. Her highness insists on being alone, and Bassot, the new guard, has orders to admit no one to her apartments. He is ill, and I have promised that a substitute shall relieve him at 11 o'clock. You are to be the substitute. Here is a part of an old uniform of mine, and here is a coat that belonged to Dannox, who was about your size. Please exchange the clothes you now have on for these. I apprehend no trouble in reaching her door, for the household is in gloom and the halls seem barren of life."

He threw the bundle on a chair, and Lorry at once proceeded to don the contents. In a very short time he wore instead of the cellkeeper's garments a neat fitting uniform of the royal guard. He was trembling violently, chilled to the bone with nervousness, as they began the ascent of the stairs leading to the chapel. The crisis in his life, he felt, was near at hand.

WHAT MASSACHUSETTS CITY IS REPRESENTED?

Rheumatism
"THE PAIN KING."

Those who have ever felt its keen, cutting pains, or witnessed the intense suffering of others, know that Rheumatism is torture, and that it is rightly called "The King of Pain."

All do not suffer alike. Some are suddenly seized with the most excruciating pains, and it seems every muscle and joint in the body was being torn asunder. Others feel only occasional slight pains for weeks or months, when a sudden change in the weather or exposure to damp, chilly winds or night air brings on a fierce attack, lasting for days perhaps, and leaving the patient with a weakened constitution or crippled and deformed for all time.

An acid, polluted condition of the blood is the cause of every form and variety of Rheumatism, Muscular, Articular, Acute, Chronic, Inflammatory and Sciatic, and the blood must be purged and purified before there is an end to your aches and pains. External applications, the use of liniments and plasters, do much toward temporary relief, but such treatment does not reach the real cause or cleanse the diseased blood; but S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, does cure Rheumatism by antidoting and neutralizing the poisonous acids and building up the weak and sluggish blood. It is safe and reliable in all forms of Rheumatism. It makes the old acid blood rich, and the pain tortured muscles and joints are relieved, the shattered nerves are made strong, and the entire system is invigorated and toned up by the use of this great vegetable remedy.

INSURGENTS KILLED

MACEDONIAN SITUATION GRAVE

Salonica, Aug. 31.—The Bulgarian insurgents sustained a severe reverse at Smilovo Friday, 1,000 of them being killed. The insurgents to the number of 3,000 occupied a position on a height, which was stormed by six battalions of Turkish troops commanded by Servet Pasha. After losing 1,000 of their number the Bulgarians fled in the face of the heavy Turkish artillery fire. The Turkish losses were insignificant.

Macedonian Situation Very Grave.

Salonica, Aug. 31.—The situation in Macedonia is one of the utmost gravity. The insurgents are everywhere increasing in numbers and holding their own against the Ottoman soldiers. Anarchy reigns supreme, the vast Turkish army being completely out of control and eating up the country. In a few weeks famine must ensue, causing untold misery. Any outrage in the city of Salonica now would turn the Turks into soldiers and the populace into wild beasts. The country west of the river Varda, towards the vilayet of Monastir, is expected to rise daily.

Fear Indiscriminate Massacre.

London, Aug. 31.—The Times correspondent at Salonica gives an account of the ill-concealed terror prevailing in that city and the fears that some incident may precipitate an indiscriminate massacre. Commerce, he says, is paralyzed and a famine apprehended. The ambassadors and consuls recently appealed to their governments to send warships, but the desire to avoid the appearance of encouraging the insurgents is to be held of greater importance than precautionary measures for the protection of Europeans. Hence the vessels have not been sent.

Preparations for an approaching insurrection in Northern Macedonia are rapidly progressing, but the day of the outbreak has not yet been fixed.

Seek European Intervention.

Among the Turks themselves, continues the correspondent, a growing body professes to be ready to support European intervention to remedy the desperate condition of affairs and even talks of murdering the foreign consuls as a means to compel foreign intervention. There is no lack of sensational news from the interior, but all the reports are conflicting and confusing. There is much interest and anxiety regarding the fate of Klisura, which has long been besieged by the insurgents.

According to the latest report a large body of Turks sent to raise the seige has gained an important victory.

A report is current that Sept. 1, the anniversary of the sultan's accession, has been selected to begin the outbreak in the vilayet of Salonica.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, summer complaint of any sort if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the her stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry.

CHAPTER XXII.

GRENFALL LORRY'S FOE.

THE Princess Yetive had not flinched a hair's breadth from the resolution formed on that stormy night when she sacrificed pride and duty on the altar of love and justice. Prince Bolaroz's ultimatum overwhelmed her, but she arose from the wreckage that was strewn about her conscience and remained loyal, steadfast and true to the man in the monastery. To save his life was all she could hope to accomplish, and this she was bound to do at any cost. She could be nothing to him, not even friend. So long as he lived he would be considered the murderer of Lorenz, and until the end a price would hang over his head. She, Princess of Graustark, had offered a reward for him. For that reason he was always to be a fugitive, and she least of all could hope to see him. There had been a brief, happy dream, but it was swept away by the unrelenting rush of reality. The mere fact that she, and she alone, was responsible for his flight placed between them an unsurmountable barrier.

Clinging tenaciously to her purpose, she was still cognizant of the debt she owed the trusting, loving people of Graustark. One word from her could avert the calamity that was to fall with the dawn of the fatal 20th. All Graustark blindly trusted and adored her. To undeceive them would be to administer a shock from which they could never recover.

Her highness' manner was at all times frank and untroubled. She was apparently light hearted. Her cheeks had lost none of their freshness. Her eyes were bright. Her smile was quick and merry, her wit unclouded. Receptions, drawing rooms and state functions found her always vivacious, so much so that her court wondered not a little. Daily reports brought no news of the fugitive, but while others were beginning to acquire the haggard air of worry and uncertainty she was calmly resigned. The 15th, the 16th, the 17th, the 18th and now the 19th of November came and still the princess revealed no marked sign of distress.

Heavy hearted and with bowed heads the people of Graustark saw the 19th fade in the night, the breaking of which would bring the crush of pride, the end of power. At court there was the silent dread and the dying hope that relief might come at the last hour. Men with pale faces and tearful eyes wandered through the ancient castle, speechless, nerveless, miserable. Brave soldiers crept about, shorn of pride and filled with woe. Citizens sat and stared aimlessly for hours, thinking of naught but the disaster so near at hand and so unavoidable. The whole nation surged as if in the last throes of death. Tomorrow the potency of Graustark was to die, its domain was to be cleft in twain, disgraced before the world.

And on the throne of this afflicted land sat the girl Yetive, proud, tender, courageous. Tomorrow would see the north torn from the south, the division of families, the rending of homes, the bursting of hearts. She sanctioned all this because she loved Lorry and because he had done no wrong.

Aware of her financial troubles and pursuing the advantage that his rival's death had opened to him, Prince Gabriel of Dawsbergen renewed his ardent suit. Scarce had the body of the murdered prince left the domain before he made his presence marked. Knowing that he was in truth the mysterious Michael who had planned her abduction, she feared and despised him, yet dared make no public denunciation. As Dawsbergen was too powerful to be antagonized at this critical time, she was constantly forced to submit to the most trying and repulsive of ordeals. Tact and policy were required to control the violent, hot blooded young ruler from the south. Day after day he haunted the castle, persistent in his efforts to induce her to accept his proposition. So fierce was his passion, so implacable his desire, that he went among the people of Edelweiss, presenting to them his proposal, hoping thereby to add public feeling to his claims. He tried to organize a committee of citizens to go before the princess with the petition that his offer be accepted and the country saved. But Graustark was loyal to its princess. Not one of her citizens listened to the wily prince, and more than one told him or his emissaries that the loss of the whole kingdom was preferable to the marriage he desired. The city sickened at the thought.

His last and master stroke in the struggle to persuade came on the afternoon of the 19th, at an hour when all Edelweiss was in gloom and when the princess was taxed to the point where the mask of courage was so frail that she could scarce hide her bleeding soul behind it.

Bolaroz of Axphain, to quote from the news dispatch, was in Edelweiss, a guest, with a few of his lords, in the castle. North of the city were encamped 5,000 men. He had come prepared to cancel the little obligation of fifteen years' standing. With the hated creditor in the castle, his influence hovering above the town, the populace distracted by the thoughts of the day to come, Gabriel played what he considered his best card. He asked for and obtained a final interview with Yetive, not in her boudoir or her reception room, but in the throneroom, where she was to meet Bolaroz in the morning.

The princess, seated on her throne, awaited the approach of the resourceful, tenacious suitor. He came, and behind him strode eight stalwart men bearing a long iron bound chest, the result of his effort with his bankers. Yetive and her nobles looked in surprise on this unusual performance. Dropping to his knee before the throne, Gabriel said, his voice trembling slightly with eagerness and fear:

"Your highness, tomorrow will see the turning point in the history of two, possibly three, nations—Graustark, Axphain and Dawsbergen. I have included my own land because its ruler is most vitally interested. He would serve and save Graustark, as you know, and he would satisfy Axphain. It is in my power to give you aid at this last, trying hour, and I implore you to listen to my words of sincerest friendship—yes, adoration. Tomorrow you are to pay to Prince Bolaroz over 25,000,000 gavvos or relinquish the entire north half of your domain. I understand the lamentable situation. You can raise no more than 15,000,000, and you are helpless. He will grant no extension of time. You know what I have proffered before. I come today to repeat my friendly offer and to give unquestioned bond as to my ability to carry it out. If you agree to accept the loan I extend—10,000,000 gavvos for fifteen years at the usual rate of interest—you can on tomorrow morning place in the hand of Axphain when he makes his formal demand the full amount of your indebtedness in gold. Ricardo, open the chest!"

An attendant threw open the lid of the chest. It was filled with gold coins.

"This box contains 100,000 gavvos. There are in your halls nine boxes holding nine times as much as you see here, and there are nine times as much all told on the way. This is an evidence of my good faith. Here is the gold. Pay Bolaroz and owe Gabriel, the greatest happiness that could come to him."

There was a dead silence after this theatrical action.

"The interest on this loan is not all you ask, I understand," said Halfont slowly, his black eyes glittering. "You ask something that Graustark cannot and will not barter—the hand of its sovereign. If you are willing to make this loan, naming a fair rate of interest, withdrawing your proposal of marriage, we can come to an agreement."

"I have the happiness of your sovereign at heart as much as my own," he said. "She shall never want for devotion; she shall never know a pain."

"You are determined, then, to adhere to your original proposition?" demanded the count.

"She would have married Lorenz to save her land, to protect her people. Am I not as good as Lorenz? Why not give"— began Gabriel viciously, but Yetive arose and, with gleaming eyes and flushing cheeks, interrupted him.

"Go! I will not hear you—not one word!"

CHAPTER XXIII.

THE VISITOR AT MIDNIGHT.

BELOW the castle and its distressed occupants, in a dark, damp little room, Grenfall Lorry lived a year in a day. On the night of the 18th, or, rather, near the break of dawn on the 19th, Captain Quinnox guided him from the dangerous streets of Edelweiss to the secret passage, and he was safe for the time being. The entrance to the passage was through a skillfully hidden opening in the wall that inclosed the park. A stone doorway so cleverly construct-

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Rheumatism

Those who have ever felt its keen, cutting pains, or witnessed the intense suffering of others, know that Rheumatism is torture, and that it is rightly called "The King of Pain."

All do not suffer alike. Some are suddenly seized with the most excruciating pains, and it seems every muscle and joint in the body was being torn asunder. Others feel only occasional slight pains for weeks or months, when a sudden change in the weather or exposure to damp, chilly winds or night air brings on a fierce attack, lasting for days perhaps, and leaving the patient with a weakened constitution or crippled and deformed for all time.

An acid, polluted condition of the blood is the cause of every form and variety of Rheumatism, Muscular, Articular, Acute, Chronic, Inflammatory and Sciatic, and the blood must be purged and purified before there is an end to your aches and pains. External applications, the use of liniments and plasters, do much toward temporary relief, but such treatment does not reach the real cause or cleanse the diseased blood; but S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, does cure Rheumatism by antidoting and neutralizing the poisonous acids and building up the weak and sluggish blood. It is safe and reliable in all forms of Rheumatism. It makes the old acid blood rich, and the pain-tortured muscles and joints are relieved, the shattered nerves are made strong, and the entire system is invigorated and toned up by the use of this great vegetable remedy.

INSURGENTS KILLED

MACEDONIAN SITUATION GRAVE

Salonica, Aug. 31.—The Bulgarian insurgents sustained a severe revers at Smilovo Friday, 1,000 of them being killed. The insurgents to the number of 3,000 occupied a position on a height, which was stormed by six battalions of Turkish troops commanded by Servet Pasha. After losing 1,000 of their number the Bulgarians fled in the face of the heavy Turkish artillery fire. The Turkish losses were insignificant.

Macedonian Situation Very Grave.

Salonica, Aug. 31.—The situation in Macedonia is one of the utmost gravity. The insurgents are everywhere increasing in numbers and holding their own against the Ottoman soldiers. Anarchy reigns supreme, the vast Turkish army being completely out of control and eating up the country. In a few weeks famine must ensue, causing untold misery. Any outrage in the city of Salonica now would turn the Turks into soldiers and the populace into wild beasts. The country west of the river Varda, towards the vilayet of Monastir, is expected to rise daily.

Fear Indiscriminate Massacre.

London, Aug. 31.—The Times correspondent at Salonica gives an account of the ill-concealed terror prevailing in that city and the fears that some incident may precipitate an indiscriminate massacre. Commerce, he says, is paralyzed and a famine apprehended. The ambassadors and consuls recently appealed to their governments to send warships, but the desire to avoid the appearance of encouraging the insurgents is to be held of greater importance than precautionary measures for the protection of Europeans. Hence the vessels have not been sent.

Preparations for an approaching insurrection in Northern Macedonia are rapidly progressing, but the day of the outbreak has not yet been fixed.

Seek European Intervention.

Among the Turks themselves, continues the correspondent, a growing body professes to be ready to support European intervention to remedy the desperate condition of affairs and even talks of murdering the foreign consuls as a means to compel foreign intervention. There is no lack of sensational news from the interior, but all the reports are conflicting and confusing. There is much interest and anxiety regarding the fate of Kilisura, which has long been besieged by the insurgents.

According to the latest report a large body of Turks sent to raise the seige has gained an important victory.

A report is current that Sept. 1, the anniversary of the sultan's accession, has been selected to begin the outbreak in the vilayet of Salonica.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, summer complaint of any sort if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—A 13-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dickey, of Lincoln avenue, this morning.

Enlarging the Parsonage — A new wing is being added to the Lutheran parsonage, an extension much needed by the pastor and his family.

Going Into Business—James L. Ridgeway, warehouseman at Lewis Bros.' furniture store, has resigned his position to enter the grocery business. He has purchased the Strouss establishment on the Calcutta road.

Preparing for Labor Day—Local union No. 292, made up of grocery and butcher clerks, is making elaborate preparations for Labor day. A meeting has been called for tomorrow when it is proposed to put the finishing touches to the arrangements. The organization is one of the most prosperous in the city.

Presbyterial Convention—The Woman's Presbyterial convention of the Steubenville presbytery will be held next week at Salineville on September 9 and 10. A number of the missionary ladies of the United Presbyterian church in this city will attend. An excellent program will be prepared and interesting subjects will be discussed.

Early Reorganization—The Twentieth Century Literary club of this city has not yet organized for the coming year. The club will probably resume its literary work some time during October, but the program for the year's work had not been made out. The club is one of the excellent literary societies of the city and last year had a most successful record. The members will renew their work for the winter with still greater interest.

Escaped Uninjured—Dr. C. B. Ogden, health officer of the city, had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning on Sixth street, just off the Diamond. Dr. Ogden was driving in toward the curb at the office of the Union Building and Loan company, when a wagon coming from the other direction caught the wheel of his vehicle and upset it. Dr. Ogden was thrown out and the buggy fell over him, but he escaped without a scratch.

CHARGED WITH USING THREATENING LANGUAGE

W. C. Smith, a prominent citizen of the East End, who has been one of the alleged participants in a recent sensation, was cited to appear at the mayor's office this afternoon to answer the serious charge of using threatening language to a woman. The warrant was issued upon the complaint of Ed. Davis, a highly respected citizen of the East End. That that scandal brought about the present trouble is the opinion of those who claim to be familiar with the affair.

It has been openly asserted that Smith has been paying marked attention to an East End married woman. A short time ago the husband of the woman left the city. Upon several occasions when news of the gossip reached him, Smith has shown a disposition to fight and when he heard of threats, it is claimed that he purcased a revolver and a stock of ammunition. To add to his troubles, news of the affair reached his wife, who is said to be in a delicate condition of health.

The present trouble is said to have been caused by the friendship between Smith's wife and Mrs. Davis. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Davis were to go down town together to do some shopping and Smith, hearing of it, is said to have been in a rage. He threatened violence upon his wife, it is claimed, and used insulting language to Mrs. Davis.

AN INSANE MAN ARRESTED AT HOME

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—William Watson, who was sent from Lisbon to the Massillon asylum last winter and escaped from the institution and returned home some time ago, was taken into custody again last night by Sheriff Leonard, and is now in the county jail.

Watson and his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Watson, have been living alone a number of years, and while the son has never been particularly violent, he is whimsical and subject to peculiar notions. Last night after 8 o'clock he sat down to eat and remained at the table until midnight, his mother meantime having gone to bed. Shortly after midnight he entered her room, picked up a silk waist and said he had decided to burn some of her old clothes as she never wore them.

Mrs. Watson succeeded in arousing a neighbor, who summoned the sheriff.

By a Salem Widow Who Wants Her Share of Husband's Estate.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—Mrs. Rebecca Bossert, of Salem, who has been contesting in probate court an alleged misinterpretation of the will of her late husband, Jeremiah Bossert, through Attorneys Potts & Wells, of Lisbon, has filed suit in common pleas court, asking that she be allowed a dower interest in a vein of coal and mines on the premises of her late husband.

The defendant is the Peerless Coal Mining company, of Cleveland, which, it is alleged, purchased of the late Mr. Bossert in August, 1902, the coal underlying 402.80 acres in Salem township. Mrs. Bossert says the coal is now being mined at the rate of 4,000 tons a month and asks that her dower interest, according to the provisions of the sale, be assigned to her.

AN APPEALED CASE

Answer and Cross Petition Filed in a Suit Involving $200 Worth of Stone.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—The case of George R. Moore against J. A. Smith has been appealed to common pleas court from the court of Justice J. M. Dickinson, in Lisbon, in which the plaintiff got judgment for $83.40 and costs.

The plaintiff sued for $263.40 on the allegation that the defendant had appropriated 100 perch of stone and sold it for $200; that he used derricks, drills, etc., the use of which is reasonably worth $50, and that Smith had purchased from him $13.40 worth of stone which he has refused to pay for. Interest is asked from June 20. Attorney Charles S. Speaker, for the defendant, has filed an answer and cross-petition, denying the allegations of the plaintiff and setting up a counter claim for $30, in which he alleges that Moore took from the quarry a blasting machine belonging to the defendant, valued at that amount.

MINING CLAY AND COAL

A Lisbon Mine Will Be Equipped With Clay Crushing Machinery.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—The Klondike coal mine of Card & Prosser closed Saturday for three weeks to give time to put in a big new clay plant. It will have an automatic speed and will grind and load the clay on cars ready for shipment.

When the mine was opened a few years ago it was found that an excellent vein of fire clay lay next to the coal and the mining of it, togetner with the coal, has developed into an important industry.

TWO KILLED BY HOLD-UP MEN

Robbers Remove All Opposition Before Breaking Into Cashier's Office—Secure $3,000.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Without a word of warning two men were killed and two others wounded by hold-up men at the barns of the Chicago City Railway company, Sixty-first and State streets. The shooting was done by three men, who escaped after securing $3,000.

The injured: William B. Edmond, receiving clerk, will recover; Henry Biehl, will recover.

The robbers took no chances, but disposed of all the opposition of the employes before they entered the office. Choosing the time when the employes were busily engaged in balancing up the receipts of the night, just after the last conductor had turned in his money and left the barns, the robbers suddenly appeared at the receiving window and began shooting. The first bullet fired struck Stewart and he fell to the floor without a word. Biehl and Edmond, who were sitting near Stewart, turned to see what was the matter, but before they could leave their chairs they were rendered helpless by the well-directed bullets of the robbers. Johnson, the motorman, who was asleep on a bench in the outer office, hearing the noise, started up to go to the assistance of his companions, but was shot and killed before he could get on his feet. The robbers then broke open the door of the cashier's office with a sledge hammer and secured $3,000 in bills, which was lying on the desk. They then made their escape. Four men were arrested three hours after the robbery on suspicion of being implicated in the crime, but they have not as yet been identified.

Found Dead With Skull Crushed.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 31.—Joseph Uncather, aged 20, was found dead on a pile of ties near his front door with his skull crushed. He was the son of Charles Uncather. Saturday night young Uncather and Harry Grace, whose attentions to Myrtle Uncather, a sister of Joseph, had been ordered stopped by her father, met the father and mother. A quarrel followed and Grace threw a stone, striking Charles Uncather, who swore out a warrant for Grace's arrest. Mr. and Mrs. Uncather left the two young men together. Later, after Grace had been arrested, they returned home and saw young Uncather lying on the ties. They heard him breathing loudly, but did not disturb him. Sunday morning they found him lying in the same position, dead. No arrests have been made.

Awful Ending of Debauch.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 31.—After a two weeks' debauch Reese Jones, a 45-year-old Oliphant miner, went home, told his wife he had sold himself to the devil and bargained to take her with him to hell, and then shot her in the shoulder, after which he went upstairs and killed himself by sending two bullets into his abdomen. His young son saved the mother's life by knocking the revolver upward and diverting the bullet.

AN INJUNCTION SUIT AGAINST GAS COMPANY

The prompt action of the city council, at a special meeting held Saturday night, leaves no doubt in the minds of the people that the members mean business and will do everything in their power to prevent the gas corporation from increasing the rate to private consumers.

As was stated Saturday evening Auditor Davidson received no reply from the gas people in answer to a communication addressed to them early in the week asking for a conference. It had been the desire of the citizens' committee and the council that the gas company make some definite statement in regard to its reasons for proposing an increase in the gas rate to take effect in August. None being forthcoming, and believing that the corporation proposed to ignore the wishes of the consumers as well as the council, President Horwell called a meeting of the citizens' committee and the council. All of the members of council were present, together with several citizens who have been interested in the movement to resist the increase, and no time was wasted in preliminaries.

Auditor Davidson reported he had received no official reply to his request for a conference, but that a representative of the gas corporation had visited his office in the evening, after it had been demonstrated that council would take some action and pleaded for more time in which to answer. He was not in a position to extend the time, and members of the council thought the time given was quite long enough. Member Croxall, of the Fourth ward, made a motion to the effect that the city solicitor be instructed to procure an injunction from the court to restrain the gas corporation from inaugurating and enforcing the new rate and also to prevent it from removing the supply from the streets of East Liverpool. The motion carried promptly.

On Tuesday night, June 23, the city council, acting upon the advice of Solicitor Davidson, passed an ordinance regulating the price of natural gas. Their authority for the action was found in a section of the state law, which says:

"Section 2478 (Regulating price of electric light, artificial and natural gas). The council of any city or village

Rights of Way Between the Two Towns Practically All Secured.

Toronto, August 31.—Toronto, Empire and Wellsville will, in all probability, be united by a traction line next season, as the work of obtaining the right of way between the towns of Empire and Wellsville has been practically all completed, except from two land owners. B. D. Beacom, the general manager of the United States Telephone company, has been doing this work for the projectors, and on Friday night was in consultation with the city fathers at Empire relative to a franchise through that village.

As soon as that is obtained, it is stated by Mr. Beacom, that the matter of connecting with the Toronto line, now being extended to Elliottsville, half way between Toronto and Empire, will be taken up.

LIVELY EVENING IN THE HOLLOW

Chief Wyman, accompanied by Officers Aufderheide, Mahoney, Dunn, Dawson and Bryan, made things lively in Jethro Hollow Saturday night. According to pre-arrangement they all assembled at a certain point in the West End at about 12:30 o'clock ready for a pull of disorderly houses. If there were any that escaped detection no one in that section of the city knows of its location. The proprietors, inmates and visitors of three houses were arrested and those who did not furnish security for their appearance today were hauled to central station and locked up.

With the stealth of Nick Carter and his famous gang of sleuths the chief and officers approached the houses, hiding themselves under the darkness of the trees and in neither case did the people of the houses have the least premonition of their fate. The hour had passed when hauls are generally made and they were enjoying themselves to the limit when the officers knocked for admittance. Thinking in each case that the sounds on the doors were produced by victims wanting a night's lodging the officers were allowed access to the houses without the usual window and door smashing.

Though all of the houses were going in full blast the house rented by Newton Croxall, an ex-convict, was the scene of the most disorder. It was there that Chief Wyman came near getting a disfigured physiognomy. The chief applied for admission and when it was given him the inmates, discovering who he was, pitched into him and the rest of the officers in great shape. The girls and male visitors at the house were not so bad, but the alleged proprietor and a friend of his who was in a room asleep at the time of the entrance woke up in a bad humor and refused stubbornly to depart. They finally gave in, however, and the patrol wagon was summoned. While the wagon was enroute to the hollow Croxall says he did not like the idea of riding in the wagon in a sober frame of mind and that he drank a pint of whisky and a bottle of ale. The amount he guzzled had the effect he desired. It was not long until it began cropping out all over him and when an argument was started with the chief he very indiscreetly took a punch at the officer. The chief says that Croxall did land a blow on his mouth. The blow was more than the chief could take and he retaliated by knocking Croxall to the floor. One of the girls then showed fight and she and Officer Dunn had a fistic act.

The arrival of the patrol wagon was hailed with delight and Croxall and a couple of the girls were hustled off to the city jail. Croxall had about $180 on his clothes, but would not give any of it for security. As a result he and the two girls spent the night in a cell. Yesterday morning they were very anxious to get out, however, and Newton produced the money. While they were making up their minds to hand over the money the girls, two of the lowest females ever arrested in this city, made the air blue in the vicinity of the city hall with oaths. They acted so disgracefully that the women in that section of the city had to leave to

The Exhibition Said to Be Much Superior to That of Former Years.

NOTED MEN IN POLITICS

Will Speak on Wednesday and Thursday, Designated Respectively As Republican and Democratic Days. Aggressive Prohibition Campaign.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 31.—Ohio's mammoth industrial exposition holds the boards at the state capital this week. The fair opened this morning and closes Saturday. It is bigger and better than ever and worth seeing. This being centennial year, the state board of agriculture, which has charge of the fair, has striven to make it an epoch in the history of the state's industrial expositions. Two new features will be in evidence—Republican and Democratic days. Democratic day will be Wednesday, when Governor Nash will preside. The speakers will be William Jennings Bryan, Hon. John H. Clarke, Tom L. Johnson and Frank P. Niles, of Toledo, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor. A Democrat will preside on Republican day, which will be Thursday—Hon. Lawrence T. Neal, of Chillicothe. Secretary Shaw will be present as President Roosevelt's representative, and other speakers will be Senator Hanna, Col. Myron T. Herrick and Hon. W. G. Harding, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor. Both meetings are to be non-partisan, but it is to be expected that some politics will be injected into each. The advance guard of the big influx of visitors arrived today and the attendance at the fair will likely break all records.

Rev. N. D. Creamer, of Columbus, Prohibition candidate for governor, is conducting an aggressive campaign and expects to speak in a majority of the counties before election time. He began his itinerary on August 7 and has already been in 20 counties. He will be in the Eighteenth district the fore part of October. On October 1 he will be in Stark, October 2 Carroll, October 3 Columbiana, October 5 Mahoning and October 6 Trumbull. Columbiana and Stark counties are the Prohibition strongholds of the state. Despite the fact that the party has made little advancement, it shows no signs of discouragement and each year finds it fighting manfully for the principles on which it was founded.

The Ohio Rifle team, in command of Assistant Adjutant General Edward T Miller, has left for Sea Girt, N. J., to compete in the national contest for the Hilton trophy. On the team is Corporal Charles B. Winders, of Company G, Sixth regiment, the crack shot of the world, who was a member of the United States team which won the international shoot at Henley, England, several weeks ago. The Hilton trophy is valued at $2,000 and at present is held by New York. Each year shows a big improvement in the markmanship of the Ohio Guardsmen and has given rise to the hope that this state will carry off the prize before a great while.

Thomas McGee, a former East Liverpool potter, came over to Columbus from Crooksville Sunday, to call on friends and visit the institutions which make the city interesting. It was his first trip to the city. He is employed in the Crooksville pottery, which he reports is busy. He says that the people of that community are hospitable, progressive and deeply interested in their two white ware potteries, one of which is now building.

Harry McArter, of Lisbon, has arrived to spend a week with his brother, J. S. McArter, of 209 West Eleventh avenue.

Near Death from Paralysis.

Two Killed By a Wire

Beaver, Pa., August 31.—Owen Bowen, aged 16, and George Adams, colored, aged 30, were killed by a live electric light wire yesterday afternoon on the property of John Daley on Beaver terrace.

New Garden Boy Shot in the Breast While Handling a Rifle.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—George Woolf, the 16-year-old son of C. L. Woolf, of New Garden, was wounded in the breast Saturday by a 22-calibre bullet from a target rifle.

Young Woolf had cornered some game in a hole under the roots of a tree, and in stirring about with the gun barrel, got the muzzle plugged up. He was not aware of this until he pulled the trigger and the bullet came out at the breach, penetrating the breast and plowing upward into the shoulder. At last accounts the bullet had not been located.

A BOLD ROBBERY RECALLED

When Newton Croxall, who was arrested on a charge of running a disorderly house in Jethro Hollow, was searched before confinement in a cell at central station Saturday night, Chief Wyman, together with money and other valuables, got possession of a lady's gold watch and chain. Usually such a find would not create any suspicion on the part of the chief, it not being uncommon for a man to have a lady's watch in his possession. But in this case the chief at once brought to mind a little escapade in which Croxall and a watch were strong features.

The chief remembered that Croxall and a young man by the name of Rambo had been sent to the Ohio penitentiary about three years ago, after being convicted of highway robbery. They stopped two well known young ladies of the city, sisters by the name of Schaffer, while they were en route to their home one dark night in a buggy, and after frightening them all but to death, robbed them of some money, other minor things and a gold watch. When the two men were arrested and convicted the stolen articles were not produced, and so far as the girls were concerned, were never given a thought after the trial. Chief Wyman knew all about the case that sent the two fellows over the road, both to serve five year sentences, and it is not strange that he was reminded of the affair upon seeing a lady's watch in the possession of Croxall, who got a pardon some time ago.

Feeling positive that he was not mistaken the chief sent the Schaffer sisters word to appear at the city hall this morning. They did so and immediately recognized the watch. One of the girls positively identified it by remembering initials that are inscribed on the outside of the case and that the watch was minus a rim, which she has laid away at home.

Miss Schaffer, after making the identification complete, was advised to seek a justice of the peace and commence proceedings to get possession of the watch. She secured the aid of 'Squire Rose and the proper proceedings were at once instituted.

NO SALE OF BONDS WAS EFFECTED

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—The county commissioners were notified Saturday afternoon that the $20,000 worth of bonds for road improvements, offered for sale by the St. Clair township trustees Friday, were not disposed of.

The most favorable bid received offered to take them at a premium of $400. An additional bid will be considered tomorrow.

River Rapidly Falling.

There is so little prospect of the boating stage in the river being maintained until the end of the week that the packets will not attempt to resume operations. The river has fallen four feet since yesterday and continues to recede today. By the end of the week it is expected that there will be less water than bfore the rains.

CROSSING THE TRACK TWO MEN MET DEATH

ANOTHER TRAIN PASSING CONFUSED THEM

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—Two more lives were blotted out in a twinkling at Leetonia Saturday when Newton Fife and Michael Schlosser, both residents of that village, were struck and instantly killed by a Ft. Wayne flyer.

The accident occurred at 9 o'clock at the Columbia street crossing, near the station. The men had started over to the station from the Valley hotel, a few rods south of the Ft. Wayne tracks. At the crossing they had to wait until an eastbound freight train on the track next to them passed, and as the caboose cleared the crossing they stepped over the south track and onto the north track just in front of the flyer, which they had neither seen nor heard.

The flyer was rushing along at a terrific speed and the men were hurled a considerable distance, the skull of each was crushed and nearly every bone in their bodies were broken.

Coroner Jones was notified, but as it was a clear case of accidental death, the matter of an inquest was left to local authorities. The bodies were removed to Crowl's undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial.

Newton Fife was born at West Point and was 45 years old. He is survived by a wife, a married daughter and several small children. His mother, Mrs. Martha Fife, of Lisbon, also survives him, in addition to four brothers and three sisters: John H., of New York; William, of St. Mary's, W. Va.; George, of Youngstown, and James, of Leetonia, and Mrs. P. A. Walters, Mrs. George R. Moore and Miss Margaret, all of Lisbon. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock at the late home of the deceased, with burial at the Mennonite cemetery, a mile east of Leetonia.

Fife was in the employ of the Buckeye Engine company, of Salem, on some special work the company is doing in Leetonia.

Schlosser, who was a native of Austria, was 35 years old and unmarried. He had no near relatives in this country. Funeral services were held from the undertaking rooms in Leetonia at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with burial at Oakdale cemetery. Schlosser was employed at the Cherry Valley furnace.

A MYSTERIOUS ROBBERY REPORTED

A mysterious robbery occurred at the home of Harvey Barnhart, of Second street, near Washington, some time during last night, and as a result Mr. Barnhart is the loser by $50 in currency and a valuable revolver. The money was stolen from Mr. Barnhart's trousers and the revolver from the mantel of his sleeping room, on the second floor of the building. The theft was committed while Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart and the children were sleeping.

When seen this afternoon Mrs. Barnhart stated that her husband and herself are at a loss to account for the burglary. It is apparent that the burglar was either possessed of an unusual amount of daring or was intimately acquainted with the interior of the premises. The entrance was effected through a rear door and to reach the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart the burglar had to pass through the dining room and ascend a dark pair of stairs. The revolver was first taken from the mantle and the burglar then delved into the trousers, securing the pocketbook containing the money.

During the time the theft was being committed, Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart slept soundly and the theft was not discovered until this morning. An investigation of the premises was made after the discovery, but no trace of the burglar could be found. The matter has been reported to the police.

NEW HOSPITAL CORNER STONE WILL BE LAID TOMORROW

The cornerstone of the new hospital will be laid tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. No program has been arranged, and owing to circumstances the operation will be attended by no ceremony whatever.

The building committee had hoped to be well along with the work in hand by this time, but have been hindered by first one thing then another until it was only within the past few weeks that building operations have been in progress. On this account and the fact that it would require time to prepare and carry out the usual program, the ceremony will be absolutely informal. The members of the building committee have decided upon the articles which the packet will contain, and they will be placed in a box and deposited without ceremony.

The packet will consist of the city newspapers and other articles which it is customary to place in the stone. A list of the members of the association together with the officers will also be placed within. It is probable the ceremony will be witnessed by a large number of interested ones.

The building committee has determined that nothing shall interfere with the building operations now that they have been started, and aside from the actual time that must be consumed in setting the stone the bricklayers will not be interrupted. Good progress is being made by the workmen now employed at the building, and it is announced by the contractors that the task will be completed in plenty of time to have the institution formally opened to the public before cold weather sets in.

RELIANCE AGAIN LEADS IN THE YACHT RACE TODAY

Sandy Hook, August 31.—(Special.)—With the wind blowing at the rate of 10 knots an hour and the seas rolling in heavy swells, the Reliance and the Shamrock crossed the starting line at 11:45:20 and 11:45:24, respectively. The start gained by the superior craftsmen on the Reliance gave the defender a lead that could not be overcome by the Shamrock and the American boat steadily gained. When they were half way to the outer mark the Reliance was at least a quarter of a mile ahead.

TRIED TO LET A TRAIN KILL HER

A West End Woman Songht to End Her Days But Her Husband Came to Her Rescue.

Rather than take part any longer in a war of words with her husband, the like of which, it is said, have been very common since her marriage, Mrs. Fletcher Massey, of the West End, made a desperate attempt to end her life this afternoon by jumping in front of the pony engine, which was going at a fast rate of speed up the Horn switch. She was saved from the horrible death by her husband, who grabbed her when the engine was not more than six feet away.

Massey and his wife are said to have had trouble ever since their marriage several years ago, and at one time the husband deserted her for quite a long period. They were out together today, and in their wanderings got up in the central portion of the city. Shortly after 1 o'clock they concluded to return home and going over to the Horn switch started on the journey. While walking down the track they became engaged in an argument and Massey's epithets finally became so harsh that Mrs. Massey concluded death preferable to a life with such a person as a helpmeet. She warned him to cease in his tirade time and again, but he heeded nothing, she said, and when she saw the approach of the pony engine she determined without saying a word to end it all.

That she did not accomplish the desperate act was due to her being overzealous. The husband saw her make the first step toward the track, but thought nothing until she leaped far down the track. He knew then the end she was attempting to accomplish and he jumped with one bound to her side. Grabbing her by the arms he gave one strenuous pull and succeeded in freeing her from certain death by his quick action.

The trainmen saw the act, but were unable to stop the engine and would undoubtedly have run over the distracted woman. After her rescue the husband commenced again on a tirade and tried to get her to explain. She simply said that death would be better than a life with him.

One of the important questions settled at the special meeting of council held Saturday evening was the disposal of the $92,925 worth of bonds. As announced in the News Review, the question was taken up with the intention of getting rid of the bonds at some figure and the councilmen were not long in accepting what they thought to be the best offer.

The proposition made by Attorney George Gaston, of Cleveland, wherein he agreed to secure a buyer if the city would give him $175 brokerage, was turned down after the city auditor informed the body that he had received a telegram from J. R. Williams & Co., of Pittsburg, stating that they would buy the bonds and give a premium of $200 for them. That was the largest premium yet offered and council took advantage of the offer.

The company made it plain in the proposition, however, that the bonds would not be taken unless they could be furnished by Wednesday of this week. The councilmen went to the lowest bidder and found that they could not do the work by that time. Consequently the work was given to another party.

By so disposing of the bonds the city clerk and treasurer will have the money in a very short time and some of the obligations that have been drawing interest at the rate of seven per cent will soon be wiped away. That will afford a source of much general satisfaction over the city. The business men will be especially benefited as stated previously in the News Review. Since the city has been owing local banks $5,000 or more it has been impossible for the business men to get money, they being compelled to go to Pittsburg after it. They will now be able to get what money they need.

Contractor Ryan and numerous others will also benefit by the sale.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

IMMENSE CONTRACT.

One of the largest contracts ever placed with a western pottery was recently secured by the Weir Pottery company, of Monmouth, Ill. It was made with the Sleepy Eye Milling company, of Sleepy Eye, Minn., and the first run on the ware is now being made. On August 1 the first shipment to the Minnesota company was made, and the goods are now being turned out as rapidly as possible.

Little idea of the extent of the order can be obtained until figures are given. The contract calls for 500,000 pieces of Flemish ware, and also gives the milling concern option on 500,000 more. They advise the Weir people that they will probably take advantage of the option they hold, so that when the contract is finished it is probable that one concern will have purchased an even million pieces of the Monmouth ware. The first order of 500,000 pieces will weigh 1,750,000 pounds and to transport it 73 cars will be used.

The order from the Sleepy Eye people speaks much for the ware that is being turned out by the Weir company. This company has already become famous as the manufacturers of the Weir fruit jar, but several other different kinds of ware are now being made at its plant. The order from the famous Minnesota flouring company is for Flemish ware, an entirely new product for the Monmouth company.

KOKOMO'S NEW PLANT.

Edward Cook has returned from Kokomo, Ind., where he has been engaged for two months in constructing the buildings for the Columbia Sanitary Pottery company. Mr. Cook also superintended the repairs of the kilns for the Crown Pottery company plant. New crowns and mouths were placed in the kilns. The Columbia pottery will be ready for operation in two weeks. Clay is already being made. The main building is 640x60 feet and two stories in height. The kiln department is 90x84 feet. All the buildings are of brick. The capacity of the new pottery is five kilns, which can be increased as desired.

NEW BOHEMIA WARE.

An entirely new china has been introduced into London under the name of Eosen Aurora. It comes from Bohemia and has been awarded medals at several exhibitions. Its chief characteristic is the exquisite luster which is produced on the surface, giving it a metallic appearance. The prevailing colors of the work are deep purple, crimson and orange, with a dull bronze sheen. The designs are mostly l'Art Nouveau style, simple motives obtained by lines and curves on vases of novel and artistic shape, scarcely any two pieces being exactly alike.

THE WEATHER.

A GOOD SELECTION.

Charles Pelly, who has been selected as the art director of the new Carrollton plant, was a visitor to that town last week and spent several days looking over the new plant. Mr. Pelly will remove his family to Carrollton as soon as the plant is ready for operation. The selection of Mr. Pelly as the manager of the decorating department was a good stroke upon the part of the firm and in him it has a first-class man. Mr. Pelly has been connected with the American Ceramic Art company and has also been employed as a decorator at the Sevres.

PAINFUL INJURY.

CLAY MANUFACTURERS

JIGGERMEN IDLE TODAY.

CARROLLTON NOTES.

The third kiln was dried out yesterday.

The sixth kiln of saggers was fired yesterday. There are now about 4,000 saggers on hand.

The dripping house, biscuit ware room and green room have been put in readiness for occupancy.

Charles Terry, who has been working in the sagger department for the past three weeks, has returned to East Liverpool.

The pottery company have secured the services of four salesmen who will go out just as soon as the samples can be prepared.

The management is being greatly handicapped through the failure of the machinery to arrive. It has been expected for over a week.

The moulds have been removed from the mould shop to their respective places in the pressing and jigger departments, which is in the second story.

Will Hackney, the mould maker, states that he now has a sufficient number of moulds on hand for the pottery to commence work. Mr. Fletcher, the sagger man, says he is also ready with the saggers.

The employes of the pottery living at a distance have been notified to report for work next Monday morning, when the pottery will be put in operation. At least a dozen men are here now awaiting the starting of the concern.

Will Leigh, of Lisbon, has rented the Fawcett house, and he and his mother will move here in the course of a few weeks. Their goods are now stored in the room formerly occupied by the pottery officials. Mr. Leigh is a jiggerman.

H. W. Saunders, of Hanley, England, has come here from Trenton, N. J. He is the modeler for the pottery and is putting out some beautiful specimens which are in keeping with the national reputation he has for doing first-class work. One of them is a brush and comb tray, and another a fruit dish. Mr. Saunders is testing some of the red clay found between here and Scroggsfield. He is a graduate in chemistry and an adept modeler.

—NIAGARA FALLS.—

The P. & L. E. R. R. will run the last special low rate excursion to Niagara Falls on Saturday, September 12.

Tickets will be sold for trains leaving Beaver at 9:07 a. m. and 11:15 p. m., central time, at rate of $4.25 round trip, valid for return five days including date of sale. Through coaches and sleepers on train leaving Pittsburg at 10:30 p. m.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

The Young Men's Christian Association chartered the big hotel at Silver Bay, Lake George, for the month of August and filled this resort, together with some of the neighboring cottages, with its members and their families. During the first 10 days an institute with meetings in the morning and evening was held. The addresses were given by men who are leaders in Christian thought and activity. Bible study and studies of the social life of young men were arranged for those who desired to attend at other hours.

During the entire month a training conference for secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association was held, in which 21 men were registered. Next year a department for training physical directors will be introduced. There are now over 200 vacancies in the Young Men's Christian association secretarial ranks demanding men who have been trained for the direction of associations. This may be now called a new profession. Nearly 2,000 men are engaged in it. The two training schools of the Young Men's Christian Association at Springfield, Mass., and at Chicago are able to supply but a small part of the number required.

There is just now opening at Silver Bay a conference for the older boys of the association's boys' departments with 150 boys in attendance from all parts of the country east of Wisconsin. These boys are officers and leaders of the boys' departments, in which there are over 40,000 boys enrolled.

The western associations have an encampment on Lake Geneva of 14 acres, which has been crowded from June to August 30, the dining room accommodates nearly 300. In its institute for training secretaries and physical directors it had 113 men enrolled. Beginning with the conference for college men and ending with that for the association members, athletics, boating, swimming and mountain climbing filled the days of the men present as much as the conferences and other meetings. It is a combination vacation resort and institute.

Potent Pill Pleasure.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. Small as it was it did me more good than calomel, blue mass or any other pills I ever took and at the same time it effected me pleasantly. Little Early Risers are certainly an ideal pill." THE PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS

And Is Still Learning Much About the Nature of the Dread Disease And Methods of Combatting It—Consumption Not Hereditary.

Columbus, August 31.—(Special)—Dr. C. O. Probst, secretary of the new Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, has issued the following interesting statement:

The Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis was organized in November, 1901. The name indicates its object. One of the chief methods to be employed for obtaining this object will be the dissemination of reliable information concerning the cause and prevention of tuberculosis. A series of short articles on this subject, of which this is the first, has been prepared.

Many interesting phases of the subject must be left untouched from lack of space; but any question which interested readers may wish to have answered should be sent to the secretary, who will furnish the information desider, if possible.

The society now numbers more than 300 members—men and women, physicians and laymen. Anyone wishing to join will be warmly welcomed.

Tuberculosis is a disease which may affect any organ of the body. The lungs are most generally attacked. Here it is known as consumption, on account of the great wasting of the body usually present before death.

Tuberculosis destroys more than 6,000 people in this state every year. If allowed to go on unchecked fully 400,000 of those now living in Ohio must die from this illness.

The disease has been known from the earliest history of medicine, and continues to prevail in all parts of the civilized world. Its infectious character was long ago more than once suggested.

Toward the close of the eighteenth century this must have been the popular belief in many countries. In Naples in 1782, a royal decree required the disease to be reported and quarantined. Disinfection was carried out after the death or recovery of the patient.

This idea of the communicability of consumption, so strongly fixed in the minds of Neapolitans and others, was gradually dispelled by the theory of heredity. It is of great importance that this question of heredity should be correctly and very generally understood.

To know that it is not an inherited disease should bring hope and gladness to thousands of tuberculous parents, and to the children of such parents. Acting under the belief that the disease was inherited no precautions were taken to prevent the communication of consumption from one to another. Whole families were swept away—not on account of heredity, but because the living germ that produces it was not destroyed.

With the discovery of the veritable cause of tuberculosis, to which allusion will be made later on, heredity as the cause of the disease could no longer be accepted.

We can now be absolutely certain that without this germ of tuberculosis there can be no tuberculosis.

To inherit consumption it would be necessary for this germ to be transmitted from parent to offspring, and we know that this practically never happens.

Heredity does play a part in the development of tuberculosis, but only the minor part of one among many of the predisposing causes.

One may inherit a tendency to tuberculosis. Other things being equal, a child with one parent, and especially both, consumptive, will be more apt to develop the disease when exposed to the exciting cause than a child whose parents have been free from tuberculosis.

Experiments in preventing the spread of tuberculosis among animals is most instructive. Bangs, of Copenhagen, who is an authority on this subject, has shown that it is possible to entirely eradicate the disease from a herd of cattle in the following manner:

The animals are all tested for tuberculosis by injections of tuberculin. The sick and the well animals are then completely separated. Calves born of tuberculous mothers are at once removed, and are fed on the milk from a healthy animal.

Frequent tests with tuberculin are made of the apparently healthy animals, and any found to have developed tuberculosis are rejected. In one or two years' time it is possible in this manner to entirely weed out tuberculosis from a large held of animals, even when 60 per cent or more of them were affected in the beginning.

The same results may be obtained in the human family. Bernheim gives the following striking examples:

"The family B. was composed of five children, a father who died of consumption and a mother who was well.

"The second child was removed from its home immediately after its birth, reared by a healthy nurse until he was 13 years of age, and then put into a school. He is now a healthy man of 36. He has never lived with his parents.

"The four other children lived with their parents. Two of them have died of pulmonary tuberculosis, and the other two have the disease in an advanced stage.

"In another family of seven children the father and mother were both tuberculous. The second and the fifth child were removed from their parents and their brothers and sisters, and never lived with them.

"The five children reared by their parents have all died of tuberculosis. The two who were isolated have remained well, are now both married and have fine healthy children of their own."—(From "Tuberculosis—Infection, Heredity," etc., by Dr. A. G. Young.)

This early and complete separation of children and parents will seldom be possible, nor is it necessary, for if strict precautions are taken by consumptive parents to guard their offspring against infection in the home they will be in little danger of contracting the disease.

We may dismiss heredity, then, by saying that it is simply a predisposing cause of tuberculosis, like alcoholism, overcrowding, bad ventilation, damp soil, etc.

No one need be disheartened because he has lost a parent or near relative from consumption. He is, it is true, slightly more prone to the disease than others. But this predisposition may be overcome by simple hygienic measures, to be spoken of later, which will at the same time protect him against many other diseases due to faulty habits of living.

The next article will be devoted to the cause of tuberculosis—the nature of the germ that produces it and the various predisposing causes that render the human body a favorable soid for its growth.

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up, and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

Two large congregations assembled at the First M. E. church yesterday and the services were highly enjoyed by all. Besides most eloquent and forcible sermons delivered by the pastor, Rev. Milton Butler Pratt, D. D., the musical programs were pleasing features. The choir, assisted by Miss Katherine McKeever, one of the most talented vocalists in the city, performed its work with credit.

"The Audacity of Love" was the subject chosen by the able minister for his morning sermon and he preached with an inspiration that held every listener throughout the discourse. To love, the preacher credited all that is good, and drew all conclusions by a comparison of love with selfishness. The latter, in the opinion of the speaker, is at the root of all great evils and but for it the world today would be one mammoth paradise.

The subject was founded on the 20th chapter of John, 15th verse. It is a chapter in which the disciple, John, writes of the crucifixion and eloquently portrays the audacity of love when describing the appearance of Mary at the sepulcher. Her love for Jesus flamed up and she stubbornly refused to be bounded. Her love arose superior to the sense of reason. When she found that the body had been taken away the only thought that occurred to her was that it had been stolen. It did not occur to her at all that something divine had removed it. Her feeble strength was no barrier in her mind. She asked the gardener to direct her where the body had been taken and she would get it. This she did without meditating for a moment concerning the magnitude of the proposition. It was her deep love for Christ that led her to do it.

The footsteps of the race are marked by the accomplishment of the impossible. It is our wonderful audacity that has accomplished such things. And behind the audacity is love. The world is made up of individuals and it is through the individuals that we accomplish an end, be it good or bad. The environments that make an individual good have a like result on an entire community, and those that make the individual bad have the same effect on the community. Therefore the individual should covet good. Selfishness by all means should be shunned. Through it everything bad is derived. What the nations would do were it not for the love of God being shed abroad in the human heart is hard to state. This love of God is the only reforming power which we have. Love is refining. There are many definitions for the word but there should be but one. When translated into terms concrete it means "unselfish regard for others' welfare."

To admire one is not to love him. The human race believes that love is simply to admire and adore, but in that a great mistake is made. The reflex influence of love is indeed refining. It will eliminate that which by influence would cause harm. Any influence that would teach or feed a bad spirit would be and is eliminated everything when love is accomplished. Love is also elevating. It detects signs of danger invisible to the eye. It gives man sharpened faculties. Who imagines that Washington or any other such man could have ever accomplished those great historical feats but for his sharpened faculties? Behind all of it was love. No truly great man ever lived who did not possess that faculty.

Love is dauntless. Does the patriot know when he is whipped? Does the Christian ever die? The only dauntless power in the world is love. A man possessing love can only be aroused when danger lurks near him. Love dies triumphant at the last. Love is not only dauntless, it is almighty. Love lays the foundation for the country's welfare. It stands for God at any cost.

Selfishness antagonizes Jesus. It can be found at the root of everything displeasing to God. We are blessed with all that is beautiful, gracious and honorable and it is not through selfishness that we are given it, it is through Christian love. All that has trampled down human souls from Alpha and Omega emenates from selfishness. These things being undisputed facts, will you base your lives on Christian love or on unchristian selfishness? We owe everything of which we are proud to the love of God. Think, meditate on your own career. Remember how God has crowned you with success, honor and glory. Through these you are benefitted much and to God's love are you indebted for them all.

THE TIE THAT BINDS TOGETHER FOR GOOD

"The New Commandment" was the subject of Rev. Edwin Weary's sermon at St. Stephen's church last evening. From Christ's words, "Love Ye One Another," as a text, he delivered a powerful discourse. In part he said:

"There is a vast difference between the word 'like' and the word 'love.' We like because we are being directly benefited by something; when we love we seek to benefit others. We like to please ourselves; we love to please others.

"To live is to find out our true selves. By loving the individuality asserts itself and becomes impersonated in someone else. We speak of person. What does it mean? If one is wrapped up in himself, living merely for selfish gratifications and has no personality is not being revealed. He consideration for his fellowmen, his must come out of himself and live in another. He must have a regard for those about him and sympathize with them in their human frailties and rejoicewith them in their strength and happiness. He must live for others as well as for himself.

"Love is not confined to animate beings but inanimate objects as well. We love truth, honor, honesty and all the virtues and we love our country. If we love our country we gain citizenship and we gain manhood. If we love truth, honor, honesty and the noble virtues we manifest the characteristics of true manhood because we follow the lead of God who created us in the image of Himself. There is but one law, the law of love. Society is founded upon it. Wherever you find sociability you will find that it is a creation of the principle of love. Society can be instituted by no other for love is divine and holds men together.

"What are the institutions of society? They are the nation, the family and the church. These three institutions are based on love. We cannot find a nation, a Christian nation, existing today without love forming the basic principle of its laws. The law of love is the great underlying of all law, both spiritual and civic. We cannot find a family living in the sweet comfort of happiness and harmony without love forming the binding tie. We cannot find the church of God existing today with its influence pointing for good to mankind without finding love for both God and man the guiding law. There are other societies existing today. Hundreds of clubs and organizations are formed, but they are founded on contract and not on love and they do not have a durable life.

"A great work has been given to the church to teach this law of universal love. It must teach its members to sacrifice for the sake of others. It is in love for others that we exemplify the meaning of true love. In medical, phychological and scientific research we are told that we all live for one another and that we could not live apart. Love must bind us in the bonds of fellowship and the human family will be what it was ordained to be by God, the noblest institution of existence."

STARS IN THE CROWN

Rev. Dr. McWilliams, of Parnassus, Pa., who was a class mate of Rev. C. G. Jordan, preached at the First Presbyterian church yesterday. In his morning sermon he said:

"Preaching is telling the glad news. The sermon that does not exalt Jesus is no sermon. We are to preach Him by word and deed. Will you go empty handed before Him? Do you want no star in your crown?

"A young woman was dressing for an evening party, and had placed a beautiful cluster of diamonds in her hair when her little sister who looked on in wonder said: 'My Sunday school teacher told me if I could win a soul for Jesus I would have a star in my crown.' The older one went to her party, and when she came home saw the little sister sleeping calmly and sweetly. Her heart was touched. 'I wonder if it might be the star in her crown,' she said, and kneeling down in her costly raiment she prayed until she knew her soul was saved, and the crown of the little sister held its coveted star.

"Some of us think religion is narrow, but we must extend it to all. Be careful in your preaching for the recording angel is taking notes, and the book of records bears it all.

"Let your light shine. It is no disgrace to go to Sunday school. John did his work as Elijah did his. The lips that had cried 'Repent and be baptized' were stilled forever, the strong arm was cold and stiff in death, sacrificed to the whim of a jealous woman. But his voice is with us today. Will you not hear it? Will you not cry out 'My Saviour and my God?'

"A distinguished artist once painted a picture of Calvary. A mother whose sailor son had refused to hear the voice of the Saviour persuaded him to go and see it, and while he went she prayed. The painter saw him enter the room and anxious to know what a sailor would think of his work followed him in. Long he looked upon the canvas. A tear rolled down his cheek, and he arose saying, 'The man who painted that believes, as mother believes and I believe, too.' Isn't it marvelous that the canvas touched by the master hand could change this man? Isn't it marvelous that as we look through the eyes of faith He will love us and save us for life in eternity?"

NO REASON TO BE ASHAMED OF CHRIST

"Not Ashamed of the Gospel" was the theme of Rev. J. W. Gorrell's sermon delivered before a large congregation at the Christian church last evening. Referring to the triumphs of Christianity during nineteen centuries, during which Christ has received the homage of the greatest and noblest intellects and the adoration of the purest hearts and the reverence of civilized humanity, the speaker said, it is difficult for us to see how there could be any temptation to be ashamed of the gospel.

"The Religion of Christ," he continued, "had its beginning in Palestine, a small country. The founder was a Jew and His mother was an humble woman. The death on the cross was a disgraceful death. The most of the first disciples were of the poorer people. To a man of worldly mind these things would be very damaging. Paul was not ashamed of the gospel, although it demanded faith in a crucified redeemer and a life of self denial.

"It offered no preferment from a worldly standpoint—no throne, no splendid ritual or magnificent temple. Paul gave up his standing as a rabbi, accepted Judaism as a preparatory dispensation, which was repulsive to a Jew; gave up his position in Grecian philosophy. Paul looked upon the gospel as the divine way of reconciling the guilty to God.

"Paul considered the gospel as the highest manifestation of God's power. The gospel achieves moral transformations. Christians should never in any societies or circumstances be ashamed of the gospel. Christianity has changed savagery to civilization. It has caused whole nations to abolish slavery. It has overthrown the worships of heathen gods with all attendant cruelty of sacrifices. The purposes of the gospel are the highest and noblest of earth. No Christian should be ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Back from Vacation.

Rev. A. A. Steele has returned from his vacation spent in the mountains, and last evening occupied the pulpit at the M. P. chapel on Pleasant Heights. Since the change was made converting the chapel from a congregational to a Methodist Protestant institution, it has been unusually prosperous and the attendance has increased materially. Services are conducted regularly each Sunday, Rev. Steele being the pastor.

An Excellent Sermon.

Rev. C. S. Manor, formerly of this city, occupied the pulpit last evening of the First United Presbyterian church and preached to a large congregation, composed in part of many of his old friends. His sermon was strong, convincing and eloquent.

Persons troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia can eat all they want if they take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. EAST END

Will Lecture at the Second United Presbyterian Church on Friday Night.

During the past summer the congregations of the East End churches have had opportunities to hear a number of missionary workers, home from the oriental countries for a few months vacation and rest, and in every instance the lectures were greatly enjoyed. An announcement of particular interest to those who delight in stories of the far east was made this morning that Rev. Willis Hotchkiss, a missionary, whose field has been in the very heart of Darkest Africa, will lecture at the Second Presbyterian church on next Friday evening.

Rev. Mr. Hotchkiss is spending a few months in this country after almost 10 years of hard work among the savages of the jungles. In that time he has met with many thrilling experiences and many times has been compelled to face the gravest of dangers, and his recollections and experiences should certainly prove highly entertaining.

Two Picnics This Week.

Two church picnics are to be held this week, that of the Erie street Methodist on next Thursday at Inglewood grove and that of the Second Presbyterian on Friday at Thompson park. The program for the Methodist picnic has been announced and plenty of innocent amusement for the entire day has been provided. The program for the Presbyterian picnic has also been announced and includes many entertaining athletic contests.

The Secrest Lecture.

Rev. J. E. Secrest, who is to lecture at the Erie street Methodist church tomorrow evening, will take a topic from some important matter pertaining to the Steubenville district Epworth League, of which he is president. An invitation has been extended to the Epworth Leagues of East Liverpool and Wellsville to hear the lectures by the president and a large attendance is promised.

Organizing a Circle.

D. Frank White, district deputy for the Protected Home Circle, returned Saturday evening from a visit of several days at Mechanicstown, in the interest of the order. He has been organizing a circle for that town and met with encouraging success. The required number of members has been secured and he expects to return and install the new circle within the next two weeks.

Rev. Mr. McQuiston Home.

Rev. D. W. McQuiston, of the Second United Presbyterian church, who has been passing his vacation in the west, returned Saturday evening. He visited Iowa, Michigan and several other western states and renewed many old acquaintances and friendships. He is feeling hale and hearty and eager to resume his pastoral duties.

A Special Sermon.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt, of the Erie street Methodist church, is preparing a sermon for next Sunday that promises to be of more than usual interest and which will certainly be most timely. The topic is "Seven Indictments Against Modern Dancing," and will be well worth hearing.

Will Elect Officers.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Erie street Methodist church will meet next Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William House, on Pennsylvania avenue. The meeting is one of the most important for some time as officers for the ensuing year are to be elected.

Will Attend the Races.

The race meet at Beaver Falls this week is attracting the attention of East End horsemen and many will attend. Robert L. owned by Will Larkins, and a popular local favorite will start in one of the pacing events and is expected to carry away the money.

To Give Reception.

Invitations are out for a reception to be given in honor of Paul Andrews, of First avenue, who is to return to college in a short time. The reception will be given on Tuesday evening at the Andrews home on First avenue.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

Miss Kitty White has returned from a visit to New York.

W. A. Orin has resigned at Dawson's meat market to accept a position at Larkins' grocery.

Quite a number of East End people were at the Hollow Rock camp meeting yesterday, among them, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones and Mr. and Mrs. John Grant.

A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Jerome McCormick, of near Columbian park.

Martha Hilton, of Sandy Bottom, who has been seriously ill of typhoid fever, is now convalescent.

Dr. M. W. Taylor returned this morning from Darlington, where he spent Sunday with his parents.

Miss Margaret Aufderheide, of Ashtabula, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Norton, of St. George street.

O. J. Mason, of St. Louis, arrived here last night and will visit W. A. Orin, of St. George street, for a few days.

Eureka Circle will meet tomorrow night to initiate a number of candidates and attend to some other business matters.

C. C. McAfee will leave tomorrow for Pomeroy, where he will meet his wife and son, who have been visiting relatives there.

Invitations have been received by a number of East End young people for the dance to be given Wednesday evening at the home of Postmaster William Burt, of Ohioville. The invitation will be accepted by several couples.

New Kind of Life Insurance.

For twenty five cents you can insure yourself and family against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. That is the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and adults. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. This remedy has relieved more pain and suffering and saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world. It is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now. Coal Bunkers on Fire.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 31.—The flagship Yankee, of the naval training squadron, flying the flag of Rear Admiral W. C. Wise and which has been engaged in the maneuvering off Portland, entered the harbor with her midship bunker afire. The fire was discovered Thursday morning by smoke on the gundeck. Some 200 tons of coal were removed from the top of the bunker, leaving some 300 tons. Then the fire hose was used and since that time the fire has been smoldering. The crew is still engaged in moving the coal from one bunker to another. The Yankee coaled at Bar Harbor on Aug. 9 and this is some of the soft coal taken aboard there.

Despondent Chinaman Suicides.

Honolulu, Aug. 31.—Charles Ahi, a prominent member of the Bow Wong society, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He had recently returned from China. Persecutions there on account of his reform record caused him to come to Honolulu. He was expelled from college in China and was despondent over his inability to remain there.

Hanna's Health Improved.

Cleveland, Aug. 31.—Senator M. A. Hanna, who was taken suddenly ill a few days ago in his office, is much improved and will try to go to his office to attend a political conference with state leaders.

The city council has decided to let no grass grow under its feet and has ordered that immediate steps be taken looking toward a decision of the important points involved in the question at issue between the city and the gas company. The action is right and proper and will be universally commended. Whether the city has a right to fix gas rates at a figure that shall not be extortionate is a question that concerns every gas consumer, and there are few persons in East Liverpool who do not depend upon the natural gas company for their fuel supply. Nobody is in a humor for allowing the monopoly to have its own way and thus striking a serious blow at the prosperity of the city. East Liverpool is close to the gas producing territory and much of its rapid growth in the past few years has been due to the fact that that excellent fuel has been abundant and reasonably cheap. The city cannot afford tamely to submit to such a defiance of the law and of its authority as the gas company is attempting, thus making a luxury of a commodity that has become a household necessity here. The battle will undoubtedly be strenuous, but with right and justice on its side the city ought to win it.

The school terms are about to open in Ohio, and many country districts are finding it difficult to engage teachers. Hod carriers and day laborers can get as much pay as some of these districts are offering and can also have work more months in the year. Under these circumstances the dearth of educators is not to be wondered at. Ohio school boards must raise wages in rural schools if they expect the schools to prosper.

Six months have elapsed since the Ohio Bankers' association undertook the task of raising by popular subscription $25,000 with which to purchase a silver service for the battleship Ohio. According to the latest report, only $3,000 of this amount has been realized, and unless more ginger is put into the work, the battleship will be christened without this desirable adjunct to her equipment. Is state pride lacking?

Sir Thomas Lipton has learned that America leads in a good many other things besides building and sailing yachts and is frank enough to say so. In return for the free advertising he and his business are getting on this side of the water he is certainly disposed to do the fair thing, and he makes an excellent press agent.

It takes an Ohio man to size up Tom Johnson. Private Dalzell's description of him as "a wandering Willie in the political arena, a wild ass braying in the Democratic desert," is hard to excel.

Two more American heiresses are expected soon to become the wives of English dukes. It's simply wonderful how the supply of English dukes holds out.

The city is to be congratulated on getting a premium on its bonds, even though it was compelled to wait.

Lipton does not give up easily, but the logic of events compels him to acknowledge American superiority.

There are plenty of good reasons why the order to Admiral Cotton should not be countermanded.

On sober second thought, Colombia thinks she would rather have that $10,000,000 than to miss it.

The Turkey shooting season has opened in the orient.

Summer is expiring with a serene smile.

in which electric lighting companies, natural or artificial gas companies, or gas light or coke companies may be established, or into which their wires, mains or pipes may be conducted, are hereby empowered to regulate, from time to time, the price which said electric lighting, natural or artificial gas, or gas and coke companies may charge for electric light or for gas for lighting or fuel purposes, furnished by such companies to the citizens, public grounds and buildings, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues, wharves and landing places and such electric lighting, natural or artificial gas, or gas light or coke companies shall, in no event charge more for any electric light, or natural or artificial gas furnished to such corporation or individuals than the prices specified by ordinance of such council; and such council shall also have power to regulate and fix the price which such companies shall charge for rent of their meters."

It was feared for a time that the company might abandon its lines in this city, but it is thought from an examination of the franchise under which the company operates here that it will not do so. The caluse on the subject says:

"If the use of said pipe for conducting said gas be abandoned for a period of one year, all rights under this ordinance shall cease." It has been stated that in case a protest was made by the justly indignant consumers, and an attempt to secure legislation was made the company would immediately abandon the territory. Members of the company have said there were many points they could reach without difficulty, the people of which would be glad to get gas at any price. According to the section quoted above the experiment would be an exceedingly expensive one, and hardly likely to be tried.

Solicitor Davidson is busy today preparing the petition in the proceedings and will forward the paper to the clerk of courts at Lisbon tomorrow.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Mrs. J. C. Taggart is rapidly improving after a brief illness.

A. S. Young is back from a visit to Scotland, his native land.

Dr. David Jones, pastor of the M. P. church of this city, and Delegate Proctor Ankrim left today for Kittanning, Pa., where the annual conference of the Pittsburg district will convene on Wednesday. The delegate from the First church has been instructed to request Dr. Jones' return to the East Liverpool congregation.

TRIED TO BREAK INTO THE CHURCH

DRINK-CRAZED MAN SAID HE WANTED TO TAKE PLEDGE.

Declaring that he would take the pledge and that he would do so in the Catholic church, David Lovett, a porter, of Trenton, who has been on a spree in the city for several weeks, went to the door of St. Aloysius' church at a late hour Saturday night and when there was no response made to his knocks on the door he commenced to hammer it with blows that would have resulted in its destruction had Chief Wyman not been attracted to the scene.

Several men informed the chief that there was something unusual occurring near the Catholic church and he immediately made a run for that section of the city. Upon his arrival Lovett was kicking and pounding at the door of the church in desperation. The chief did not realize the condition of the poor fellow and he was handled rather roughly. A number of men were called by the chief to aid in making the arrest and after a desperate struggle Lovett was landed in the city jail.

During the hours of Saturday night and Sunday and even today the man, who has developed an awful case of delirium tremens, ranted and tore around in his cell like wild. His case is a most pitiable one and everything is being done to restore him to his normal senses.

The police arrested three other drunken men Sunday. George Stewart, who has appeared at city hall so many times that he is about to believe it is his home, was taken in by Officer Morris. James Ryan was also arrested by Morris and August Craft was placed under arrest by Officer Fisher. The latter trio will be heard this evening.

IN A PITIABLE CONDITION

Rochester, Pa., August 31.—Joseph A. Nelson, who had filled the office of tax collector for the borough of Rochester for 14 years, was discovered in the woods near Jamestown, N. Y., Saturday in a pitiable condition. He was suffering from a delusion that a number of Japanese and railroad detectives were trying to capture him, and had been wandering in the woods for several days. His clothing was torn, and he was wet to the skin from the rain which had fallen, and the exposure he had undergone had left him in a very serious condition.

Mrs. Nelson had gone to Jamestown some time ago to visit at the home of her brother, Walter Marsh, and the first of last week Mr. Nelson started for the same place to join his wife. He had not been feeling well for a few days, and it is believed that his mind became unbalanced while making the trip. It is believed that he had nothing to eat for at least three days, which added to his weakened condition.

Mrs. Nelson was located by the police in Jamestown, and when notified of the condition of her husband, called at police headquarters and took charge of him.

Mr. Nelson is well known in Rochester, where he has a number of relatives and friends. He served as deputy sheriff for a few months under Sheriff Bliss after the latter's election to office this year. Mr. Nelson is a veteran of the civil war, was born and raised in Rochester, and was a jeweler by occupation.

Will Admitted to Probate.

Lisbon, August 31. — (Special.) — The will of the late David Adams, of St. Clair township, has been admitted to probate and the widow, Louisa Adams, has accepted its terms. All the property, including the homestead and 3½ acres in St. Clair township is left to the wife, at her death to be divided equally between their sons, David T. and Roy Adams. Wm. H. Smith is named as executor.

JOHN H. MOORE,
WATER WELL DRILLER....
Main and 18th Sts. Wellsville.
NOT DEAD AS REPORTED...

Likely to Be Called as Pastor.

Lisbon, August 31. — (Special.) — Rev. James L. Reed, of West Alexandria, Pa., preached very acceptably to a large audience at the Bethel Presbyterian church in Wayne township Sunday morning. The church has been without a pastor for some time and a call will probably be extended to Rev. Mr. Reed. He has been invited to preach again a week from Sunday.

WELLSVILLE

Leonard Eells, who shot Chief of Police Fred Houser through the right arm last Friday evening, was caught at Steubenville early Saturday evening by Detective Jewell and another detective of the C. & P. railroad. Mr. Jewell on Saturday received a minute description of the man wanted from Mayor Fogo and with his brother detective that evening they learned that a man had visited a certain doctor in Steubenville and had a 32-calibre bullet extracted from his back. They at once investigated and obtained a trace of him, finding him a short time afterwards. Eells had informed the physician who attended him, that a man had shot him at Toronto.

The bullet taken from the man's back was undoubtedly that of Chief Houser, as he had been using a 32-calibre revolver and Officer Morrissey a 38-calibre gun. Eells' wound was not a serious one. The bullet had entered his side and striking a rib, glanced around to his back where it lodged.

Eells was brought before Mayor Fogo this morning and the charge of shooting with intent to kill was read to him. He pleaded not guilty and the mayor bound him over to court in the sum of $1,000. He will be taken to Lisbon as soon as the sheriff can come and get him.

Miss Helen Russell, a sister of Howard Russell, who ran away from his home on lower Front street Saturday, August 15, received a letter from the missing boy Friday evening. It was dated Wilmington, Pa. In the letter he explained to his sister that he had secured a position in a mill at Wilmington and that he intended remaining there for the present. He asked that his clothes be sent to him at once.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell, the parents of the boy, went to Wilmington Saturday, where they took his clothes. Mrs. Russell was nearly distracted during the two weeks that nothing was learned of the whereabouts of the boy, but she has now recovered. Mr. and Mrs. Russell return from Wilmington some time today. They will allow their son to remain where he is.

P. H. C. Picnic a Success.

Quite a large crowd went to C. R. Moore's grove just west of the cemetery Saturday morning to attend the annual picnic and outing of Fidelity Circle No. 43, Protected Home Circle. The day was most enjoyably spent, the weather being perfectly suitable for the occasion. Athletic sports and games were indulged in. All of those who attended took their baskets and all ate together at one big table in the old fashioned picnic style. Spring water was plentiful, there being a fine spring on the grounds. Several members of the East Liverpool circles attended.

Schools Again Open.

All of the teachers of the public school assembled at the Central building on Ninth street at 3 p. m. Saturday for the purpose of having the school work for the coming year outlined to them by Superintendent McDonald. They were instructed as to just what work would be expected of them during the school year. All of the schools opened this morning. Little studying was done by the pupils today as the day was largely taken up in getting the work in readiness and assigning the scholars to the rooms they are to occupy.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Mrs. B. F. Wells, of Allegheny, was the guest of relatives here over Sunday.

Mrs. Samuel Kerr, of Bellevue, Pa., arrived in the city Saturday afternoon to visit over Sunday.

Miss Laura Anderson, of Commerce street, has gone to Steubenville, where she will visit friends for a few days.

Miss Edna Dorr, of McKees Rocks, Pa., is spending a few days visiting Wellsville and East Liverpool friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fraser, of Tenth street, returned Saturday evening from a two weeks' outing at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Charles Stevenson and children, of Main street, returned Saturday evening from a ten days' outing at Atlantic City.

Frank Crumbaker, of Main street, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation. He went to his home in Malvern Saturday afternoon.

J. R. Stoakes and daughtey Mary, of Fourth street, returned Saturday evening from a short visit among relatives at Pittsburg.

Miss June Ault, of Toronto, has returned to her home after enjoying a ten days' visit with Wellsville and East Liverpool friends.

Mrs. Teressa McGill and Mrs. Russell, of Main street, went to Irondale Saturday, where they remained over Sunday visiting friends.

Miss Ruby E. C. Mason, of Canada, who teaches school here, returned to Wellsville Saturday afternoon after spending the summer at her home.

ON THE ROUTE OF THE YOUNGSTOWN & SOUTHERN.

They Will Be Opened And Operated And Prospects Are Very Bright.

Youngstown, August 31.—(Special)—During the past week State Mine Inspector Biddestone located the opening for twelve coal mines in the North Lima field on the Youngstown & Southern electric railway line, promoted and organized by John H. Ruhlman and others. Inspector Biddestone made a most encouraging report of these fields to President Asa W. Jones, J. R. Long, Mr. Ruhlman and the others who are interested in the new road, and says the new territory has almost unlimited possibilities. The report of Inspector Biddestone gives Mr. Ruhlman and his associates reason to believe that Youngstown will again be the headquarters of one of the largest coal centers in the country.

Secretary and Treasurer Ruhlman, of the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company, made a trip to North Lima Saturday with Walter F. Wyeth, of the banking firm of Baker, Ayling & Co., of Boston, who with Messrs. Ruhlman and Jones financed the electric line. They went as far north as North Lima and returned just as the big downfall of rain commenced.

After his return Mr. Wyeth said: "It is a most beautiful piece of country and from what I saw today, the project looks to be a good one. I will make a trip through to East Liverpool upon my return from the west."

Contractors Joyce, Fawcett and Heasley are pushing forward the work of building the new road with the greatest of rapidity and are making good progress.

The report of Inspector Biddestone looks to be exceptionally good owing to the fact that he is noted for his honesty and integrity. He never made application for the office of state inspector of mines. Governor Nash sent for Biddestone and when the latter was apprised of his appointment he was one of the most astonished men in the state.

William E. Lewis has been engaged as driller for the North Lima coal field.

He Did Not Agree With the Company's Attorney on One Important Point Raised.

Salem, August 31.—(Special)—Arguments were heard before Judge Robinson at Ravenna on Saturday afternoon in the suit of Farmer & Getz, of this city, against the Columbiana County Telephone company, in which it is sought by mandamus to prevent the telephone company from increasing its rates to subscribers. The interests of the plaintiffs and of the city were looked after by City Solicitor L. P. Metzger, and the telephone company was represented by Attorneys Carey and Mullins, of Salem, and Attorney W. L. Carey, of Cleveland, general counsel for the company.

Attorney Metzger in his argument cited decisions and rulings in similar cases, said that the telephone decision so often quoted by the company was not rendered in a parallel case. He reviewed the case ably and at length.

J. R. Carey, of Salem, argued for the company and cited a section of the revised statutes relating to telephone and telegraph companies, stipulating that a city shall receive no consideration for a franchise granted. He held that the franchise did not constitute a contract, and that the only thing the city could do about a telephone system was to see that the wires and poles were properly placed.

The latter point was not agreed to by the judge, who held that the city had certain contracted rights. The only question was whether the city could legally control the rates for telephone service.

The judge reserved his decision until Tuesday.

Attending a Conference.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—Rev. J. A. Ulman, of the Lisbon M. E. church, and Rev. J. P. Anderson, of the Presbyterian church, left for Columbus today to attend a meeting of state Sunday school workers, which will include a conference of state and county officers.

POST OFFICE TO REMAIN IN PRESENT LOCATION

The announcement has been made on several occasions recently that the Chester postoffice would be moved from its present location to the vicinity of Sixth street. Neither the postmaster nor Mr. McCutcheon, who owns the building in which the postoffice is now located has made any such assertion, and there really has been no grounds for the announcement.

Since Mr. McCutcheon purchased the postoffice building recently, negotiations have been in progress between Postmaster Johnston and the owner whereby the office will remain where it is for four years. To the present their negotiations have proceeded without a hitch, and it is likely will be finally settled upon within the next few days. The postoffice is now situated in the most logical portion of the city and can be conveniently reached by a greater number of the city than in any other spot in the town. It will undoubtedly remain there.

CHESTER OIL COMPANY TO BEGIN OPERATIONS

Dissatisfaction With Drillers Who Had First Contract and a Change Will Be Made.

It has been given out that the members of the Chester Oil and Gas company would begin active operations during the present week, or as soon after the first of the month as it would be possible to get the rig and other paraphernalia on the ground. Though a number of the members have been seen, the report could not be confirmed.

It is certain that if the territory upon which the company still holds a lease is developed further, it will not be done by the parties who had the previous contract for doing the drilling. Members of the company seen today say they have becomed discouraged with the outlook and would not expend more money with the drillers unless given the assurance that the officers make a contract with some other firm. It was said today that Mr. Stewart would be willing to give bond for the faithful and satisfactory fulfillment of his contract, and some members of the company are in favor of allowing him to proceed. Some action will probably be taken this week.

Will Build a House.

James Murray, the big oil operator who moved his possessions from New Cumberland to Chester last week, will begin the erection of his new home and a magnificent barn within the next few days. Mr. Murray's residence will be located at the corner of Fifth street and Louisiana avenue, where he owns six large lots. The building will cost $8,000, while the barn will involve an expenditure of about $4,000.

EXCELLENT CONCERT

Afternoon Concert.

Tenor Ballad, "Somebody's Darling" ..... Arthur Carlton
Boy soprano, "Annie Laurie" ..... Master Victor Staats
The Unity Quartet.
Glover Ware, Arthur Thrasher, Arthur Carlton, John Gray.

Ballad, "Down on the Farm" ..... Arthur Carlton
Soprano solo, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" ..... Victor Staats
Violin imitations ..... Wm. John Daly

The Unity Quartet.
March, Airs from "Carman" ..... Bizzet

A GREAT TEAM

The Sully family, sketch artists, who come to the Rock Springs theater this week, are the strongest aggregation on the road this season. Their sketch is strictly original and excruciatingly funny. Other members of the combination are Ely & Harvey, in a very funny comedy sketch; the kenetograph, Forbes & Forbes and the renowned troupe of dogs under the direction of Prof. Parker.

This latter act is alone worth the price of admission, and will be among the best drawing cards of the week.

Funeral Today.

Funeral services over the remains of James Kirke were conducted at the Methodist Episcopal church in Chester this morning, Rev. E. C. Lindsey officiating. The dead man was a brother-in-law of Robert Cunningham, of Chester, and died in Pennsylvania last week.

Another Physician.

Dr. Charles R. Campbell, a young physician recently graduating from Sterling Medical university, will locate in Chester soon. Dr. Campbell, whose home is near Hookstown, has many friends in this town who feel sure he will succeed here.

CHESTER NOTES.

It has been officially announced that the First National bank of Chester will open for business next month.

Garrett Mercer has returned from a two weeks' vacation and is again located with the Chester Grocery company.

William Bee, the Carolina avenue shoe merchant, left today for Parkersburg, where he will visit for several days.

Mrs. Al Noling, who suffered a sunstroke last week, has been reported better. For several days it was thought the lady could not recover, but she rallied late in the week and is better today.

PROTECTED BY CHIEF WYMAN

Bereft of any semblance of the finer nature that he once possessed, Patrick McCarroll, an oddman employed at the West End pottery, made a vicious assault on his wife Saturday night and but for the timely appearance of Chief Wyman, Mrs. McCarroll might have been a corpse today.

Loud cries of "Help! Murder!" and many other such frightful sounds attracted the attention of the chief, who happened to be in the vicinity of McCarroll's home, near the West End pottery, while he was en route to the disorderly houses in Jethro Hollow. The chief says the cries were the most heart-rending that he ever heard. The woman yelled as if in terrible distress and danger.

At every cry the chief quickened his steps and arrived at the rear door of the house while the poor woman was struggling for protection. She exclaimed that her brutal husband had beaten her until she was black and blue and that he threatened to kill her.

Angered beyond control of himself, the chief ran into the house, grabbed McCarroll by the nape of the neck and slammed him out into the street and then pushed him to a call box from where he summoned the patrol. McCarroll, though very brave when his opponent was a woman, quieted down like a baby and gave no trouble whatever to the chief. He was landed behind prison bars and he rameained there until Sunday morning, when he placed $10 as security for his appearance this evening at 7 o'clock.

McCarroll has quite a reputation for wife-beating and will be dealt with by the mayor accordingly.

At about the same time that McCarroll was arrested for his act, another such crime was being committed near Cartwright's pottey, report of which reached city hall today. There were no arrests made, however, the names being impossible to get.

The second game of the series of three games being played by the Carroll club and the East End Grays was witnessed in Columbian park Saturday afternoon by a large crowd. The Carroll club won the game by a score of 8 to 6 and now the teams are tied. There is much enthusiasm over the outcome and the next game will be a great attraction. Both teams are in elegant shape and will fight hard for the decisive game. The score:

DEFEAT GIVEN TO THE MONARCHS

Smith's Ferry put the bug on the Monarchs Saturday. They won by a score of 7 to 1. The locals credit the defeat to the muddy grounds, which caused them to make bad errors at costly time. The score:

Oaklands Ready.

Homestead Releases Washer.

Manager Risher, of the Homestead team, has released Buck Washer, of whom so much was expected last month when he was added to the team. It is claimed he failed to make good and Parkins, the new player from Evansville, will be put in his place. This announcement caused great surprise, as it was thought Washer would be retained the entire season. Risher still has three pitchers on his pay roll. They are Alex. Pearson, a right-handed twirler, and Osborne and Parkins, both southpaws.

Yokel Threw Lutz.

Beaver Falls, August 31.—(Special.)—M. R. Yokel, a Beaver Falls man, who is physical instructor at Harvard, threw Lawrence Lutz, a local wrestler, twice with ease Saturday night before a large crowd in the Sixth Avenue theater. The match was for $100 a side and Yokel was to throw Lutz twice within an hour. The betting was 3 to 1 that he would not, but he gained the first fall in six minutes and the second in 3½ minutes, both with half Nelsons. Ed Riley, of New Brighton, challenged the winner.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

It is rumored that Ned Hanlon will coach the Harvard crews.

Manager McGraw cannot keep still and continues to be fired from the field regularly.

Tim Flood, the Zanesville third baseman, who broke a knee cap at Ashland, Ky., last week, is probably out of the game for life. He was making a slide for second and struck his knee on a stake.

Irwin Wilhelm, of Wooster, released from the pitching staff of the Pittsburg team, since his return home has had offers from two National league teams and Birmingham and Little Rock, of the Southern league.

Henry George, Jr., will be Labor day orator at Youngstown.

William S. Aiken, a civil war veteran and prominent business man of Alliance, is dead, aged 70.

The death of a two-year-old child and the serious, possibly fatal, injury of its mother, Mrs. James Foster, of Warren, Ind., were caused by a train at a crossing in Warren.

At a meeting of the Republican Central committee of Jefferson county, it was ordered that the congressional primary elections be held on Wednesday, September 16.

John Parks, of Steubenville, for using profane and indecent language, was sentenced by Justive Love to pay $100 and costs, or about $144. It will take him a year to serve the sentence in the workhouse.

William Wells, owner of the ferry boat that plies between the Ohio and West Virginia shores at Steubenville, is confined to his home over the river with a badly swollen foot as the result of a snake bite.

The Beaver Coal and Coke company, which recently bought out the old Quaker Valley coal mine, at Rogers, has put a force of men at work to clean out the mine and put the machinery in shape to start up.

Elmer E. Garrison, formerly one of the wealthy and prominent business men of Steubenville, has squandered a fortune and is in the work house on a charge of forgery. His wife, who was Miss Tope, of New Cumberland, has applied for divorce.

Save the Children.

Ninety-nine of every one hundred diseases that children have are due to disorders of the stomach, and these disorders are caused by indigestion. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is just as good for children as it is for adults. Children thrive on it. It keeps their little stomachs sweet and encourages their growth and development. Mrs. Henry Carter, 705 Central St., Nashville, Tenn., says: "My little boy is now three years old and has been suffering from indigestion ever since he was born. I have had the best doctors in Nashville, but failed to do him any good. After using one bottle of Kodol he is a well baby. I recommend it to all sufferers." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach well. Sold by Alvin H. Bulger.

SYPHILIS positively cured without the use of injurious drugs. No matter of how long standing, our Special Treatment cures when doctors, patent medicines and hot springs have failed. We have cured thousands of the worst forms of this disease.

OUR MEDICATED BOUGIE NEVER FAILS TO CURE.

THE FRANCE URETHRAL TREATMENT is a medicated Bougie for the cure of Stricture and all forms of Diseases of the Bladder, Urethra, and Prostate Gland. The Bougies are inserted into the urethral canal upon retiring at night; they slip into position without the slightest effort, requiring a short time to dissolve. They act like a mild electric current, invigorating and imparting vim and snap to the entire body. The curative effect is felt from the first application. Our special treatment completely dissolves the Stricture and permanently removes obstructions from the urinary passage.

Treatment by Correspondence. Each person applying for Medical Treatment should bring or send from two to four ounces of urine, which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination. We have cured hundreds of cases we have never seen. Write for book of 100 pages and list of 200 questions. Correspondence, Consultation and Examination free and strictly confidential. No names published without written consent. Treatment sent by mail or express to any part of the United States.

Guard Rail of the Craft Gave Way and Two Men Were Drowned.

Bellaire, August 31.—In a fight on the ferryboat Charon, here Saturday night, between a non-union machinist, Frank Williams, and two strikers, William Pracht and Anthony Holleran, the guard rail gave way and all went in to the river. Williams escaped, but the other two were drowned.

A strike is in progress at the plant of the National Tube company in Benwood. Williams, who was living in the blockhouse in the inside of the enclosure at the works, came over to Bellaire Saturday night. After he had been drinking liquor for some time, he started yelling, "I am a scab and able to take care of myself." His actions attracted the attention of the strikers, who tried to dissuade him to cease working, but he was firm in his refusal.

Finally some one hit Williams, and he started to run for the ferry landing, with a crowd after him. It was just 11:10, and the Charon was ready to go over the river with about 25 people. Williams came over the bank, and onto the boat he went pell mell, and only two of the strikers, Pracht and Holleran, with him, just as the boat pulled away from the landing. When the boat was out in the river 100 yards the three were fighting fiercely near the guard rail. The non-union man was down, and the others were hitting him. Suddenly he got up and they all clinched again. Williams drew a revolver and fired. The guard rail gave way and all went into the river.

It was pitch dark. A large crowd had gathered on the river bank, and one of the three, Williams, was seen to swim ashore. When he got out into a lot of willows he was found by a police officer and taken to the city building. The other two sank to a watery grave. Williams has been but eight months in this country, and only two weeks in the National tube works.

The Ohio river being high just at present, and very swift, it will likely be some time before the bodies can be found. The river has been dragged all morning, but with no success.

There was a large crowd of strikers and their sympathizers on the West Virginia side awaiting to see if Williams would be brought over there to jail, and it is safe to say that if he had been he would never have reached the prison.

ORDINANCE 773

Granting Certain Privileges to and Exacting Certain Obligations From the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad Company, Its Lessee.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio.

Section 1. The Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company, and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are hereby granted the right to lay and operate one track, in addition to those now existing, (said existing tracks are shown by a map now on file with the City Clerk, said map being dated January 14, 1903) on and across all streets and alleys in this city where said company's tracks are now located, excepting on what is known as the Horn Switch track and excepting also Second street at its junction with Broadway, said additional track to be constructed on an alignment practically the same as the tracks now existing.

Section 2. Said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company, and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are hereby granted the right to lay and operate one track, in addition to that provided for in Section 1, on and across all streets and alleys between the point of intersection of Jefferson and West Second streets and the westerly line of Second street at its junction with Broadway, on which there now exists one or more tracks of said company. All extensions of tracks and all additional tracks in Sections 1 and 2 hereinabove designated are to be constructed upon the said Cleveland and Pittsburg company's right of way or upon land to be hereafter acquired by said company, except at the intersections of streets and alleys with the said company's tracks.

Section 3. It is hereby provided, that Ralston's Crossing shall be vacated and that said company shall construct or cause to be constructed an undergrade crossing at its bridge No. 111, in accordance with the plans agreed upon and herewith submitted and marked Exhibit "A"; said company to provide a sixteen foot driveway immediately south of the property on the northerly line of said company's right of way from the intersection of Ralston's Crossing and the said company's tracks, eastwardly to the public road leading to the said undergrade crossing; to construct or cause to be constructed, a forty foot roadway commencing at a point in the road leading to Ralston's Crossing where said road is to be abandoned as aforesaid and continuing thence eastwardly, south to the C. & P. R. R. company's right of way, to and through the culvert of the said company's railroad bridge No. 111, and extending thence northwardly to the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, to provide the necessary right of way for the extension of the last described road from a point in the said road southeastwardly from the said culvert, eastwardly at a width of forty feet to the west line of lot No. 1400 and connecting with a road already in existence at the northside of said lot No. 1400. All of said proposed roads hereinabove described, are shown upon a plat hereinwith filed and marked Exhibit "A" as aforesaid.

Section 4. It is provided, ordained and agreed, that the said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, shall dedicate to the said city as and for an alley, the eastwardly twenty feet of lot No. 4392 and that the alley now platted and existing between the present southerly right of way line of said company and the row of twelve lots purchased by it from the Puritan Land company, in the East End, shall be vacated from Central avenue to the westwardly line of the alley above provided for also that the alley between lots Nos. 4389 and 4390 shall be vacated from the southerly right of way line of said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company to the northerly line of St. George street, provided that said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company or the said Pennsylvania company, its lessee, shall construct on said lots, a brick depot or station building to cost not less than $5,000.00. All of said alleys, streets and lots herein referred to are shown by a plat herewith filed and marked Exhibit "B".

Section 5. The foregoing grants to the said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are expressly made upon condition that they shall by duly authorized agent, accept this ordinance with all its terms and conditions and shall agree thereby and as a part thereof to

First—Maintain all existing street and alley crossings on the tracks and right of way of said company and to establish and to maintain a crossing at either Virginia avenue or Central avenue as may hereafter be determined; and to establish and maintain a crossing at Elizabeth street, whenever the City Council shall deem said crossing necessary. All crossings hereinabove named are hereby dedicated to said City.

Second—To provide a flagman at East and West Market streets on the hill tracks, whenever said track is used for the passage of trains and cars.

Third—To light all street intersections with said Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad, in any manner that might be legally required.

Fourth—To remove on six months' notice the side tracks now located and existing on city property at the foot of Broadway and extending eastwardly therefrom, whenever Council demands it.

Fifth—To hold and save the said city harmless from any and all damage or damages, that may arise by reason of any improvements or excavations or by reason of any construction or vacation made in pursuance to or by reason of the provisions of this ordinance.

Sixth—To pave all driveways to and between teaming tracks in the lower yards.

Seventh—To erect a freight depot at or near what is known as the Horn Switch or hill yards when the City Council demands it.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed August 11, 1903.

Attest: WILLIS DAVIDSON, Clerk of Council.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthor occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the fler stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition; she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry.

CHAPTER XXII.

GRENFALL LORRY'S FOE.

THE Princess Yetive had not flinched a hair's breadth from the resolution formed on that stormy night when she sacrificed pride and duty on the altar of love and justice. Prince Bolaroz's ultimatum overwhelmed her, but she arose from the wreckage that was strewn about her conscience and remained loyal, steadfast and true to the man in the monastery. To save his life was all she could hope to accomplish, and this she was bound to do at any cost. She could be nothing to him, not even friend. So long as he lived he would be considered the murderer of Lorenz, and until the end a price would hang over his head. She, Princess of Graustark, had offered a reward for him. For that reason he was always to be a fugitive, and she least of all could hope to see him. There had been a brief, happy dream, but it was swept away by the unrelenting rush of reality. The mere fact that she, and she alone, was responsible for his flight placed between them an unsurmountable barrier.

Clinging tenaciously to her purpose, she was still cognizant of the debt she owed the trusting, loving people of Graustark. One word from her could avert the calamity that was to fall with the dawn of the fatal 20th. All Graustark blindly trusted and adored her. To undeceive them would be to administer a shock from which they could never recover.

Her highness' manner was at all times frank and untroubled. She was apparently light hearted. Her cheeks had lost none of their freshness. Her eyes were bright. Her smile was quick and merry, her wit unclouded. Receptions, drawing rooms and state functions found her always vivacious, so much so that her court wondered not a little. Daily reports brought no news of the fugitive, but while others were beginning to acquire the haggard air of worry and uncertainty she was calmly resigned. The 15th, the 16th, the 17th, the 18th and now the 19th of November came and still the princess revealed no marked sign of distress.

Heavy hearted and with bowed heads the people of Graustark saw the 19th fade in the night, the breaking of which would bring the crush of pride, the end of power. At court there was the silent dread and the dying hope that relief might come at the last hour. Men with pale faces and tearful eyes wandered through the ancient castle, speechless, nerveless, miserable. Brave soldiers crept about, shorn of pride and filled with woe. Citizens sat and stared aimlessly for hours, thinking of naught but the disaster so near at hand and so unavoidable. The whole nation surged as if in the last throes of death. Tomorrow the potency of Graustark was to die, its domain was to be cleft in twain, disgraced before the world.

And on the throne of this afflicted land sat the girl Yetive, proud, tender, courageous. Tomorrow would see the north torn from the south, the division of families, the rending of homes, the bursting of hearts. She sanctioned all this because she loved Lorry and because he had done no wrong.

Aware of her financial troubles and pursuing the advantage that his rival's death had opened to him, Prince Gabriel of Dawsbergen renewed his ardent suit. Scarce had the body of the murdered prince left the domain before he made his presence marked. Knowing that he was in truth the mysterious Michael who had planned her abduction, she feared and despised him, yet dared make no public denunciation. As Dawsbergen was too powerful to be antagonized at this critical time, she was constantly forced to submit to the most trying and repulsive of ordeals. Tact and policy were required to control the violent, hot blooded young ruler from the south. Day after day he haunted the castle, persistent in his efforts to induce her to accept his proposition. So fierce was his passion, so implacable his desire, that he went among the people of Edelweiss, presenting to them his proposal, hoping thereby to add public feeling to his claims. He tried to organize a committee of citizens to go before the princess with the petition that his offer be accepted and the country saved. But Graustark was loyal to its princess. Not one of her citizens listened to the wily prince, and more than one told him or his emissaries that the loss of the whole kingdom was preferable to the marriage he desired. The city sickened at the thought.

His last and master stroke in the struggle to persuade came on the afternoon of the 19th, at an hour when all Edelweiss was in gloom and when the princess was taxed to the point where the mask of courage was so frail that she could scarce hide her bleeding soul behind it.

Bolaroz of Axphain, to quote from the news dispatch, was in Edelweiss, a guest, with a few of his lords, in the castle. North of the city were encamped 5,000 men. He had come prepared to cancel the little obligation of fifteen years' standing. With the hated creditor in the castle, his influence hovering above the town, the populace distracted by the thoughts of the day to come, Gabriel played what he considered his best card. He asked for and obtained a final interview with Yetive, not in her boudoir or her reception room, but in the throneroom, where she was to meet Bolaroz in the morning.

The princess, seated on her throne, awaited the approach of the resourceful, tenacious suitor. He came, and behind him strode eight stalwart men bearing a long iron bound chest, the result of his effort with his bankers. Yetive and her nobles looked in surprise on this unusual performance. Dropping to his knee before the throne, Gabriel said, his voice trembling slightly with eagerness and fear:

"Your highness, tomorrow will see the turning point in the history of two, possibly three, nations—Graustark, Axphain and Dawsbergen. I have included my own land because its ruler is most vitally interested. He would serve and save Graustark, as you know, and he would satisfy Axphain. It is in my power to give you aid at this last, trying hour, and I implore you to listen to my words of sincerest friendship—yes, adoration. Tomorrow you are to pay to Prince Bolaroz over 25,000,000 gavvos or relinquish the entire north half of your domain. I understand the lamentable situation. You can raise no more than 15,000,000, and you are helpless. He will grant no extension of time. You know what I have proffered before. I come today to repeat my friendly offer and to give unquestioned bond as to my ability to carry it out. If you agree to accept the loan I extend—10,000,000 gavvos for fifteen years at the usual rate of interest—you can on tomorrow morning place in the hand of Axphain when he makes his formal demand the full amount of your indebtedness in gold. Ricardo, open the chest!"

An attendant threw open the lid of the chest. It was filled with gold coins.

"This box contains 100,000 gavvos. There are in your halls nine boxes holding nine times as much as you see here, and there are nine times as much all told on the way. This is an evidence of my good faith. Here is the gold. Pay Bolaroz and owe Gabriel, the greatest happiness that could come to him."

There was a dead silence after this theatrical action.

"The interest on this loan is not all you ask, I understand," said Halfont slowly, his black eyes glittering. "You ask something that Graustark cannot and will not barter—the hand of its sovereign. If you are willing to make this loan, naming a fair rate of interest, withdrawing your proposal of marriage, we can come to an agreement."

"I have the happiness of your sovereign at heart as much as my own," he said. "She shall never want for devotion; she shall never know a pain."

"You are determined, then, to adhere to your original proposition?" demanded the count.

"She would have married Lorenz to save her land, to protect her people. Am I not as good as Lorenz? Why not give"— began Gabriel viciously, but Yetive arose and, with gleaming eyes and flushing cheeks, interrupted him.

"Go! I will not hear you—not one word!"

CHAPTER XXIII.

THE VISITOR AT MIDNIGHT.

BELOW the castle and its distressed occupants, in a dark, damp little room, Grenfall Lorry lived a year in a day. On the night of the 18th, or, rather, near the break of dawn on the 19th, Captain Quinnox guided him from the dangerous streets of Edelweiss to the secret passage, and he was safe for the time being. The entrance to the passage was through a skillfully hidden opening in the wall that inclosed the park. A stone doorway so cleverly constructed that it defied detection led to a set of steps, which in turn took one to a long, narrow passage. This ended in a stairway fully a quarter of a mile from its beginning. Ascending this stairway one came to a secret panel through which, by pressing a spring, the interior of the castle was reached. The location of the panel was in one of the recesses in the wall of the chapel, near the altar. It was in this chapel that Yetive exchanged her male attire for a loose gown weeks before, and the servant who saw her come from the door at an unearthly hour in the morning believed she had gone there to seek surcease from the troubles which oppressed her.

Lorry was impatient to rush forth from his place of hiding and to end all suspense, but Quinnox demurred. He begged the eager American to remain in the passage until the night of the 19th, when, all things going well, he might be so fortunate as to reach the princess without being seen. It was the secret hope of the guilty captain that his charge could be induced by the princess to return to the monastery to avoid complications. He promised to inform her highness of his presence in the underground room and to arrange for a meeting. The miserable fellow could not find courage to confess his disobedience to his trusting mistress. Many times during the day she had seen him hovering near, approaching and then retreating, and had wondered not a little at his peculiar manner.

And so it was that Lorry chafed and writhed through a long day of suspense and agony. Quinnox had brought to the little room some candles, food and bedding, but he utilized only the former. The hours went by and no summons called him to her side. What was to become of him? What was to be the end of this drama? What would the night, the morrow, bring about?

It was 9 o'clock in the evening when Quinnox returned to the little room. The waiting one had looked at his watch a hundred times, had run insanely up and down the passage in quest of the secret exit, had shouted aloud in the frenzy of desperation.

"Have you seen her?" he cried, grasping the newcomer's hand.

"I have; but, before God, I could not tell her what I had done! Your visit will be a surprise, I fear a shock."

"Then how am I to see her? Fool! Am I to wait here forever"—

"Have patience! I will take you to her tonight—aye, within an hour. Tomorrow morning she signs away the northern provinces, and her instructions are that she is not to be disturbed tonight. Not even will she see the Countess Dagmar after 9 o'clock. It breaks my heart to see the sorrow that abounds in the castle tonight. Her highness insists on being alone, and Bassot, the new guard, has orders to admit no one to her apartments. He is ill, and I have promised that a substitute shall relieve him at 11 o'clock. You are to be the substitute. Here is a part of an old uniform of mine, and here is a coat that belonged to Dannox, who was about your size. Please exchange the clothes you now have on for these. I apprehend no trouble in reaching her door, for the household is in gloom and the halls seem barren of life."

He threw the bundle on a chair, and Lorry at once proceeded to don the contents. In a very short time he wore instead of the cellkeeper's garments a neat fitting uniform of the royal guard. He was trembling violently, chilled to the bone with nervousness, as they began the ascent of the stairs leading to the chapel. The crisis in his life, he felt, was near at hand.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

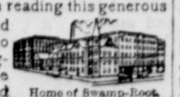
It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Rheumatism

"THE PAIN KING."

Those who have ever felt its keen, cutting pains, or witnessed the intense suffering of others, know that Rheumatism is torture, and that it is rightly called "The King of Pain."

All do not suffer alike. Some are suddenly seized with the most excruciating pains, and it seems every muscle and joint in the body was being torn asunder. Others feel only occasional slight pains for weeks or months, when a sudden change in the weather or exposure to damp, chilly winds or night air brings on a fierce attack, lasting for days perhaps, and leaving the patient with a weakened constitution or crippled and deformed for all time.

An acid, polluted condition of the blood is the cause of every form and variety of Rheumatism, Muscular, Articular, Acute, Chronic, Inflammatory and Sciatic, and the blood must be purged and purified before there is an end to your aches and pains. External applications, the use of liniments and plasters, do much toward temporary relief, but such treatment does not reach the real cause or cleanse the diseased blood; but S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, does cure Rheumatism by antidoting and neutralizing the poisonous acids and building up the weak and sluggish blood. It is safe and reliable in all forms of Rheumatism. It makes the old acid blood rich, and the pain-tortured muscles and joints are relieved, the shattered nerves are made strong, and the entire system is invigorated and toned up by the use of this great vegetable remedy.

INSURGENTS KILLED

MACEDONIAN SITUATION GRAVE

Salonica, Aug. 31.—The Bulgarian insurgents sustained a severe reverse at Smilovo Friday, 1,000 of them being killed. The insurgents to the number of 3,000 occupied a position on a height, which was stormed by six battalions of Turkish troops commanded by Servet Pasha. After losing 1,000 of their number the Bulgarians fled in the face of the heavy Turkish artillery fire. The Turkish losses were insignificant.

Macedonian Situation Very Grave.

Salonica, Aug. 31.—The situation in Macedonia is one of the utmost gravity. The insurgents are everywhere increasing in numbers and holding their own against the Ottoman soldiers. Anarchy reigns supreme, the vast Turkish army being completely out of control and eating up the country. In a few weeks famine must ensue, causing untold misery. Any outrage in the city of Salonica now would turn the Turks into soldiers and the populace into wild beasts. The country west of the river Varda, towards the vilayet of Monastir, is expected to rise daily.

Fear Indiscriminate Massacre.

London, Aug. 31.—The Times correspondent at Salonica gives an account of the ill-concealed terror prevailing in that city and the fears that some incident may precipitate an indiscriminate massacre. Commerce, he says, is paralyzed and a famine apprehended. The ambassadors and consuls recently appealed to their governments to send warships, but the desire to avoid the appearance of encouraging the insurgents is to be held of greater importance than precautionary measures for the protection of Europeans. Hence the vessels have not been sent.

Preparations for an approaching insurrection in Northern Macedonia are rapidly progressing, but the day of the outbreak has not yet been fixed.

Seek European Intervention.

Among the Turks themselves, continues the correspondent, a growing body professes to be ready to support European intervention to remedy the desperate condition of affairs and even talks of murdering the foreign consuls as a means to compel foreign intervention. There is no lack of sensational news from the interior, but all the reports are conflicting and confusing. There is much interest and anxiety regarding the fate of Klisura, which has long been besieged by the insurgents.

According to the latest report a large body of Turks sent to raise the seige has gained an important victory.

A report is current that Sept. 1, the anniversary of the sultan's accession, has been selected to begin the outbreak in the vilayet of Salonica.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, summer complaint of any sort if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—A 13-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dickey, of Lincoln avenue, this morning.

Enlarging the Parsonage — A new wing is being added to the Lutheran parsonage, an extension much needed by the pastor and his family.

Going Into Business—James L. Ridgeway, warehouseman at Lewis Bros.' furniture store, has resigned his position to enter the grocery business. He has purchased the Strouss establishment on the Calcutta road.

Preparing for Labor Day—Local union No. 292, made up of grocery and butcher clerks, is making elaborate preparations for Labor day. A meeting has been called for tomorrow when it is proposed to put the finishing touches to the arrangements. The organization is one of the most prosperous in the city.

Presbyterial Convention—The Woman's Presbyterial convention of the Steubenville presbytery will be held next week at Salineville on September 9 and 10. A number of the missionary ladies of the United Presbyterian church in this city will attend. An excellent program will be prepared and interesting subjects will be discussed.

Early Reorganization—The Twentieth Century Literary club of this city has not yet organized for the coming year. The club will probably resume its literary work some time during October, but the program for the year's work had not been made out. The club is one of the excellent literary societies of the city and last year had a most successful record. The members will renew their work for the winter with still greater interest.

Escaped Uninjured—Dr. C. B. Ogden, health officer of the city, had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning on Sixth street, just off the Diamond. Dr. Ogden was driving in toward the curb at the office of the Union Building and Loan company, when a wagon coming from the other direction caught the wheel of his vehicle and upset it. Dr. Ogden was thrown out and the buggy fell over him, but he escaped without a scratch.

W. C. Smith, a prominent citizen of the East End, who has been one of the alleged participants in a recent sensation, was cited to appear at the mayor's office this afternoon to answer the serious charge of using threatening language to a woman. The warrant was issued upon the complaint of Ed. Davis, a highly respected citizen of the East End. That that scandal brought about the present trouble is the opinion of those who claim to be familiar with the affair.

It has been openly asserted that Smith has been paying marked attention to an East End married woman. A short time ago the husband of the woman left the city. Upon several occasions when news of the gossip reached him, Smith has shown a disposition to fight and when he heard of threats, it is claimed that he purcased a revolver and a stock of ammunition. To add to his troubles, news of the affair reached his wife, who is said to be in a delicate condition of health.

The present trouble is said to have been caused by the friendship between Smith's wife and Mrs. Davis. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Davis were to go down town together to do some shopping and Smith, hearing of it, is said to have been in a rage. He threatened violence upon his wife, it is claimed, and used insulting language to Mrs. Davis.

AN INSANE MAN ARRESTED AT HOME

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—William Watson, who was sent from Lisbon to the Massillon asylum last winter and escaped from the institution and returned home some time ago, was taken into custody again last night by Sheriff Leonard, and is now in the county jail.

Watson and his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Watson, have been living alone a number of years, and while the son has never been particularly violent, he is whimsical and subject to peculiar notions. Last night after 8 o'clock he sat down to eat and remained at the table until midnight, his mother meantime having gone to bed. Shortly after midnight he entered her room, picked up a silk waist and said he had decided to burn some of her old clothes as she never wore them.

Mrs. Watson succeeded in arousing a neighbor, who summoned the sheriff.

By a Salem Widow Who Wants Her Share of Husband's Estate.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—Mrs. Rebecca Bossert, of Salem, who has been contesting in probate court an alleged misinterpretation of the will of her late husband, Jeremiah Bossert, through Attorneys Potts & Wells, of Lisbon, has filed suit in common pleas court, asking that she be allowed a dower interest in a vein of coal and mines on the premises of her late husband.

The defendant is the Peerless Coal Mining company, of Cleveland, which, it is alleged, purchased of the late Mr. Bossert in August, 1902, the coal underlying 402.80 acres in Salem township. Mrs. Bossert says the coal is now being mined at the rate of 4,000 tons a month and asks that her dower interest, according to the provisions of the sale, be assigned to her.

AN APPEALED CASE

Answer and Cross Petition Filed in a Suit Involving $200 Worth of Stone.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—The case of George R. Moore against J. A. Smith has been appealed to common pleas court from the court of Justice J. M. Dickinson, in Lisbon, in which the plaintiff got judgment for $83.40 and costs.

The plaintiff sued for $263.40 on the allegation that the defendant had appropriated 100 perch of stone and sold it for $200; that he used derricks, drills, etc., the use of which is reasonably worth $50, and that Smith had purchased from him $13.40 worth of stone which he has refused to pay for. Interest is asked from June 20. Attorney Charles S. Speaker, for the defendant, has filed an answer and cross-petition, denying the allegations of the plaintiff and setting up a counter claim for $30, in which he alleges that Moore took from the quarry a blasting machine belonging to the defendant, valued at that amount.

MINING CLAY AND COAL

A Lisbon Mine Will Be Equipped With Clay Crushing Machinery.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—The Klondike coal mine of Card & Prosser closed Saturday for three weeks to give time to put in a big new clay plant. It will have an automatic speed and will grind and load the clay on cars ready for shipment.

When the mine was opened a few years ago it was found that an excellent vein of fire clay lay next to the coal and the mining of it, togetner with the coal, has developed into an important industry.

HELD TO COURT

Louis Greuber, the saloonist of Second street, who was arrested Saturday on a charge of assaulting Mrs. Clementina Heins, was given a hearing this morning by Mayor Weaver. The case was tried before a large crowd of interested spectators. Attorneys represented both sides. The mayor thought the evidence convicting and bound Greuber over to court under bond of $100.

IN THREE COURTS

Newton Croxall Appeared Today to Answer as Many Charges.

Newton Croxall believes in the old saying, "It never rains but it pours." He was "up against it" in just three local courts today. The last time it was before 'Squire McCarron.

The justice rendered a decision against him, ordering him to vacate a house in the West End, the one that was pulled Saturday night as a disorderly house.

Suicide at Youngstown.

Youngstown, August 31.—Ephraim Morrow, aged 55, for many years an employe of the American Tube & Iron company, committed suicide at his residence by taking laudanum. During the past week Morrow and his wife had quarrelled and had not spoken to each other for several days. This is the only cause assigned for his act. Morrow was an industrious man, of excellent habits and leaves a wife and five grown children.

TWO KILLED BY HOLD-UP MEN

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Without a word of warning two men were killed and two others wounded by hold-up men at the barns of the Chicago City Railway company, Sixty-first and State streets. The shooting was done by three men, who escaped after securing $3,000.

The injured: William B. Edmond, receiving clerk, will recover; Henry Biehl, will recover.

The robbers took no chances, but disposed of all the opposition of the employes before they entered the office. Choosing the time when the employes were busily engaged in balancing up the receipts of the night, just after the last conductor had turned in his money and left the barns, the robbers suddenly appeared at the receiving window and began shooting. The first bullet fired struck Stewart and he fell to the floor without a word. Biehl and Edmond, who were sitting near Stewart, turned to see what was the matter, but before they could leave their chairs they were rendered helpless by the well-directed bullets of the robbers. Johnson, the motorman, who was asleep on a bench in the outer office, hearing the noise, started up to go to the assistance of his companions, but was shot and killed before he could get on his feet. The robbers then broke open the door of the cashier's office with a sledge hammer and secured $3,000 in bills, which was lying on the desk. They then made their escape. Four men were arrested three hours after the robbery on suspicion of being implicated in the crime, but they have not as yet been identified.

Found Dead With Skull Crushed.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 31.—Joseph Uncather, aged 20, was found dead on a pile of ties near his front door with his skull crushed. He was the son of Charles Uncather. Saturday night young Uncather and Harry Grace, whose attentions to Myrtle Uncather, a sister of Joseph, had been ordered stopped by her father, met the father and mother. A quarrel followed and Grace threw a stone, striking Charles Uncather, who swore out a warrant for Grace's arrest. Mr. and Mrs. Uncather left the two young men together. Later, after Grace had been arrested, they returned home and saw young Uncather lying on the ties. They heard him breathing loudly, but did not disturb him. Sunday morning they found him lying in the same position, dead. No arrests have been made.

Awful Ending of Debauch.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 31.—After a two weeks' debauch Reese Jones, a 45-year-old Oliphant miner, went home, told his wife he had sold himself to the devil and bargained to take her with him to hell, and then shot her in the shoulder, after which he went upstairs and killed himself by sending two bullets into his abdomen. His young son saved the mother's life by knocking the revolver upward and diverting the bullet.

Armstrong on Way to Coast.

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—Robert B. Armstrong, assistant secretary of the United States treasury; N. N. Stranahan, collector of the port of New York, and Hamilton Fish, assistant treasurer of New York, left over the Great Northern for the Pacific coast, where they will visit a number of cities. Returning east the party will spend a week or more in Yellowstone park.

Grand Duke Partially Paralyzed.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 31.—The Grand Duke Michael Nicolaievitch, cousin of the czar, has suffered a stroke of apoplexy and has become partially paralyzed on the left side. The medical bulletin issued regarding his condition says in spite of the drowsiness of the patient his mind is clear, the heart action satisfactory and the temperature normal.

AN INJUNCTION SUIT AGAINST GAS COMPANY

The prompt action of the city council, at a special meeting held Saturday night, leaves no doubt in the minds of the people that the members mean business and will do everything in their power to prevent the gas corporation from increasing the rate to private consumers.

As was stated Saturday evening Auditor Davidson received no reply from the gas people in answer to a communication addressed to them early in the week asking for a conference. It had been the desire of the citizens' committee and the council that the gas company make some definite statement in regard to its reasons for proposing an increase in the gas rate to take effect in August. None being forthcoming, and believing that the corporation proposed to ignore the wishes of the consumers as well as the council, President Horwell called a meeting of the citizens' committee and the council. All of the members of council were present, together with several citizens who have been interested in the movement to resist the increase, and no time was wasted in preliminaries.

Auditor Davidson reported he had received no official reply to his request for a conference, but that a representative of the gas corporation had visited his office in the evening, after it had been demonstrated that council would take some action and pleaded for more time in which to answer. He was not in a position to extend the time, and members of the council thought the time given was quite long enough. Member Croxall, of the Fourth ward, made a motion to the effect that the city solicitor be instructed to procure an injunction from the court to restrain the gas corporation from inaugurating and enforcing the new rate and also to prevent it from removing the supply from the streets of East Liverpool. The motion carried promptly.

On Tuesday night, June 23, the city council, acting upon the advice of Solicitor Davidson, passed an ordinance regulating the price of natural gas. Their authority for the action was found in a section of the state law, which says:

"Section 2478 (Regulating price of electric light, artificial and natural gas). The council of any city or village

A MYSTERIOUS ROBBERY REPORTED

A mysterious robbery occurred at the home of Harvey Barnhart, of Second street, near Washington, some time during last night, and as a result Mr. Barnhart is the loser by $50 in currency and a valuable revolver. The money was stolen from Mr. Barnhart's trousers and the revolver from the mantel of his sleeping room, on the second floor of the building. The theft was committed while Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart and the children were sleeping.

When seen this afternoon Mrs. Barnhart stated that her husband and herself are at a loss to account for the burglary. It is apparent that the burglar was either possessed of an unusual amount of daring or was intimately acquainted with the interior of the premises. The entrance was effected through a rear door and to reach the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart the burglar had to pass through the dining room and ascend a dark pair of stairs. The revolver was first taken from the mantle and the burglar then delved into the trousers, securing the pocketbook containing the money.

During the time the theft was being committed, Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart slept soundly and the theft was not discovered until this morning. An investigation of the premises was made after the discovery, but no trace of the burglar could be found. The matter has been reported to the police.

NEW HOSPITAL CORNER STONE WILL BE LAID TOMORROW

The cornerstone of the new hospital will be laid tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. No program has been arranged, and owing to circumstances the operation will be attended by no ceremony whatever.

The building committee had hoped to be well along with the work in hand by this time, but have been hindered by first one thing then another until it was only within the past few weeks that building operations have been in progress. On this account and the fact that it would require time to prepare and carry out the usual program, the ceremony will be absolutely informal. The members of the building committee have decided upon the articles which the packet will contain, and they will be placed in a box and deposited without ceremony.

The packet will consist of the city newspapers and other articles which it is customary to place in the stone. A list of the members of the association together with the officers will also be placed within. It is probable the ceremony will be witnessed by a large number of interested ones.

The building committee has determined that nothing shall interfere with the building operations now that they have been started, and aside from the actual time that must be consumed in setting the stone the bricklayers will not be interrupted. Good progress is being made by the workmen now employed at the building, and it is announced by the contractors that the task will be completed in plenty of time to have the institution formally opened to the public before cold weather sets in.

RELIANCE AGAIN LEADS IN THE YACHT RACE TODAY

Sandy Hook, August 31.—(Special.)—With the wind blowing at the rate of 10 knots an hour and the seas rolling in heavy swells, the Reliance and the Shamrock crossed the starting line at 11:45:20 and 11:45:24, respectively. The start gained by the superior craftsmen on the Reliance gave the defender a lead that could not be overcome by the Shamrock and the American boat steadily gained. When they were half way to the outer mark the Reliance was at least a quarter of a mile ahead.

TROLLEY LINE EXTENSION TORONTO TO WELLSVILLE

Rights of Way Between the Two Towns Practically All Secured.

Toronto, August 31.—Toronto, Empire and Wellsville will, in all probability, be united by a traction line next season, as the work of obtaining the right of way between the towns of Empire and Wellsville has been practically all completed, except from two land owners. B. D. Beacom, the general manager of the United States Telephone company, has been doing this work for the projectors, and on Friday night was in consultation with the city fathers at Empire relative to a franchise through that village.

As soon as that is obtained, it is stated by Mr. Beacom, that the matter of connecting with the Toronto line, now being extended to Elliottsville, half way between Toronto and Empire, will be taken up.

LIVELY EVENING IN THE HOLLOW

SOME WERE RATHER UGLY

Chief Wyman, accompanied by Officers Aufderheide, Mahoney, Dunn, Dawson and Bryan, made things lively in Jethro Hollow Saturday night. According to pre-arrangement they all assembled at a certain point in the West End at about 12:30 o'clock ready for a pull of disorderly houses. If there were any that escaped deteetion no one in that section of the city knows of its location. The proprietors, inmates and visitors of three houses were arrested and those who did not furnish security for their appearance today were hauled to central station and locked up.

With the stealth of Nick Carter and his famous gang of sleuths the chief and officers approached the houses, hiding themselves under the darkness of the trees and in neither case did the people of the houses have the least premonition of their fate. The hour had passed when hauls are generally made and they were enjoying themselves to the limit when the officers knocked for admittance. Thinking in each case that the sounds on the doors were produced by victims wanting a night's lodging the officers were allowed access to the houses without the usual window and door smashing.

Though all of the houses were going in full blast the house rented by Newton Croxall, an ex-convict, was the scene of the most disorder. It was there that Chief Wyman came near getting a disfigured physiognomy. The chief applied for admission and when it was given him the inmates, discovering who he was, pitched into him and the rest of the officers in great shape. The girls and male visitors at the house were not so bad, but the alleged proprietor and a friend of his who was in a room asleep at the time of the entrance woke up in a bad humor and refused stubbornly to depart. They finally gave in, however, and the patrol wagon was summoned. While the wagon was enroute to the hollow Croxall says he did not like the idea of riding in the wagon in a sober frame of mind and that he drank a pint of whisky and a bottle of ale. The amount he guzzled had the effect he desired. It was not long until it began cropping out all over him and when an argument was started with the chief he very indiscreetly took a punch at the officer. The chief says that Croxall did land a blow on his mouth. The blow was more than the chief could take and he retaliated by knocking Croxall to the floor. One of the girls then showed fight and she and Officer Dunn had a fistic act.

The arrival of the patrol wagon was hailed with delight and Croxall and a couple of the girls were hustled off to the city jail. Croxall had about $180 on his clothes, but would not give any of it for security. As a result he and the two girls spent the night in a cell. Yesterday morning they were very anxious to get out, however, and Newton produced the money. While they were making up their minds to hand over the money the girls, two of the lowest females ever arrested in this city, made the air blue in the vicinity of the city hall with oaths. They acted so disgracefully that the women in that section of the city had to leave to

The Exhibition Said to Be Much Superior to That of Former Years.

NOTED MEN IN POLITICS

Will Speak on Wednesday and Thursday, Designated Respectively As Republican and Democratic Days. Aggressive Prohibition Campaign.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, August 31.—Ohio's mammoth industrial exposition holds the boards at the state capital this week. The fair opened this morning and closes Saturday. It is bigger and better than ever and worth seeing. This being centennial year, the state board of agriculture, which has charge of the fair, has striven to make it an epoch in the history of the state's industrial expositions. Two new features will be in evidence—Republican and Democratic days. Democratic day will be Wednesday, when Governor Nash will preside. The speakers will be William Jennings Bryan, Hon. John H. Clarke, Tom L. Johnson and Frank P. Niles, of Toledo, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor. A Democrat will preside on Republican day, which will be Thursday—Hon. Lawrence T. Neal, of Chillicothe. Secretary Shaw will be present as President Roosevelt's representative, and other speakers will be Senator Hanna, Col. Myron T. Herrick and Hon. W. G. Harding, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor. Both meetings are to be non-partisan, but it is to be expected that some politics will be injected into each. The advance guard of the big influx of visitors arrived today and the attendance at the fair will likely break all records.

Rev. N. D. Creamer, of Columbus, Prohibition candidate for governor, is conducting an aggressive campaign and expects to speak in a majority of the counties before election time. He began his itinerary on August 7 and has already been in 20 counties. He will be in the Eighteenth district the fore part of October. On October 1 he will be in Stark, October 2 Carroll, October 3 Columbiana, October 5 Mahoning and October 6 Trumbull. Columbiana and Stark counties are the Prohibition strongholds of the state. Despite the fact that the party has made little advancement, it shows no signs of discouragement and each year finds it fighting manfully for the principles on which it was founded.

The Ohio Rifle team, in command of Assistant Adjutant General Edward T Miller, has left for Sea Girt, N. J., to compete in the national contest for the Hilton trophy. On the team is Corporal Charles B. Winders, of Company G, Sixth regiment, the crack shot of the world, who was a member of the United States team which won the international shoot at Henley, England, several weeks ago. The Hilton trophy is valued at $2,000 and at present is held by New York. Each year shows a big improvement in the marksmanship of the Ohio Guardsmen and has given rise to the hope that this state will carry off the prize before a great while.

Thomas McGee, a former East Liverpool potter, came over to Columbus from Crooksville Sunday, to call on friends and visit the institutions which make the city interesting. It was his first trip to the city. He is employed in the Crooksville pottery, which he reports is busy. He says that the people of that community are hospitable, progressive and deeply interested in their two white ware potteries, one of which is now building.

Harry McArter, of Lisbon, has arrived to spend a week with his brother, J. S. McArter, of 209 West Eleventh avenue.

Near Death from Paralysis.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—Mrs. Thos. B. Stewart, aged about 65 who was stricken with paralysis a week ago at her home in Wayne township, has been steadily growing weaker and is now thought to be near death. The entire left side is paralyzed.

Two Killed By a Wire

Beaver, Pa., August 31.—Owen Bowen, aged 16, and George Adams, colored, aged 30, were killed by a live electric light wire yesterday afternoon on the property of John Daley on Beaver terrace.

New Garden Boy Shot in the Breast While Handling a Rifle.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—George Woolf, the 16-year-old son of C. L. Woolf, of New Garden, was wounded in the breast Saturday by a 22-calibre bullet from a target rifle.

Young Woolf had cornered some game in a hole under the roots of a tree, and in stirring about with the gun barrel, got the muzzle plugged up. He was not aware of this until he pulled the trigger and the bullet came out at the breach, penetrating the breast and plowing upward into the shoulder. At last accounts the bullet had not been located.

New Safe Put In.

A BOLD ROBBERY RECALLED

When Newton Croxall, who was arrested on a charge of running a disorderly house in Jethro Hollow, was searched before confinement in a cell at central station Saturday night, Chief Wyman, together with money and other valuables, got possession of a lady's gold watch and chain. Usually such a find would not create any suspicion on the part of the chief, it not being uncommon for a man to have a lady's watch in his possession. But in this case the chief at once brought to mind a little escapade in which Croxall and a watch were strong features.

The chief remembered that Croxall and a young man by the name of Rambo had been sent to the Ohio penitentiary about three years ago, after being convicted of highway robbery. They stopped two well known young ladies of the city, sisters by the name of Schaffer, while they were en route to their home one dark night in a buggy, and after frightening them all but to death, robbed them of some money, other minor things and a gold watch. When the two men were arrested and convicted the stolen articles were not produced, and so far as the girls were concerned, were never given a thought after the trial. Chief Wyman knew all about the case that sent the two fellows over the road, both to serve five year sentences, and it is not strange that he was reminded of the affair upon seeing a lady's watch in the possession of Croxall, who got a pardon some time ago.

Feeling positive that he was not mistaken the chief sent the Schaffer sisters word to appear at the city hall this morning. They did so and immediately recognized the watch. One of the girls positively identified it by remembering initials that are inscribed on the outside of the case and that the watch was minus a rim, which she has laid away at home.

Miss Schaffer, after making the identification complete, was advised to seek a justice of the peace and commence proceedings to get possession of the watch. She secured the aid of 'Squire Rose and the proper proceedings were at once instituted.

NO SALE OF BONDS WAS EFFECTED

St. Clair Township Trustees Refuse a $400 Premium on $20,000.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—The county commissioners were notified Saturday afternoon that the $20,000 worth of bonds for road improvements, offered for sale by the St. Clair township trustees Friday, were not disposed of.

The most favorable bid received offered to take them at a premium of $400. An additional bid will be considered tomorrow.

River Rapidly Falling.

There is so little prospect of the boating stage in the river being maintained until the end of the week that the packets will not attempt to resume operations. The river has fallen four feet since yesterday and continues to recede today. By the end of the week it is expected that there will be less water than bfore the rains.

CROSSING THE TRACK TWO MEN MET DEATH

ANOTHER TRAIN PASSING CONFUSED THEM

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special.)—Two more lives were blotted out in a twinkling at Leetonia Saturday when Newton Fife and Michael Schlosser, both residents of that village, were struck and instantly killed by a Ft. Wayne flyer.

The accident occurred at 9 o'clock at the Columbia street crossing, near the station. The men had started over to the station from the Valley hotel, a few rods south of the Ft. Wayne tracks. At the crossing they had to wait until an eastbound freight train on the track next to them passed, and as the caboose cleared the crossing they stepped over the south track and onto the north track just in front of the flyer, which they had neither seen nor heard.

The flyer was rushing along at a terrific speed and the men were hurled a considerable distance, the skull of each was crushed and nearly every bone in their bodies were broken.

Coroner Jones was notified, but as it was a clear case of accidental death, the matter of an inquest was left to local authorities. The bodies were removed to Crowl's undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial.

Newton Fife was born at West Point and was 45 years old. He is survived by a wife, a married daughter and several small children. His mother, Mrs. Martha Fife, of Lisbon, also survives him, in addition to four brothers and three sisters: John H., of New York; William, of St. Mary's, W. Va.; George, of Youngstown, and James, of Leetonia, and Mrs. P. A. Walters, Mrs. George R. Moore and Miss Margaret, all of Lisbon. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 o'clock at the late home of the deceased, with burial at the Mennonite cemetery, a mile east of Leetonia.

Fife was in the employ of the Buckeye Engine company, of Salem, on some special work the company is doing in Leetonia.

Schlosser, who was a native of Austria, was 35 years old and unmarried. He had no near relatives in this country. Funeral services were held from the undertaking rooms in Leetonia at 2 o'clock this afternoon, with burial at Oakdale cemetery. Schlosser was employed at the Cherry Valley furnace.

A West End Woman Songht to End Her Days But Her Husband Came to Her Rescue.

Rather than take part any longer in a war of words with her husband, the like of which, it is said, have been very common since her marriage, Mrs. Fletcher Massey, of the West End, made a desperate attempt to end her life this afternoon by jumping in front of the pony engine, which was going at a fast rate of speed up the Horn switch. She was saved from the horrible death by her husband, who grabbed her when the engine was not more than six feet away.

Massey and his wife are said to have had trouble ever since their marriage several years ago, and at one time the husband deserted her for quite a long period. They were out together today, and in their wanderings got up in the central portion of the city. Shortly after 1 o'clock they concluded to return home and going over to the Horn switch started on the journey. While walking down the track they became engaged in an argument and Massey's epithets finally became so harsh that Mrs. Massey concluded death preferable to a life with such a person as a helpmeet. She warned him to cease in his tirade time and again, but he heeded nothing, she said, and when she saw the approach of the pony engine she determined without saying a word to end it all.

That she did not accomplish the desperate act was due to her being overzealous. The husband saw her make the first step toward the track, but thought nothing until she leaped far down the track. He knew then the end she was attempting to accomplish and he jumped with one bound to her side. Grabbing her by the arms he gave one strenuous pull and succeeded in freeing her from certain death by his quick action.

The trainmen saw the act, but were unable to stop the engine and would undoubtedly have run over the distracted woman. After her rescue the husband commenced again on a tirade and tried to get her to explain. She simply said that death would be better than a life with him.

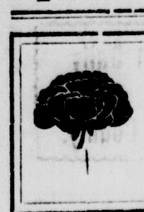
One of the important questions settled at the special meeting of council held Saturday evening was the disposal of the $92,925 worth of bonds. As announced in the News Review, the question was taken up with the intention of getting rid of the bonds at some figure and the councilmen were not long in accepting what they thought to be the best offer.

The proposition made by Attorney George Gaston, of Cleveland, wherein he agreed to secure a buyer if the city would give him $175 brokerage, was turned down after the city auditor informed the body that he had received a telegram from J. R. Williams & Co., of Pittsburg, stating that they would buy the bonds and give a premium of $200 for them. That was the largest premium yet offered and council took advantage of the offer.

The company made it plain in the proposition, however, that the bonds would not be taken unless they could be furnished by Wednesday of this week. The councilmen went to the lowest bidder and found that they could not do the work by that time. Consequently the work was given to another party.

By so disposing of the bonds the city clerk and treasurer will have the money in a very short time and some of the obligations that have been drawing interest at the rate of seven per cent will soon be wiped away. That will afford a source of much general satisfaction over the city. The business men will be especially benefited as stated previously in the News Review. Since the city has been owing local banks $5,000 or more it has been impossible for the business men to get money, they being compelled to go to Pittsburg after it. They will now be able to get what money they need.

Contractor Ryan and numerous others will also benefit by the sale.



WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

IMMENSE CONTRACT.

One of the largest contracts ever placed with a western pottery was recently secured by the Weir Pottery company, of Monmouth, Ill. It was made with the Sleepy Eye Milling company, of Sleepy Eye, Minn., and the first run on the ware is now being made. On August 1 the first shipment to the Minnesota company was made, and the goods are now being turned out as rapidly as possible.

Little idea of the extent of the order can be obtained until figures are given. The contract calls for 500,000 pieces of Flemish ware, and also gives the milling concern option on 500,000 more. They advise the Weir people that they will probably take advantage of the option they hold, so that when the contract is finished it is probable that one concern will have purchased an even million pieces of the Monmouth ware. The first order of 500,000 pieces will weigh 1,750,000 pounds and to transport it 73 cars will be used.

The order from the Sleepy Eye people speaks much for the ware that is being turned out by the Weir company. This company has already become famous as the manufacturers of the Weir fruit jar, but several other different kinds of ware are now being made at its plant. The order from the famous Minnesota flouring company is for Flemish ware, an entirely new product for the Monmouth company.

KOKOMO'S NEW PLANT.

Edward Cook has returned from Kokomo, Ind., where he has been engaged for two months in constructing the buildings for the Columbia Sanitary Pottery company. Mr. Cook also superintended the repairs of the kilns for the Crown Pottery company plant. New crowns and mouths were placed in the kilns. The Columbia pottery will be ready for operation in two weeks. Clay is already being made. The main building is 640x60 feet and two stories in height. The kiln department is 90x84 feet. All the buildings are of brick. The capacity of the new pottery is five kilns, which can be increased as desired.

NEW BOHEMIA WARE.

An entirely new china has been introduced into London under the name of Eosen Aurora. It comes from Bohemia and has been awarded medals at several exhibitions. Its chief characteristic is the exquisite luster which is produced on the surface, giving it a metallic appearance. The prevailing colors of the work are deep purple, crimson and orange, with a dull bronze sheen. The designs are mostly l'Art Nouveau style, simple motives obtained by lines and curves on vases of novel and artistic shape, scarcely any two pieces being exactly alike.

THE WEATHER.

A GOOD SELECTION.

Charles Pelly, who has been selected as the art director of the new Carrollton plant, was a visitor to that town last week and spent several days looking over the new plant. Mr. Pelly will remove his family to Carrollton as soon as the plant is ready for operation. The selection of Mr. Pelly as the manager of the decorating department was a good stroke upon the part of the firm and in him it has a first-class man. Mr. Pelly has been connected with the American Ceramic Art company and has also been employed as a decorator at the Sevres.

PAINFUL INJURY.

CLAY MANUFACTURERS

JIGGERMEN IDLE TODAY.

Go Prepared.

In preparing for your summer outing a little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Mr. John H. Manly, a dry goods merchant, of Bellville, R. I., while packing an outfit for camping a few weeks on Narragansett Bay, put in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for emergency use. The second day in camp his little boy was taken with cramp colic. The first dose of this remedy gave relief and the second dose effected a cure. Think of the pain and suffering this boy would have had to endure without this remedy at hand to relieve him. Such cases often result fatally. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

—NIAGARA FALLS.—

The P. & L. E. R. R. will run the last special low rate excursion to Niagara Falls on Saturday, September 12.

Tickets will be sold for trains leaving Beaver at 9:07 a. m. and 11:15 p. m., central time, at rate of $4.25 round trip, valid for return five days including date of sale. Through coaches and sleepers on train leaving Pittsburg at 10:30 p. m.

For sleeper berths and other informationcall on J. H. Sterling, G. P. A., Pittsburg.

CARROLLTON NOTES.

The third kiln was dried out yesterday.

The sixth kiln of saggers was fired yesterday. There are now about 4,000 saggers on hand.

The dripping house, biscuit ware room and green room have been put in readiness for occupancy.

Charles Terry, who has been working in the sagger department for the past three weeks, has returned to East Liverpool.

The pottery company have secured the services of four salesmen who will go out just as soon as the samples can be prepared.

The management is being greatly handicapped through the failure of the machinery to arrive. It has been expected for over a week.

The moulds have been removed from the mould shop to their respective places in the pressing and jigger departments, which is in the second story.

Will Hackney, the mould maker, states that he now has a sufficient number of moulds on hand for the pottery to commence work. Mr. Fletcher, the sagger man, says he is also ready with the saggers.

The employes of the pottery living at a distance have been notified to report for work next Monday morning, when the pottery will be put in operation. At least a dozen men are here now awaiting the starting of the concern.

Will Leigh, of Lisbon, has rented the Fawcett house, and he and his mother will move here in the course of a few weeks. Their goods are now stored in the room formerly occupied by the pottery officials. Mr. Leigh is a jiggerman.

H. W. Saunders, of Hanley, England, has come here from Trenton, N. J. He is the modeler for the pottery and is putting out some beautiful specimens which are in keeping with the national reputation he has for doing first-class work. One of them is a brush and comb tray, and another a fruit dish. Mr. Saunders is testing some of the red clay found between here and Scroggsfield. He is a graduate in chemistry and an adept modeler.

The Young Men's Christian Association chartered the big hotel at Silver Bay, Lake George, for the month of August and filled this resort, together with some of the neighboring cottages, with its members and their families. During the first 10 days an institute with meetings in the morning and evening was held. The addresses were given by men who are leaders in Christian thought and activity. Bible study and studies of the social life of young men were arranged for those who desired to attend at other hours.

During the entire month a training conference for secretaries of the Young Men's Christian Association was held, in which 21 men were registered. Next year a department for training physical directors will be introduced. There are now over 200 vacancies in the Young Men's Christian association secretarial ranks demanding men who have been trained for the direction of associations. This may be now called a new profession. Nearly 2,000 men are engaged in it. The two training schools of the Young Men's Christian Association at Springfield, Mass., and at Chicago are able to supply but a small part of the number required.

There is just now opening at Silver Bay a conference for the older boys of the association's boys' departments with 150 boys in attendance from all parts of the country east of Wisconsin. These boys are officers and leaders of the boys' departments, in which there are over 40,000 boys enrolled.

The western associations have an encampment on Lake Geneva of 14 acres, which has been crowded from June to August 30, the dining room accommodates nearly 300. In its institute for training secretaries and physical directors it had 113 men enrolled. Beginning with the conference for college men and ending with that for the association members, athletics, boating, swimming and mountain climbing filled the days of the men present as much as the conferences and other meetings. It is a combination vacation resort and institute.

THE PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS

And Is Still Learning Much About the Nature of the Dread Disease And Methods of Combatting It—Consumption Not Hereditary.

Columbus, August 31.—(Special)—Dr. C. O. Probst, secretary of the new Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, has issued the following interesting statement:

The Ohio Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis was organized in November, 1901. The name indicates its object. One of the chief methods to be employed for obtaining this object will be the dissemination of reliable information concerning the cause and prevention of tuberculosis. A series of short articles on this subject, of which this is the first, has been prepared.

Many interesting phases of the subject must be left untouched from lack of space; but any question which interested readers may wish to have answered should be sent to the secretary, who will furnish the information desider, if possible.

The society now numbers more than 300 members—men and women, physicians and laymen. Anyone wishing to join will be warmly welcomed.

Tuberculosis is a disease which may affect any organ of the body. The lungs are most generally attacked. Here it is known as consumption, on account of the great wasting of the body usually present before death.

Tuberculosis destroys more than 6,000 people in this state every year. If allowed to go on unchecked fully 400,000 of those now living in Ohio must die from this illness.

The disease has been known from the earliest history of medicine, and continues to prevail in all parts of the civilized world. Its infectious character was long ago more than once suggested.

Toward the close of the eighteenth century this must have been the popular belief in many countries. In Naples in 1782, a royal decree required the disease to be reported and quarantined. Disinfection was carried out after the death or recovery of the patient.

This idea of the communicability of consumption, so strongly fixed in the minds of Neapolitans and others, was gradually dispelled by the theory of heredity. It is of great importance that this question of heredity should be correctly and very generally understood.

To know that it is not an inherited disease should bring hope and gladness to thousands of tuberculous parents, and to the children of such parents. Acting under the belief that the disease was inherited no precautions were taken to prevent the communication of consumption from one to another. Whole families were swept away—not on account of heredity, but because the living germ that produces it was not destroyed.

With the discovery of the veritable cause of tuberculosis, to which allusion will be made later on, heredity as the cause of the disease could no longer be accepted.

We can now be absolutely certain that without this germ of tuberculosis there can be no tuberculosis.

To inherit consumption it would be necessary for this germ to be transmitted from parent to offspring, and we know that this practically never happens.

One may inherit a tendency to tuberculosis. Other things being equal, a child with one parent, and especially both, consumptive, will be more apt to develop the disease when exposed to the exciting cause than a child whose parents have been free from tuberculosis.

Experiments in preventing the spread of tuberculosis among animals is most instructive. Bangs, of Copenhagen, who is an authority on this subject, has shown that it is possible to entirely eradicate the disease from a herd of cattle in the following manner:

The animals are all tested for tuberculosis by injections of tuberculin. The sick and the well animals are then completely separated. Calves born of tuberculous mothers are at once removed, and are fed on the milk from a healthy animal.

Frequent tests with tuberculin are made of the apparently healthy animals, and any found to have developed tuberculosis are rejected. In one or two years' time it is possible in this manner to entirely weed out tuberculosis from a large held of animals, even when 60 per cent or more of them were affected in the beginning.

"The family B. was composed of five children, a father who died of consumption and a mother who was well.

"The second child was removed from its home immediately after its birth, reared by a healthy nurse until he was 13 years of age, and then put into a school. He is now a healthy man of 36. He has never lived with his parents.

"The four other children lived with their parents. Two of them have died of pulmonary tuberculosis, and the other two have the disease in an advanced stage.

"In another family of seven children the father and mother were both tuberculous. The second and the fifth child were removed from their parents and their brothers and sisters, and never lived with them.

"The five children reared by their parents have all died of tuberculosis. The two who were isolated have remained well, are now both married and have fine healthy children of their own."—(From "Tuberculosis—Infection, Heredity," etc., by Dr. A. G. Young.)

This early and complete separation of children and parents will seldom be possible, nor is it necessary, for if strict precautions are taken by consumptive parents to guard their offspring against infection in the home they will be in little danger of contracting the disease.

We may dismiss heredity, then, by saying that it is simply a predisposing cause of tuberculosis, like alcoholism, overcrowding, bad ventilation, damp soil, etc.

No one need be disheartened because he has lost a parent or near relative from consumption. He is, it is true, slightly more prone to the disease than others. But this predisposition may be overcome by simple hygienic measures, to be spoken of later, which will at the same time protect him against many other diseases due to faulty habits of living.

The next article will be devoted to the cause of tuberculosis—the nature of the germ that produces it and the various predisposing causes that render the human body a favorable soid for its growth.

CURES KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES,

Give you a good appetite, renew life cells in young and old. Permanently restore youthful vigor and vitality. They tone up the whole system and make you feel like a new person. No remedy in the world to equal them. Take a few Nervan Tablets and note the wonderful effect.

An ignorantly compounded remedy, containing alcohol, as nearly all kidney remedies do, will stimulate them so violently that an inflammation will be set up, and instead of being merely lazy the kidneys will become diseased. Alcohol congests the kidneys with blood and retards their activity.

There is no Alcohol in Nervan Tablets to interfere with the removal of all harmful sediment from the body. The Tablets soothe and heal the kidneys when they are irritated and inflamed. They cure the kidney diseases that make you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable; that make you pass water often during the day and night; that cause rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain in the back, joints and muscles; that make your head ache and indigestion, stomach and liver trouble, and a sallow, yellow complexion.

No matter how many other remedies you may have tried and found useless, remember the great modern remedy, Nervan Tablets.

Two large congregations assembled at the First M. E. church yesterday and the services were highly enjoyed by all. Besides most eloquent and forcible sermons delivered by the pastor, Rev. Milton Butler Pratt, D. D., the musical programs were pleasing features. The choir, assisted by Miss Katherine McKeever, one of the most talented vocalists in the city, performed its work with credit.

"The Audacity of Love" was the subject chosen by the able minister for his morning sermon and he preached with an inspiration that held every listener throughout the discourse. To love, the preacher credited all that is good, and drew all conclusions by a comparison of love with selfishness. The latter, in the opinion of the speaker, is at the root of all great evils and but for it the world today would be one mammoth paradise.

The subject was founded on the 20th chapter of John, 15th verse. It is a chapter in which the disciple, John, writes of the crucifixion and eloquently portrays the audacity of love when describing the appearance of Mary at the sepulcher. Her love for Jesus flamed up and she stubbornly refused to be bounded. Her love arose superior to the sense of reason. When she found that the body had been taken away the only thought that occurred to her was that it had been stolen. It did not occur to her at all that something divine had removed it. Her feeble strength was no barrier in her mind. She asked the gardener to direct her where the body had been taken and she would get it. This she did without meditating for a moment concerning the magnitude of the proposition. It was her deep love for Christ that led her to do it.

The footsteps of the race are marked by the accomplishment of the impossible. It is our wonderful audacity that has accomplished such things. And behind the audacity is love. The world is made up of individuals and it is through the individuals that we accomplish an end, be it good or bad. The environments that make an individual good have a like result on an entire community, and those that make the individual bad have the same effect on the community. Therefore the individual should covet good. Selfishness by all means should be shunned. Through it everything bad is derived. What the nations would do were it not for the love of God being shed abroad in the human heart is hard to state. This love of God is the only reforming power which we have. Love is refining. There are many definitions for the word but there should be but one. When translated into terms concrete it means "unselfish regard for others' welfare."

To admire one is not to love him. The human race believes that love is simply to admire and adore, but in that a great mistake is made. The reflex influence of love is indeed refining. It will eliminate that which by influence would cause harm. Any influence that would teach or feed a bad spirit would be and is eliminated everything when love is accomplished. Love is also elevating. It detects signs of danger invisible to the eye. It gives man sharpened faculties. Who imagines that Washington or any other such man could have ever accomplished those great historical feats but for his sharpened faculties? Behind all of it was love. No truly great man ever lived who did not possess that faculty.

Love is dauntless. Does the patriot know when he is whipped? Does the Christian ever die? The only dauntless power in the world is love. A man possessing love can only be aroused when danger lurks near him. Love dies triumphant at the last. Love is not only dauntless, it is almighty. Love lays the foundation for the country's welfare. It stands for God at any cost.

Selfishness antagonizes Jesus. It can be found at the root of everything displeasing to God. We are blessed with all that is beautiful, gracious and honorable and it is not through selfishness that we are given it, it is through Christian love. All that has trampled down human souls from Alpha and Omega emenates from selfishness. These things being undisputed facts, will you base your lives on Christian love or on unchristian selfishness? We owe everything of which we are proud to the love of God. Think, meditate on your own career. Remember how God has crowned you with success, honor and glory. Through these you are benefitted much and to God's love are you indebted for them all.

THE TIE THAT BINDS TOGETHER FOR GOOD

"The New Commandment" was the subject of Rev. Edwin Weary's sermon at St. Stephen's church last evening. From Christ's words, "Love Ye One Another," as a text, he delivered a powerful discourse. In part he said:

"There is a vast difference between the word 'like' and the word 'love.' We like because we are being directly benefited by something; when we love we seek to benefit others. We like to please ourselves; we love to please others.

"To live is to find out our true selves. By loving the individuality asserts itself and becomes impersonated in someone else. We speak of person. What does it mean? If one is wrapped up in himself, living merely for selfish gratifications and has no personality is not being revealed. He consideration for his fellowmen, his must come out of himself and live in another. He must have a regard for those about him and sympathize with them in their human frailties and rejoicewith them in their strength and happiness. He must live for others as well as for himself.

"Love is not confined to animate beings but inanimate objects as well. We love truth, honor, honesty and all the virtues and we love our country. If we love our country we gain citizenship and we gain manhood. If we love truth, honor, honesty and the noble virtues we manifest the characteristics of true manhood because we follow the lead of God who created us in the image of Himself. There is but one law, the law of love. Society is founded upon it. Wherever you find sociability you will find that it is a creation of the principle of love. Society can be instituted by no other for love is divine and holds men together.

"What are the institutions of society? They are the nation, the family and the church. These three institutions are based on love. We cannot find a nation, a Christian nation, existing today without love forming the basic principle of its laws. The law of love is the great underlying of all law, both spiritual and civic. We cannot find a family living in the sweet comfort of happiness and harmony without love forming the binding tie. We cannot find the church of God existing today with its influence pointing for good to mankind without finding love for both God and man the guiding law. There are other societies existing today. Hundreds of clubs and organizations are formed, but they are founded on contract and not on love and they do not have a durable life.

"A great work has been given to the church to teach this law of universal love. It must teach its members to sacrifice for the sake of others. It is in love for others that we exemplify the meaning of true love. In medical, phychological and scientific research we are told that we all live for one another and that we could not live apart. Love must bind us in the bonds of fellowship and the human family will be what it was ordained to be by God, the noblest institution of existence."

STARS IN THE CROWN

Rev. Dr. McWilliams, of Parnassus, Pa., who was a class mate of Rev. C. G. Jordan, preached at the First Presbyterian church yesterday. In his morning sermon he said:

"Preaching is telling the glad news. The sermon that does not exalt Jesus is no sermon. We are to preach Him by word and deed. Will you go empty handed before Him? Do you want no star in your crown?

"A young woman was dressing for an evening party, and had placed a beautiful cluster of diamonds in her hair when her little sister who looked on in wonder said: 'My Sunday school teacher told me if I could win a soul for Jesus I would have a star in my crown.' The older one went to her party, and when she came home saw the little sister sleeping calmly and sweetly. Her heart was touched. 'I wonder if it might be the star in her crown,' she said, and kneeling down in her costly raiment she prayed until she knew her soul was saved, and the crown of the little sister held its coveted star.

"Some of us think religion is narrow, but we must extend it to all. Be careful in your preaching for the recording angel is taking notes, and the book of records bears it all.

"Let your light shine. It is no disgrace to go to Sunday school. John did his work as Elijah did his. The lips that had cried Repent and be baptized' were stilled forever, the strong arm was cold and stiff in death, sacrificed to the whim of a jealous woman. But his voice is with us today. Will you not hear it? Will you not cry out 'My Saviour and my God?'

"A distinguished artist once painted a picture of Calvary. A mother whose sailor son had refused to hear the voice of the Saviour persuaded him to go and see it, and while he went she prayed. The painter saw him enter the room and anxious to know what a sailor would think of his work followed him in. Long he looked upon the canvas. A tear rolled down his cheek, and he arose saying, 'The man who painted that believes, as mother believes and I believe, too.' Isn't it marvelous that the canvas touched by the master hand could change this man? Isn't it marvelous that as we look through the eyes of faith He will love us and save us for life in eternity?"

NO REASON TO BE ASHAMED OF CHRIST

"Not Ashamed of the Gospel" was the theme of Rev. J. W. Gorrell's sermon delivered before a large congregation at the Christian church last evening. Referring to the triumphs of Christianity during nineteen centuries, during which Christ has received the homage of the greatest and noblest intellects and the adoration of the purest hearts and the reverence of civilized humanity, the speaker said, it is difficult for us to see how there could be any temptation to be ashamed of the gospel.

"The Religion of Christ," he continued, "had its beginning in Palestine, a small country. The founder was a Jew and His mother was an humble woman. The death on the cross was a disgraceful death. The most of the first disciples were of the poorer people. To a man of worldly mind these things would be very damaging. Paul was not ashamed of the gospel, although it demanded faith in a crucified redeemer and a life of self denial.

"It offered no preferment from a worldly standpoint—no throne, no splendid ritual or magnificent temple. Paul gave up his standing as a rabbi, accepted Judaism as a preparatory dispensation, which was repuisive to a Jew; gave up his position in Grecian philosophy. Paul looked upon the gospel as the divine way of reconciling the guilty to God.

"Paul considered the gospel as the highest manifestation of God's power. The gospel achieves moral transformations. Christians should never in any societies or circumstances be ashamed of the gospel. Christianity has changed savagery to civilization. It has caused whole nations to abolish slavery. It has overthrown the worships of heathen gods with all attendant cruelty of sacrifices. The purposes of the gospel are the highest and noblest of earth. No Christian should be ashamed of the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Back from Vacation.

Rev. A. A. Steele has returned from his vacation spent in the mountains, and last evening occupied the pulpit at the M. P. chapel on Pleasant Heights. Since the change was made converting the chapel from a congregational to a Methodist Protestant institution, it has been unusually prosperous and the attendance has increased materially. Services are conducted regularly each Sunday, Rev. Steele being the pastor.

An Excellent Sermon.

Rev. C. S. Manor, formerly of this city, occupied the pulpit last evening of the First United Presbyterian church and preached to a large congregation, composed in part of many of his old friends. His sermon was strong, convincing and eloquent.

Persons troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia can eat all they want if they take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. EAST END

Will Lecture at the Second United Presbyterian Church on Friday Night.

During the past summer the congregations of the East End churches have had opportunities to hear a number of missionary workers, home from the oriental countries for a few months vacation and rest, and in every instance the lectures were greatly enjoyed. An announcement of particular interest to those who delight in stories of the far east was made this morning that Rev. Willis Hotchkiss, a missionary, whose field has been in the very heart of Darkest Africa, will lecture at the Second Presbyterian church on next Friday evening.

Rev. Mr. Hotchkiss is spending a few months in this country after almost 10 years of hard work among the savages of the jungles. In that time he has met with many thrilling experiences and many times has been compelled to face the gravest of dangers, and his recollections and experiences should certainly prove highly entertaining.

Two Picnics This Week.

Two church picnics are to be held this week, that of the Erie street Methodist on next Thursday at Inglewood grove and that of the Second Presbyterian on Friday at Thompson park. The program for the Methodist picnic has been announced and plenty of innocent amusement for the entire day has been provided. The program for the Presbyterian picnic has also been announced and includes many entertaining athletic contests.

The Secrest Lecture.

Rev. J. E. Secrest, who is to lecture at the Erie street Methodist church tomorrow evening, will take a topic from some important matter pertaining to the Steubenville district Epworth League, of which he is president. An invitation has been extended to the Epworth Leagues of East Liverpool and Wellsville to hear the lectures by the president and a large attendance is promised.

Organizing a Circle.

D. Frank White, district deputy for the Protected Home Circle, returned Saturday evening from a visit of several days at Mechanicstown, in the interest of the order. He has been organizing a circle for that town and met with encouraging success. The required number of members has been secured and he expects to return and install the new circle within the next two weeks.

Rev. Mr. McQuiston Home.

Rev. D. W. McQuiston, of the Second United Presbyterian church, who has been passing his vacation in the west, returned Saturday evening. He visited Iowa, Michigan and several other western states and renewed many old acquaintances and friendships. He is feeling hale and hearty and eager to resume his pastoral duties.

A Special Sermon.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt, of the Erie street Methodist church, is preparing a sermon for next Sunday that promises to be of more than usual interest and which will certainly be most timely. The topic is "Seven Indictments Against Modern Dancing," and will be well worth hearing.

Will Elect Officers.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Erie street Methodist church will meet next Friday evening at the home of Mrs. William House, on Pennsylvania avenue. The meeting is one of the most important for some time as officers for the ensuing year are to be elected.

Will Attend the Races.

The race meet at Beaver Falls this week is attracting the attention of East End horsemen and many will attend. Robert L, owned by Will Larkins, and a popular local favorite will start in one of the pacing events and is expected to carry away the money.

To Give Reception.

Invitations are out for a reception to be given in honor of Paul Andrews of First avenue, who is to return to college in a short time. The reception will be given on Tuesday evening at the Andrews home on First avenue.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

W. A. Orin has resigned at Dawson's meat market to accept a position at Larkins' grocery.

Quite a number of East End people were at the Hollow Rock camp meeting yesterday, among them, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jones and Mr. and Mrs. John Grant.

Martha Hilton, of Sandy Bottom, who has been seriously ill of typhoid fever, is now convalescent.

Miss Margaret Aufderheide, of Ashtabula, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Norton, of St. George street.

O. J. Mason, of St. Louis, arrived here last night and will visit W. A. Orin, of St. George street, for a few days.

Eureka Circle will meet tomorrow night to initiate a number of candidates and attend to some other business matters.

C. C. McAfee will leave tomorrow for Pomeroy, where he will meet his wife and son, who have been visiting relatives there.

Invitations have been received by a number of East End young people for the dance to be given Wednesday evening at the home of Postmaster William Burt, of Ohioville. The invitation will be accepted by several couples.

New Kind of Life Insurance.

For twenty five cents you can insure yourself and family against any serious results from an attack of bowel complaint during the summer months. That is the price of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, a medicine that can always be depended upon even in the most severe and dangerous cases. It is equally valuable for children and adults. When reduced with water and sweetened it is pleasant to take. This remedy has relieved more pain and suffering and saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world. It is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Coal Bunkers on Fire.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 31.—The flagship Yankee, of the naval training squadron, flying the flag of Rear Admiral W. C. Wise and which has been engaged in the maneuvering off Portland, entered the harbor with her midship bunker afire. The fire was discovered Thursday morning by smoke on the gundeck. Some 200 tons of coal were removed from the top of the bunker, leaving some 300 tons. Then the fire hose was used and since that time the fire has been smoldering. The crew is still engaged in moving the coal from one bunker to another. The Yankee coaled at Bar Harbor on Aug. 9 and this is some of the soft coal taken aboard there.

Despondent Chinaman Suicides.

Honolulu, Aug. 31.—Charles Ahl, a prominent member of the Bow Wong society, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He had recently returned from China. Persecutions there on account of his reform record caused him to come to Honolulu. He was expelled from college in China and was despondent over his inability to remain there.

Hanna's Health Improved.

Cleveland, Aug. 31.—Senator M. A. Hanna, who was taken suddenly ill a few days ago in his office, is much improved and will try to go to his office to attend a political conference with state leaders.

Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil will fortify a weak, run down, emaciated system and enable it to better withstand the summer heat. It revitalizes the blood, invigorates the digestive function, and imparts a tonic influence to every nerve and tissue. Pleasant to take.

The city council has decided to let no grass grow under its feet and has ordered that immediate steps be taken looking toward a decision of the important points involved in the question at issue between the city and the gas company. The action is right and proper and will be universally commended. Whether the city has a right to fix gas rates at a figure that shall not be extortionate is a question that concerns every gas consumer, and there are few persons in East Liverpool who do not depend upon the natural gas company for their fuel supply. Nobody is in a humor for allowing the monopoly to have its own way and thus striking a serious blow at the prosperity of the city. East Liverpool is close to the gas producing territory and much of its rapid growth in the past few years has been due to the fact that that excellent fuel has been abundant and reasonably cheap. The city cannot afford tamely to submit to such a defiance of the law and of its authority as the gas company is attempting, thus making a luxury of a commodity that has become a household necessity here. The battle will undoubtedly be strenuous, but with right and justice on its side the city ought to win it.

The school terms are about to open in Ohio, and many country districts are finding it difficult to engage teachers. Hod carriers and day laborers can get as much pay as some of these districts are offering and can also have work more months in the year. Under these circumstances the dearth of educators is not to be wondered at. Ohio school boards must raise wages in rural schools if they expect the schools to prosper.

Six months have elapsed since the Ohio Bankers' association undertook the task of raising by popular subscription $25,000 with which to purchase a silver service for the battleship Ohio. According to the latest report, only $3,000 of this amount has been realized, and unless more ginger is put into the work, the battleship will be christened without this desirable adjunct to her equipment. Is state pride lacking?

Sir Thomas Lipton has learned that America leads in a good many other things besides building and sailing yachts and is frank enough to say so. In return for the free advertising he and his business are getting on this side of the water he is certainly disposed to do the fair thing, and he makes an excellent press agent.

It takes an Ohio man to size up Tom Johnson. Private Dalzell's description of him as "a wandering Willie in the political arena, a wild ass braying in the Democratic desert," is hard to excel.

Two more American heiresses are expected soon to become the wives of English dukes. It's simply wonderful how the supply of English dukes holds out.

The city is to be congratulated on getting a premium on its bonds, even though it was compelled to wait.

Lipton does not give up easily, but the logic of events compels him to acknowledge American superiority.

There are plenty of good reasons why the order to Admiral Cotton should not be countermanded.

On sober second thought, Colombia thinks she would rather have that $10,000,000 than to miss it.

The Turkey shooting season has opened in the orient.

Summer is expiring with a serene smile.

in which electric lighting companies, natural or artificial gas companies, or gas light or coke companies may be established, or into which their wires, mains or pipes may be conducted, are hereby empowered to regulate, from time to time, the price which said electric lighting, natural or artificial gas, or gas and coke companies may charge for electric light or for gas for lighting or fuel purposes, furnished by such companies to the citizens, public grounds and buildings, streets, lanes, alleys, avenues, wharves and landing places and such electric lighting, natural or artificial gas, or gas light or coke companies shall, in no event charge more for any electric light, or natural or artificial gas furnished to such corporation or individuals than the prices specified by ordinance of such council; and such council shall also have power to regulate and fix the price which such companies shall charge for rent of their meters."

It was feared for a time that the company might abandon its lines in this city, but it is thought from an examination of the franchise under which the company operates here that it will not do so. The caluse on the subject says:

"If the use of said pipe for conducting said gas be abandoned for a period of one year, all rights under this ordinance shall cease." It has been stated that in case a protest was made by the justly indignant consumers, and an attempt to secure legislation was made the company would immediately abandon the territory. Members of the company have said there were many points they could reach without difficulty, the people of which would be glad to get gas at any price. According to the section quoted above the experiment would be an exceedingly expensive one, and hardly likely to be tried.

Solicitor Davidson is busy today preparing the petition in the proceedings and will forward the paper to the clerk of courts at Lisbon tomorrow.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

Mrs. J. C. Taggart is rapidly improving after a brief illness.

Arthur Beach has returned from an extended visit to England.

Miss Elsie Wood, of Avondale street, goes to Wheeling this week where she will visit with friends.

Mrs. Thomas Richey, of Verona, Pa., is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. C. Walter, on the Northside.

Mrs. Florence Blackmore, of East Market street, has returned from a visit to Montreal, Canada.

Dr. W. A. Hobbs left Saturday for Chautauqua Lake, New York, where he will visit his family until tomorrow.

Thomas Doherty left this morning for Akron, whither he goes as a delegate to the C. M. B. A. convention which opens tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Bert Wells, of Youngstown, is suffering from blood poisoning at Steubenville, caused by a wound in the hand made by the fin of a black bass which she was handling. Mr. Wells is a brother of W. E. Wells, of this city, and his wife was formerly Miss Nell Geisse, of East Liverpool.

Mrs. August Martin, who was seriously ill at her home near West Point, has so rapidly improved that she was able to be in this city on Saturday.

Mrs. William Bulger and daughter, Miss Olive, have returned to their home in the East End, Pittsburg, after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin H. Bulger, of this city.

Dr. David Jones, pastor of the M. P. church of this city, and Delegate Proctor Ankrim left today for Kittanning, Pa., where the annual conference of the Pittsburg district will convene on Wednesday. The delegate from the First church has been instructed to request Dr. Jones' return to the East Liverpool congregation.

TRIED TO BREAK INTO THE CHURCH

DRINK-CRAZED MAN SAID HE WANTED TO TAKE PLEDGE.

Declaring that he would take the pledge and that he would do so in the Catholic church, David Lovett, a potter, of Trenton, who has been on a spree in the city for several weeks, went to the door of St. Aloysius' church at a late hour Saturday night and when there was no response made to his knocks on the door he commenced to hammer it with blows that would have resulted in its destruction had Chief Wyman not been attracted to the scene.

Several men informed the chief that there was something unusual occurring near the Catholic church and he immediately made a run for that section of the city. Upon his arrival Lovett was kicking and pounding at the door of the church in desperation. The chief did not realize the condition of the poor fellow and he was handled rather roughly. A number of men were called by the chief to aid in making the arrest and after a desperate struggle Lovett was landed in the city jail.

During the hours of Saturday night and Sunday and even today the man, who has developed an awful case of delirium tremens, ranted and tore around in his cell like wild. His case is a most pitiable one and everything is being done to restore him to his normal senses.

The police arrested three other drunken men Sunday. George Stewart, who has appeared at city hall so many times that he is about to believe it is his home, was taken in by Officer Morris. James Ryan was also arrested by Morris and August Craft was placed under arrest by Officer Fisher. The latter trio will be heard this evening.

IN A PITIABLE CONDITION

Rochester, Pa., August 31.—Joseph A. Nelson, who had filled the office of tax collector for the borough of Rochester for 14 years, was discovered in the woods near Jamestown, N. Y., Saturday in a pitiable condition. He was suffering from a delusion that a number of Japanese and railroad detectives were trying to capture him, and had been wandering in the woods for several days. His clothing was torn, and he was wet to the skin from the rain which had fallen, and the exposure he had undergone had left him in a very serious condition.

Mrs. Nelson had gone to Jamestown some time ago to visit at the home of her brother, Walter Marsh, and the first of last week Mr. Nelson started for the same place to join his wife. He had not been feeling well for a few days, and it is believed that his mind became unbalanced while making the trip. It is believed that he had nothing to eat for at least three days, which added to his weakened condition.

Mrs. Nelson was located by the police in Jamestown, and when notified of the condition of her husband, called at police headquarters and took charge of him.

Mr. Nelson is well known in Rochester, where he has a number of relatives and friends. He served as deputy sheriff for a few months under Sheriff Bliss after the latter's election to office this year. Mr. Nelson is a veteran of the civil war, was born and raised in Rochester, and was a jeweler by occupation.

Will Admitted to Probate.

Lisbon, August 31. — (Special.) — The will of the late David Adams, of St. Clair township, has been admitted to probate and the widow, Louisa Adams, has accepted its terms. All the property, including the homestead and 3½ acres in St. Clair township is left to the wife, at her death to be divided equally between their sons, David T. and Roy Adams. Wm. H. Smith is named as executor.

Likely to Be Called as Pastor.

Lisbon, August 31. — (Special.) — Rev. James L. Reed, of West Alexandria, Pa., preached very acceptably to a large audience at the Bethel Presbyterian church in Wayne township Sunday morning. The church has been without a pastor for some time and a call will probably be extended to Rev. Mr. Reed. He has been invited to preach again a week from Sunday.

WELLSVILLE

Leonard Eells, who shot Chief of Police Fred Houser through the right arm last Friday evening, was caught at Steubenville early Saturday evening by Detective Jewell and another detective of the C. & P. railroad. Mr. Jewell on Saturday received a minute description of the man wanted from Mayor Fogo and with his brother detective that evening they learned that a man had visited a certain doctor in Steubenville and had a 32-calibre bullet extracted from his back. They at once investigated and obtained a trace of him, finding him a short time afterwards. Eells had informed the physician who attended him, that a man had shot him at Toronto.

The bullet taken from the man's back was undoubtedly that of Chief Houser, as he had been using a 32-calibre revolver and Officer Morrissey a 28-calibre gun. Eells' wound was not a serious one. The bullet had entered his side and striking a rib, glanced around to his back where it lodged.

Eells was brought before Mayor Fogo this morning and the charge of shooting with intent to kill was read to him. He pleaded not guilty and the mayor bound him over to court in the sum of $1,000. He will be taken to Lisbon as soon as the sheriff can come and get him.

Miss Helen Russell, a sister of Howard Russell, who ran away from his home on lower Front street Saturday, August 15, received a letter from the missing boy Friday evening. It was dated Wilmington, Pa. In the letter he explained to his sister that he had secured a position in a mill at Wilmington and that he intended remaining there for the present. He asked that his clothes be sent to him at once.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell, the parents of the boy, went to Wilmington Saturday, where they took his clothes. Mrs. Russell was nearly distracted during the two weeks that nothing was learned of the whereabouts of the boy, but she has now recovered. Mr. and Mrs. Russell return from Wilmington some time today. They will allow their son to remain where he is.

P. H. C. Picnic a Success.

Quite a large crowd went to C. R. Moore's grove just west of the cemetery Saturday morning to attend the annual picnic and outing of Fidelity Circle No. 43, Protected Home Circle. The day was most enjoyably spent, the weather being perfectly suitable for the occasion. Athletic sports and games were indulged in. All of those who attended took their baskets and all ate together at one big table in the old fashioned picnic style. Spring water was plentiful, there being a fine spring on the grounds. Several members of the East Liverpool circles attended.

Schools Again Open.

All of the teachers of the public school assembled at the Central building on Ninth street at 3 p. m. Saturday for the purpose of having the school work for the coming year outlined to them by Superintendent McDonald. They were instructed as to just what work would be expected of them during the school year. All of the schools opened this morning. Little studying was done by the pupils today as the day was largely taken up in getting the work in readiness and assigning the scholars to the rooms they are to occupy.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

ON THE ROUTE OF THE YOUNGSTOWN & SOUTHERN.

They Will Be Opened And Operated And Prospects Are Very Bright.

Youngstown, August 31.—(Special)—During the past week State Mine Inspector Biddestone located the opening for twelve coal mines in the North Lima field on the Youngstown & Southern electric railway line, promoted and organized by John H. Ruhlman and others. Inspector Biddestone made a most encouraging report of these fields to President Asa W. Jones, J. R. Long, Mr. Ruhlman and the others who are interested in the new road, and says the new territory has almost unlimited possibilities. The report of Inspector Biddestone gives Mr. Ruhlman and his associates reason to believe that Youngstown will again be the headquarters of one of the largest coal centers in the country.

Secretary and Treasurer Ruhlman, of the Youngstown & Southern Railroad company, made a trip to North Lima Saturday with Walter F. Wyeth, of the banking firm of Baker, Ayling & Co., of Boston, who with Messrs. Ruhlman and Jones financed the electric line. They went as far north as North Lima and returned just as the big downfall of rain commenced.

After his return Mr. Wyeth said: "It is a most beautiful piece of country and from what I saw today, the project looks to be a good one. I will make a trip through to East Liverpool upon my return from the west."

Contractors Joyce, Fawcett and Heasley are pushing forward the work of building the new road with the greatest of rapidity and are making good progress.

The report of Inspector Biddestone looks to be exceptionally good owing to the fact that he is noted for his honesty and integrity. He never made application for the office of state inspector of mines. Governor Nash sent for Biddestone and when the latter was apprised of his appointment he was one of the most astonished men in the state.

William E. Lewis has been engaged as driller for the North Lima coal field.

He Did Not Agree With the Company's Attorney on One Important Point Raised.

Salem, August 31.—(Special)—Arguments were heard before Judge Robinson at Ravenna on Saturday afternoon in the suit of Farmer & Getz of this city, against the Columbiana County Telephone company, in which it is sought by mandamus to prevent the telephone company from increasing its rates to subscribers. The interests of the plaintiffs and of the city were looked after by City Solicitor L. P. Metzger, and the telephone company was represented by Attorneys Carey and Mullins, of Salem, and Attorney W. L. Carey, of Cleveland, general counsel for the company.

Attorney Metzger in his argument cited decisions and rulings in similar cases, said that the telephone decision so often quoted by the company was not rendered in a parallel case. He reviewed the case ably and at length.

J. R. Carey, of Salem, argued for the company and cited a section of the revised statutes relating to telephone and telegraph companies, stipulating that a city shall receive no consideration for a franchise granted. He held that the franchise did not constitute a contract, and that the only thing the city could do about a telephone system was to see that the wires and poles were properly placed.

The latter point was not agreed to by the judge, who held that the city had certain contracted rights. The only question was whether the city could legally control the rates for telephone service.

The judge reserved his decision until Tuesday.

Attending a Conference.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—Rev. J. A. Ulman, of the Lisbon M. E. church, and Rev. J. P. Anderson, of the Presbyterian church, left for Columbus today to attend a meeting of state Sunday school workers, which will include a conference of state and county officers.

POST OFFICE TO REMAIN IN PRESENT LOCATION

The announcement has been made on several occasions recently that the Chester postoffice would be moved from its present location to the vicinity of Sixth street. Neither the postmaster nor Mr. McCutcheon, who owns the building in which the postoffice is now located has made any such assertion, and there really has been no grounds for the announcement.

Since Mr. McCutcheon purchased the postoffice building recently, negotiations have been in progress between Postmaster Johnston and the owner whereby the office will remain where it is for four years. To the present their negotiations have proceeded without a hitch, and it is likely will be finally settled upon within the next few days. The postoffice is now situated in the most logical portion of the city and can be conveniently reached by a greater number of the city than in any other spot in the town. It will undoubtedly remain there.

CHESTER OIL COMPANY TO BEGIN OPERATIONS

Dissatisfaction With Drillers Who Had First Contract and a Change Will Be Made.

It has been given out that the members of the Chester Oil and Gas company would begin active operations during the present week, or as soon after the first of the month as it would be possible to get the rig and other paraphernalia on the ground. Though a number of the members have been seen, the report could not be confirmed.

It is certain that if the territory upon which the company still holds a lease is developed further, it will not be done by the parties who had the previous contract for doing the drilling. Members of the company seen today say they have becomed discouraged with the outlook and would not expend more money with the drillers unless given the assurance that the officers make a contract with some other firm. It was said today that Mr Stewart would be willing to give bond for the faithful and satisfactory fulfillment of his contract, and some members of the company are in favor of allowing him to proceed. Some action will probably be taken this week.

Will Build a House.

James Murray, the big oil operator who moved his possessions from New Cumberland to Chester last week, will begin the erection of his new home and a magnificent barn within the next few days. Mr. Murray's residence will be located at the corner of Fifth street and Louisiana avenue, where he owns six large lots. The building will cost $8,000, while the barn will involve an expenditure of about $4,000.

EXCELLENT CONCERT

The trombone solo of Mr. E. D. Coe was a most enjoyable number.

A GREAT TEAM

The Sully family, sketch artists, who come to the Rock Springs theater this week, are the strongest aggregation on the road this season. Their sketch is strictly original and excruciatingly funny. Other members of the combination are Ely & Harvey, in a very funny comedy sketch; the kenetograph, Forbes & Forbes and the renowned troupe of dogs under the direction of Prof. Parker.

This latter act is alone worth the price of admission, and will be among the best drawing cards of the week.

Funeral Today.

Funeral services over the remains of James Kirke were conducted at the Methodist Episcopal church in Chester this morning, Rev. E. C. Lindsey officiating. The dead man was a brother-in-law of Robert Cunningham, of Chester, and died in Pennsylvania last week.

Another Physician.

Dr. Charles R. Campbell, a young physician recently graduating from Sterling Medical university, will locate in Chester soon. Dr. Campbell, whose home is near Hookstown, has many friends in this town who feel sure he will succeed here.

CHESTER NOTES.

A large party of Chester people made the trip to Hollow Rock camp meeting.

It has been officially announced that the First National bank of Chester will open for business next month.

Garrett Mercer has returned from a two weeks' vacation and is again located with the Chester Grocery company.

William Bee, the Carolina avenue shoe merchant, left today for Parkersburg, where he will visit for several days.

Mrs. Al Noling, who suffered a sunstroke last week, has been reported better. For several days it was thought the lady could not recover, but she rallied late in the week and is better today.

PROTECTED BY CHIEF WYMAN

Bereft of any semblance of the finer nature that he once possessed, Patrick McCarroll, an oddman employed at the West End pottery, made a vicious assault on his wife Saturday night and but for the timely appearance of Chief Wyman, Mrs. McCarroll might have been a corpse today.

Loud cries of "Help! Murder!" and many other such frightful sounds attracted the attention of the chief, who happened to be in the vicinity of McCarroll's home, near the West End pottery, while he was en route to the disorderly houses in Jethro Hollow. The chief says the cries were the most heart-rending that he ever heard. The woman yelled as if in terrible distress and danger.

At every cry the chief quickened his steps and arrived at the rear door of the house while the poor woman was struggling for protection. She exclaimed that her brutal husband had beaten her until she was black and blue and that he threatened to kill her.

Angered beyond control of himself, the chief ran into the house, grabbed McCarroll by the nape of the neck and slammed him out into the street and then pushed him to a call box from where he summoned the patrol. McCarroll, though very brave when his opponent was a woman, quieted down like a baby and gave no trouble whatever to the chief. He was landed behind prison bars and he rameained there until Sunday morning, when he placed $10 as security for his appearance this evening at 7 o'clock.

McCarroll has quite a reputation for wife-beating and will be dealt with by the mayor accordingly.

At about the same time that McCarroll was arrested for his act, another such crime was being committed near Cartwright's pottey, report of which reached city hall today. There were no arrests made, however, the names being impossible to get.

The second game of the series of three games being played by the Carroll club and the East End Grays was witnessed in Columbian park Saturday afternoon by a large crowd. The Carroll club won the game by a score of 8 to 6 and now the teams are tied. There is much enthusiasm over the outcome and the next game will be a great attraction. Both teams are in elegant shape and will fight hard for the decisive game. The score:

DEFEAT GIVEN TO THE MONARCHS

Smith's Ferry put the bug on the Monarchs Saturday. They won by a score of 7 to 1. The locals credit the defeat to the muddy grounds, which caused them to make bad errors at costly time. The score:

Oaklands Ready.

Homestead Releases Washer.

Manager Risher, of the Homestead team, has released Buck Washer, of whom so much was expected last month when he was added to the team. It is claimed he failed to make good and Parkins, the new player from Evansville, will be put in his place. This announcement caused great surprise, as it was thought Washer would be retained the entire season. Risher still has three pitchers on his pay roll. They are Alex. Pearson, a right-handed twirler, and Osborne and Parkins, both southpaws.

Yokel Threw Lutz.

Beaver Falls, August 31.—(Special)—M. R. Yokel, a Beaver Falls man, who is physical instructor at Harvard, threw Lawrence Lutz, a local wrestler, twice with ease Saturday night before a large crowd in the Sixth Avenue theater. The match was for $100 a side and Yokel was to throw Lutz twice within an hour. The betting was 3 to 1 that he would not, but he gained the first fall in six minutes and the second in 3½ minutes, both with half Nelsons. Ed Riley, of New Brighton, challenged the winner.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

It is rumored that Ned Hanlon will coach the Harvard crews.

Manager McGraw cannot keep still and continues to be fired from the field regularly.

Tim Flood, the Zanesville third baseman, who broke a knee cap at Ashland, Ky., last week, is probably out of the game for life. He was making a slide for second and struck his knee on a stake.

Irwin Wilhelm, of Wooster, released from the pitching staff of the Pittsburg team, since his return home has had offers from two National league teams and Birmingham and Little Rock, of the Southern league.

Henry George, Jr., will be Labor day orator at Youngstown.

William S. Aiken, a civil war veteran and prominent business man of Alliance, is dead, aged 70.

The death of a two-year-old child and the serious, possibly fatal, injury of its mother, Mrs. James Foster, of Warren, Ind., were caused by a train at a crossing in Warren.

At a meeting of the Republican Central committee of Jefferson county, it was ordered that the congressional primary elections be held on Wednesday, September 16.

John Parks, of Steubenville, for using profane and indecent language, was sentenced by Justive Love to pay $100 and costs, or about $144. It will take him a year to serve the sentence in the workhouse.

Save the Children.

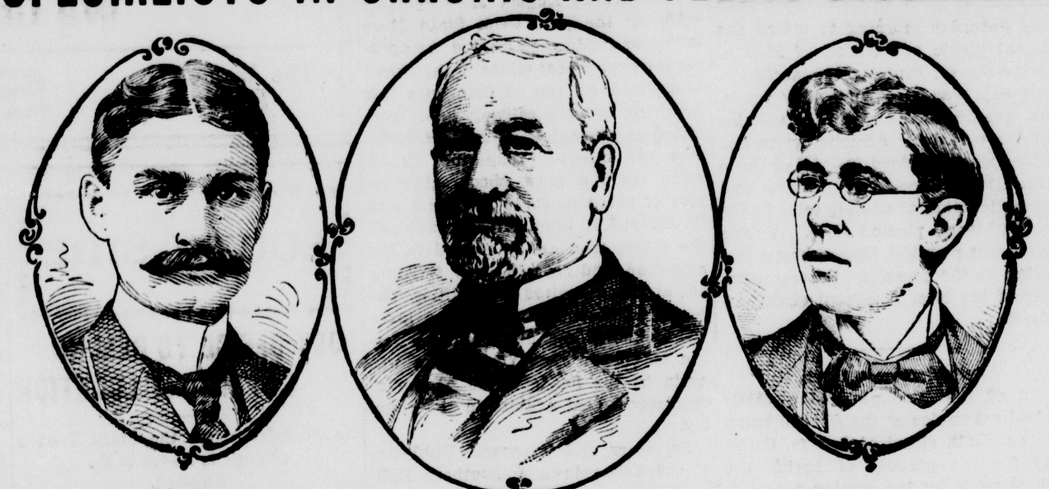
SPECIALISTS IN CHRONIC AND PELVIC DISEASES.



THE FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE. Established 1886. Largest Practice and Most Complete Institution of its kind in the United States. Our record of cures is second to none. Our practice extends not only throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico, but also includes many foreign countries. Our long experience, remarkable skill, and universal success entitle us to the full confidence of the afflicted. For more than twenty years we have been making regular monthly visits to the principal cities of Ohio. The celebrated France Treatment is acknowledged by many, including prominent physicians, as being the most complete and successful treatment known to the medical world, for diseases of men and women. Wonderful Cures Effected in old cases which have been unskillfully treated. Our success is indicated by cures effected. Testimonials sent us by physicians and patients are positive proof. REFERENCES:—We can refer you to the First National Bank, or any bank or reputable business house in Columbus, Ohio; besides, any reliable mercantile agency can be consulted as to our financial standing.

NO MONEY REQUIRED OF RESPONSIBLE PARTIES TO COMMENCE TREATMENT.

WE TREAT AND CURE all curable diseases of the Stomach and Bowels, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles, Diarrhœa; Eye and Ear Diseases; Heart and Liver Diseases; Blood and Skin Diseases, such as Scrofula, Ulcers, Eczema, Pimples; Female Diseases, especially those cases which have baffled the skill of other physicians. Epileptic Fits, Rupture, permanently cured by a new, scientific method. Charges for treatment will be made satisfactory; consultation free.

SYPHILIS positively cured without the use of injurious drugs. No matter of how long standing, our Special Treatment cures when doctors, patent medicines and hot springs have failed. We have cured thousands of the worst forms of this disease.

OUR MEDICATED BOUGIE NEVER FAILS TO CURE.

THE FRANCE URETHRAL TREATMENT is a medicated Bougie for the cure of Stricture and all forms of Diseases of the Bladder, Urethra, and Prostate Gland. The Bougies are inserted into the urethral canal upon retiring at night; they slip into position without the slightest effort, requiring a short time to dissolve. They act like a mild electric current, invigorating and imparting vim and snap to the entire body. The curative effect is felt from the first application. Our special treatment completely dissolves the Stricture and permanently removes obstructions from the urinary passage.

Treatment by Correspondence. Each person applying for Medical Treatment should bring or send from two to four ounces of urine, which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination. We have cured hundreds of cases we have never seen. Write for book of 100 pages and list of 500 questions. Correspondence, Consultation and Examination free and strictly confidential. No names published without written consent. Treatment sent by mail or express to any part of the United States.

Guard Rail of the Craft Gave Way and Two Men Were Drowned.

Bellaire, August 31.—In a fight on the ferryboat Charon, here Saturday night, between a non-union machinist, Frank Williams, and two strikers, William Pracht and Anthony Holleran, the guard rail gave way and all went in to the river. Williams escaped, but the other two were drowned.

A strike is in progress at the plant of the National Tube company in Benwood. Williams, who was living in the blockhouse in the inside of the enclosure at the works, came over to Bellaire Saturday night. After he had been drinking liquor for some time, he started yelling, "I am a scab and able to take care of myself." His actions attracted the attention of the strikers, who tried to dissuade him to cease working, but he was firm in his refusal.

Finally some one hit Williams, and he started to run for the ferry landing, with a crowd after him. It was just 11:10, and the Charon was ready to go over the river with about 25 people. Williams came over the bank, and onto the boat he went pell mell, and only two of the strikers, Pracht and Holleran, with him, just as the boat pulled away from the landing. When the boat was out in the river 100 yards the three were fighting fiercely near the guard rail. The non-union man was down, and the others were hitting him. Suddenly he got up and they all clinched again. Williams drew a revolver and fired. The guard rail gave way and all went into the river.

It was pitch dark. A large crowd had gathered on the river bank, and one of the three, Williams, was seen to swim ashore. When he got out into a lot of willows he was found by a police officer and taken to the city building. The other two sank to a watery grave. Williams has been but eight months in this country, and only two weeks in the National tube works.

The Ohio river being high just at present, and very swift, it will likely be some time before the bodies can be found. The river has been dragged all morning, but with no success.

There was a large crowd of strikers and their sympathizers on the West Virginia side awaiting to see if Williams would be brought over there to jail, and it is safe to say that if he had been he would never have reached the prison.

ORDINANCE 773

Granting Certain Privileges to and Exacting Certain Obligations From the Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad Company, Its Lessee.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of East Liverpool, State of Ohio:

Section 1. The Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company, and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are hereby granted the right to lay and operate one track, in addition to those now existing, (said existing tracks are shown by a map now on file with the City Clerk, said map being dated January 14, 1903) on and across all streets and alleys in this city where said company's tracks are now located, excepting on what is known as the Horn Switch track and excepting also Second street at its junction with Broadway, said additional track to be constructed on an alignment practically the same as the tracks now existing.

Section 2. Said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company, and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are hereby granted the right to lay and operate one track, in addition to that provided for in Section 1, on and across all streets and alleys between the point of intersection of Jefferson and West Second streets and the westerly line of Second street at its junction with Broadway, on which there now exists one or more tracks of said company. All extensions of tracks and all additional tracks in Sections 1 and 2 hereinabove designated, are to be constructed upon the said Cleveland and Pittsburg company's right of way or upon land to be hereafter acquired by said company, except at the intersections of streets and alleys with the said company's tracks.

Section 3. It is hereby provided, that Ralston's Crossing shall be vacated and that said company shall construct or cause to be constructed an undergrade crossing at its bridge No. 111, in accordance with the plans agreed upon and herewith submitted and marked Exhibit "A"; said company to provide a sixteen foot driveway immediately south of the property on the northerly line of said company's right of way from the intersection of Ralston's Crossing and the said company's tracks, eastwardly to the public road leading to the said undergrade crossing; to construct or cause to be constructed, a forty foot roadway commencing at a point in the road leading to Ralston's Crossing where said road is to be abandoned as aforesaid and continuing thence eastwardly, south to the C. & P. R. R. company's right of way, to and through the culvert of the said company's railroad bridge No. 111, and extending thence northwardly to the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, to provide the necessary right of way for the extension of the last described road from a point in the said road southeastwardly from the said culvert, eastwardly at a width of forty feet to the west line of lot No. 1400 and connecting with a road already in existence at the northside of said lot No. 1400. All of said proposed roads hereinabove described, are shown upon a plat hereinwith filed and marked Exhibit "A" as aforesaid.

Section 4. It is provided, ordained and agreed, that the said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, shall dedicate to the said city as and for an alley, the eastwardly twenty feet of lot No. 4392 and that the alley now platted and existing between the present southerly right of way line of said company and the row of twelve lots purchased by it from the Puritan Land company, in the East End, shall be vacated from Central avenue to the westwardly line of the alley above provided for also that the alley between lots Nos. 4389 and 4390 shall be vacated from the southerly right of way line of said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company to the northerly line of St. George street, provided that said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company or the said Pennsylvania company, its lessee, shall construct on said lots, a brick depot or station building to cost not less than $5,000.00. All of said alleys, streets and lots herein referred to are shown by a plat herewith filed and marked Exhibit "B."

Section 5. The foregoing grants to the said Cleveland & Pittsburg Railroad company and the Pennsylvania company, its lessee, are expressly made upon condition that they shall by duly authorized agent, accept this ordinance with all its terms and conditions and shall agree thereby and as a part thereof to

First—Maintain all existing street and alley crossings on the tracks and right of way of said company and to establish and to maintain a crossing at either Virginia avenue or Central avenue as may hereafter be determined; and to establish and maintain a crossing at Elizabeth street, whenever the City Council shall deem said crossing necessary. All crossings hereinabove named are hereby dedicated to said City.

Second—To provide a flagman at East and West Market streets on the hill tracks, whenever said track is used for the passage of trains and cars.

Third—To light all street intersections with said Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad, in any manner that might be legally required.

Fourth—To remove on six months' notice the side tracks now located and existing on city property at the foot of Broadway and extending eastwardly therefrom, whenever Council demands it.

Fifth—To hold and save the said city harmless from any and all damage or damages, that may arise by reason of any improvements or excavations or by reason of any construction or vacation made in pursuance to or by reason of the provisions of this ordinance.

Sixth—To pave all driveways to and between teaming tracks in the lower yards.

Seventh—To erect a freight depot at or near what is known as the Horn Switch or hill yards when the City Council demands it.

Section 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

Passed August 11, 1903.

Attest: WILLIS DAVIDSON, Clerk of Council.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters.

CHAPTER I.—Grenfall Lorry, a wealthy occupant who refuses or neglects to do quaintance with a charming foreign girl on the train from Denver to Washington. The pair are left behind when the car stops for repairs in West Virginia. II.—Lorry wires ahead to hold the train. He and the unknown girl ride twenty miles at a tearing pace in a mountain coach. Lorry knows it is a dangerous ride. There is no love-making, but a near approach to it as the rolling stage tumbles the passengers about. III.—Lorry dines with the foreign party, consisting of Miss Guggenslocker, Uncle Caspar and Aunt Yvonne. They are natives of Graustark, a country Lorry had never heard of before. IV.—Lorry shows the foreigners the sights of Washington. They leave for New York to sail on the Kaiser Wilhelm. Miss Guggenslocker naively calls Lorry her "Ideal American" and invites him to come and see her at Edelweiss. V.—Wildly infatuated, Lorry hurries to New York. The name Guggenslocker is not on the steamer list. He sees the steamer off. Miss G. waves him a kiss from the deck. VI.—Lorry joins his old friend, Harry Anguish, an American artist in Paris. Graustark and its capital Edelweiss, are located by a guide book. The Americans get no trace of the Guggenslockers there. VII.—Lorry sees his charmer driving in a carriage with a beautiful companion of her own sex. He gets a glance of recognition, but the carriage rolls on, leaving the mystery unsolved. Later he receives a note at his hotel signed Sophia Guggenslocker, inviting him to visit her next day. VIII.—In the evening Lorry and Anguish ramble about the grounds of the castle where dwells the court of the princess of Graustark. They overhear a plot to abduct the princess and resolve to capture the plotters red handed. IX.—Following the conspirators, Lorry finds himself in a room he heard them designate as that of the princess. X.—Lorry tells the princess of the plot. Mutual recognition: she is Miss Guggenslocker. Dannox, the guard, is in the abduction plot. He fells Lorry with a terrible blow. Anguish to the rescue. XI.—Lorry quartered in the castle. The princess visits him, but forbids all talk of love. XII.—Graustark is bankrupt and owes the neighboring princedom of Axphain $30,000,000. The creditor demands cash or the cession of the richest districts of Graustark. XIII.—The Prince of Axphain offers to extend the loan if the princess will marry his son Lorenz. Prince Gabriel, of Dawsbergen, also bids for the princess' hand with offer of a loan. Yetive tells Lorry that she belongs to her people and will marry Lorenz. XIV.—Lorry discovered kissing the princess while she is seated on the throne. He quits the castle by royal command. XV.—Betrothal of the princess to Lorenz. The Americans recognize Gabriel as chief conspirator in the abduction plot. XVI.—Lorenz toasts the princess lightly in a cafe. Lorry dashes the glass from his hand. Challenge to a duel. Lorenz assassinated. Lorry charged with the crime. XVII.—Princess Yetive commits Lorry to prison. All Graustark rejoices at the death of Lorenz. XVIII and XIX.—The princess helps Lorry to escape. Disguised as a soldier, she conducts him to a monastery. XX.—Axphain offers Graustark grace on the loan if Lorry is executed before Nov. 20. Yetive offers a reward for the capture of Lorry.

CHAPTER XXII.

GRENFALL LORRY'S FOE.

THE Princess Yetive had not flinched a hair's breadth from the resolution formed on that stormy night when she sacrificed pride and duty on the altar of love and justice. Prince Bolaroz's ultimatum overwhelmed her, but she arose from the wreckage that was strewn about her conscience and remained loyal, steadfast and true to the man in the monastery. To save his life was all she could hope to accomplish, and this she was bound to do at any cost. She could be nothing to him, not even friend. So long as he lived he would be considered the murderer of Lorenz, and until the end a price would hang over his head. She, Princess of Graustark, had offered a reward for him. For that reason he was always to be a fugitive, and she least of all could hope to see him. There had been a brief, happy dream, but it was swept away by the unrelenting rush of reality. The mere fact that she, and she alone, was responsible for his flight placed between them an unsurmountable barrier.

Clinging tenaciously to her purpose, she was still cognizant of the debt she owed the trusting, loving people of Graustark. One word from her could avert the calamity that was to fall with the dawn of the fatal 20th. All Graustark blindly trusted and adored her. To undeceive them would be to administer a shock from which they could never recover.

Her highness' manner was at all times frank and untroubled. She was apparently light hearted. Her cheeks had lost none of their freshness. Her eyes were bright. Her smile was quick and merry, her wit unclouded. Receptions, drawing rooms and state functions found her always vivacious, so much so that her court wondered not a little. Daily reports brought no news of the fugitive, but while others were beginning to acquire the haggard air of worry and uncertainty she was calmly resigned. The 15th, the 16th, the 17th, the 18th and now the 19th of November came and still the princess revealed no marked sign of distress.

Heavy hearted and with bowed heads the people of Graustark saw the 19th fade in the night, the breaking of which would bring the crush of pride, the end of power. At court there was the silent dread and the dying hope that relief might come at the last hour. Men with pale faces and tearful eyes wandered through the ancient castle, speechless, nerveless, miserable. Brave soldiers crept about, shorn of pride and filled with woe. Citizens sat and stared aimlessly for hours, thinking of naught but the disaster so near at hand and so unavoidable. The whole nation surged as if in the last throes of death. Tomorrow the potency of Graustark was to die, its domain was to be cleft in twain, disgraced before the world.

And on the throne of this afflicted land sat the girl Yetive, proud, tender, courageous. Tomorrow would see the north torn from the south, the division of families, the rending of homes, the bursting of hearts. She sanctioned all this because she loved Lorry and because he had done no wrong.

Aware of her financial troubles and pursuing the advantage that his rival's death had opened to him, Prince Gabriel of Dawsbergen renewed his ardent suit. Scarce had the body of the murdered prince left the domain before he made his presence marked. Knowing that he was in truth the mysterious Michael who had planned her abduction, she feared and despised him, yet dared make no public denunciation. As Dawsbergen was too powerful to be antagonized at this critical time, she was constantly forced to submit to the most trying and repulsive of ordeals. Tact and policy were required to control the violent, hot blooded young ruler from the south. Day after day he haunted the castle, persistent in his efforts to induce her to accept his proposition. So fierce was his passion, so implacable his desire, that he went among the people of Edelweiss, presenting to them his proposal, hoping thereby to add public feeling to his claims. He tried to organize a committee of citizens to go before the princess with the petition that his offer be accepted and the country saved. But Graustark was loyal to its princess. Not one of her citizens listened to the wily prince, and more than one told him or his emissaries that the loss of the whole kingdom was preferable to the marriage he desired. The city sickened at the thought.

His last and master stroke in the struggle to persuade came on the afternoon of the 19th, at an hour when all Edelweiss was in gloom and when the princess was taxed to the point where the mask of courage was so frail that she could scarce hide her bleeding soul behind it.

Bolaroz of Axphain, to quote from the news dispatch, was in Edelweiss, a guest, with a few of his lords, in the castle. North of the city were encamped 5,000 men. He had come prepared to cancel the little obligation of fifteen years' standing. With the hated creditor in the castle, his influence hovering above the town, the populace distracted by the thoughts of the day to come, Gabriel played what he considered his best card. He asked for and obtained a final interview with Yetive, not in her boudoir or her reception room, but in the throneroom, where she was to meet Bolaroz in the morning.

The princess, seated on her throne, awaited the approach of the resourceful, tenacious suitor. He came, and behind him strode eight stalwart men bearing a long iron bound chest, the result of his effort with his bankers. Yetive and her nobles looked in surprise on this unusual performance. Dropping to his knee before the throne, Gabriel said, his voice trembling slightly with eagerness and fear:

"Your highness, tomorrow will see the turning point in the history of two, possibly three, nations—Graustark, Axphain and Dawsbergen. I have included my own land because its ruler is most vitally interested. He would serve and save Graustark, as you know, and he would satisfy Axphain. It is in my power to give you aid at this last, trying hour, and I implore you to listen to my words of sincerest friendship—yes, adoration. Tomorrow you are to pay to Prince Bolaroz over 25,000,000 gavvos or relinquish the entire north half of your domain. I understand the lamentable situation. You can raise no more than 15,000,000, and you are helpless. He will grant no extension of time. You know what I have proffered before. I come today to repeat my friendly offer and to give unquestioned bond as to my ability to carry it out. If you agree to accept the loan I extend—10,000,000 gavvos for fifteen years at the usual rate of interest—you can on tomorrow morning place in the hand of Axphain when he makes his formal demand the full amount of your indebtedness in gold. Ricardo, open the chest!"

An attendant threw open the lid of the chest. It was filled with gold coins.

"This box contains 100,000 gavvos. There are in your halls nine boxes holding nine times as much as you see here, and there are nine times as much all told on the way. This is an evidence of my good faith. Here is the gold. Pay Bolaroz and owe Gabriel, the greatest happiness that could come to him."

There was a dead silence after this theatrical action.

"The interest on this loan is not all you ask, I understand," said Halfont slowly, his black eyes glittering. "You ask something that Graustark cannot and will not barter—the hand of its sovereign. If you are willing to make this loan, naming a fair rate of interest, withdrawing your proposal of marriage, we can come to an agreement."

"I have the happiness of your sovereign at heart as much as my own," he said. "She shall never want for devotion; she shall never know a pain."

"You are determined, then, to adhere to your original proposition?" demanded the count.

"She would have married Lorenz to save her land, to protect her people. Am I not as good as Lorenz? Why not give"— began Gabriel viciously, but Yetive arose and, with gleaming eyes and flushing cheeks, interrupted him.

"Go! I will not hear you—not one word!"

CHAPTER XXIII.

THE VISITOR AT MIDNIGHT.

BELOW the castle and its distressed occupants, in a dark, damp little room, Grenfall Lorry lived a year in a day. On the night of the 18th, or, rather, near the break of dawn on the 19th, Captain Quinnox guided him from the dangerous streets of Edelweiss to the secret passage, and he was safe for the time being. The entrance to the passage was through a skillfully hidden opening in the wall that inclosed the park. A stone doorway so cleverly construct

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

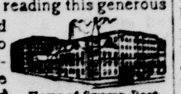
It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Rheumatism

"THE PAIN KING."

Those who have ever felt its keen, cutting pains, or witnessed the intense suffering of others, know that Rheumatism is torture, and that it is rightly called "The King of Pain."

All do not suffer alike. Some are suddenly seized with the most excruciating pains, and it seems every muscle and joint in the body was being torn asunder. Others feel only occasional slight pains for weeks or months, when a sudden change in the weather or exposure to damp, chilly winds or night air brings on a fierce attack, lasting for days perhaps, and leaving the patient with a weakened constitution or crippled and deformed for all time.

An acid, polluted condition of the blood is the cause of every form and variety of Rheumatism, Muscular, Articular, Acute, Chronic, Inflammatory and Sciatic, and the blood must be purged and purified before there is an end to your aches and pains. External applications, the use of liniments and plasters, do much toward temporary relief, but such treatment does not reach the real cause or cleanse the diseased blood; but S. S. S., the greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics, does cure Rheumatism by antidoting and neutralizing the poisonous acids and building up the weak and sluggish blood. It is safe and reliable in all forms of Rheumatism. It makes the old acid blood rich, and the pain tortured muscles and joints are relieved, the shattered nerves are made strong, and the entire system is invigorated and toned up by the use of this great vegetable remedy.

INSURGENTS KILLED

MACEDONIAN SITUATION GRAVE

Salonica, Aug. 31.—The Bulgarian insurgents sustained a severe revers at Smilovo Friday, 1,000 of them being killed. The insurgents to the number of 3,000 occupied a position on a height, which was stormed by six battalions of Turkish troops commanded by Servet Pasha. After losing 1,000 of their number the Bulgarians fled in the face of the heavy Turkish artillery fire. The Turkish losses were insignificant.

Macedonian Situation Very Grave.

Salonica, Aug. 31.—The situation in Macedonia is one of the utmost gravity. The insurgents are everywhere increasing in numbers and holding their own against the Ottoman soldiers. Anarchy reigns supreme, the vast Turkish army being completely out of control and eating up the country. In a few weeks famine must ensue, causing untold misery. Any outrage in the city of Salonica now would turn the Turks into soldiers and the populace into wild beasts. The country west of the river Varda, towards the vilayet of Monastir, is expected to rise daily.

Fear Indiscriminate Massacre.

London, Aug. 31.—The Times correspondent at Salonica gives an account of the ill-concealed terror prevailing in that city and the fears that some incident may precipitate an indiscriminate massacre. Commerce, he says, is paralyzed and a famine apprehended. The ambassadors and consuls recently appealed to their governments to send warships, but the desire to avoid the appearance of encouraging the insurgents is to be held of greater importance than precautionary measures for the protection of Europeans. Hence the vessels have not been sent.

Preparations for an approaching insurrection in Northern Macedonia are rapidly progressing, but the day of the outbreak has not yet been fixed.

Seek European Intervention.

Among the Turks themselves, continues the correspondent, a growing body professes to be ready to support European intervention to remedy the desperate condition of affairs and even talks of murdering the foreign consuls as a means to compel foreign intervention. There is no lack of sensational news from the interior, but all the reports are conflicting and confusing. There is much interest and anxiety regarding the fate of Klisura, which has long been besieged by the insurgents.

According to the latest report a large body of Turks sent to raise the seige has gained an important victory.

A report is current that Sept. 1, the anniversary of the sultan's accession, has been selected to begin the outbreak in the vilayet of Salonica.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, summer complaint of any sort if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

HOME AFFAIRS

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

A Son Born—A 13-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dickey, of Lincoln avenue, this morning.

Enlarging the Parsonage — A new wing is being added to the Lutheran parsonage, an extension much needed by the pastor and his family.

Going Into Business—James L. Ridgeway, warehouseman at Lewis Bros.' furniture store, has resigned his position to enter the grocery business. He has purchased the Strouss establishment on the Calcutta road.

Preparing for Labor Day—Local union No. 292, made up of grocery and butcher clerks, is making elaborate preparations for Labor day. A meeting has been called for tomorrow when it is proposed to put the finishing touches to the arrangements. The organization is one of the most prosperous in the city.

Presbyterial Convention—The Woman's Presbyterial convention of the Steubenville presbytery will be held next week at Salineville on September 9 and 10. A number of the missionary ladies of the United Presbyterian church in this city will attend. An excellent program will be prepared and interesting subjects will be discussed.

Early Reorganization—The Twentieth Century Literary club of this city has not yet organized for the coming year. The club will probably resume its literary work some time during October, but the program for the year's work had not been made out. The club is one of the excellent literary societies of the city and last year had a most successful record. The members will renew their work for the winter with still greater interest.

Escaped Uninjured—Dr. C. B. Ogden, health officer of the city, had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning on Sixth street, just off the Diamond. Dr. Ogden was driving in toward the curb at the office of the Union Building and Loan company, when a wagon coming from the other direction caught the wheel of his vehicle and upset it. Dr. Ogden was thrown out and the buggy fell over him, but he escaped without a scratch.

W. C. Smith, a prominent citizen of the East End, who has been one of the alleged participants in a recent sensation, was cited to appear at the mayor's office this afternoon to answer the serious charge of using threatening language to a woman. The warrant was issued upon the complaint of Ed. Davis, a highly respected citizen of the East End. That that scandal brought about the present trouble is the opinion of those who claim to be familiar with the affair.

It has been openly asserted that Smith has been paying marked attention to an East End married woman. A short time ago the husband of the woman left the city. Upon several occasions when news of the gossip reached him, Smith has shown a disposition to fight and when he heard of threats, it is claimed that he purcased a revolver and a stock of ammunition. To add to his troubles, news of the affair reached his wife, who is said to be in a delicate condition of health.

The present trouble is said to have been caused by the friendship between Smith's wife and Mrs. Davis. Saturday afternoon Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Davis were to go down town together to do some shopping and Smith, hearing of it, is said to have been in a rage. He threatened violence upon his wife, it is claimed, and used insulting language to Mrs. Davis.

AN INSANE MAN ARRESTED AT HOME

Lisbon, August 31. — (Special.) — William Watson, who was sent from Lisbon to the Massillon asylum last winter and escaped from the institution and returned home some time ago, was taken into custody again last night by Sheriff Leonard, and is now in the county jail.

Watson and his aged mother, Mrs. Mary Watson, have been living alone a number of years, and while the son has never been particularly violent, he is whimsical and subject to peculiar notions. Last night after 8 o'clock he sat down to eat and remained at the table until midnight, his mother meantime having gone to bed. Shortly after midnight he entered her room, picked up a silk waist and said he had decided to burn some of her old clothes as she never wore them.

Mrs. Watson succeeded in arousing a neighbor, who summoned the sheriff.

By a Salem Widow Who Wants Her Share of Husband's Estate.

Lisbon, August 31. — (Special) — Mrs. Rebecca Bossert, of Salem, who has been contesting in probate court an alleged misinterpretation of the will of her late husband, Jeremiah Bossert, through Attorneys Potts & Wells, of Lisbon, has filed suit in common pleas court, asking that she be allowed a dower interest in a vein of coal and mines on the premises of her late husband.

The defendant is the Peerless Coal Mining company, of Cleveland, which, it is alleged, purchased of the late Mr. Bossert in August, 1902, the coal underlying 402.80 acres in Salem township. Mrs. Bossert says the coal is now being mined at the rate of 4,000 tons a month and asks that her dower interest, according to the provisions of the sale, be assigned to her.

AN APPEALED CASE

Answer and Cross Petition Filed in a Suit Involving $200 Worth of Stone.

Lisbon, August 31.—(Special)—The case of George R. Moore against J. A. Smith has been appealed to common pleas court from the court of Justice J. M. Dickinson, in Lisbon, in which the plaintiff got judgment for $83.40 and costs.

The plaintiff sued for $263.40 on the allegation that the defendant had appropriated 100 perch of stone and sold it for $200; that he used derricks, drills, etc., the use of which is reasonably worth $50, and that Smith had purchased from him $13.40 worth of stone which he has refused to pay for. Interest is asked from June 20. Attorney Charles S. Speaker, for the defendant, has filed an answer and cross-petition, denying the allegations of the plaintiff and setting up a counter claim for $30, in which he alleges that Moore took from the quarry a blasting machine belonging to the defendant, valued at that amount.

MINING CLAY AND COAL

A Lisbon Mine Will Be Equipped With Clay Crushing Machinery.

Lisbon, August 31. — (Special.) — The Klondike coal mine of Card & Prosser closed Saturday for three weeks to give time to put in a big new clay plant. It will have an automatic speed and will grind and load the clay on cars ready for shipment.

When the mine was opened a few years ago it was found that an excellent vein of fire clay lay next to the coal and the mining of it, togetner with the coal, has developed into an important industry.

HELD TO COURT

Louis Greuber, the saloonist of Second street, who was arrested Saturday on a charge of assaulting Mrs. Clementina Heins, was given a hearing this morning by Mayor Weaver. The case was tried before a large crowd of interested spectators. Attorneys represented both sides. The mayor thought the evidence convicting and bound Greuber over to court under bond of $100.

Newton Croxall believes in the old saying, "It never rains but it pours." He was "up against it" in just three local courts today. The last time it was before 'Squire McCarron.

The justice rendered a decision against him, ordering him to vacate a house in the West End, the one that was pulled Saturday night as a disorderly house.

Suicide at Youngstown.

Youngstown, August 31.—Ephraim Morrow, aged 55, for many years an employe of the American Tube & Iron company, committed suicide at his residence by taking laudanum. During the past week Morrow and his wife had quarrelled and had not spoken to each other for several days. This is the only cause assigned for his act. Morrow was an industrious man, of excellent habits and leaves a wife and five grown children.

TWO KILLED BY HOLD-UP MEN

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Without a word of warning two men were killed and two others wounded by hold-up men at the barns of the Chicago City Railway company, Sixty-first and State streets. The shooting was done by three men, who escaped after securing $3,000.

The injured: William B. Edmond, receiving clerk, will recover; Henry Biehl, will recover.

The robbers took no chances, but disposed of all the opposition of the employes before they entered the office. Choosing the time when the employes were busily engaged in balancing up the receipts of the night, just after the last conductor had turned in his money and left the barns, the robbers suddenly appeared at the receiving window and began shooting. The first bullet fired struck Stewart and he fell to the floor without a word. Biehl and Edmond, who were sitting near Stewart, turned to see what was the matter, but before they could leave their chairs they were rendered helpless by the well-directed bullets of the robbers. Johnson, the motorman, who was asleep on a bench in the outer office, hearing the noise, started up to go to the assistance of his companions, but was shot and killed before he could get on his feet. The robbers then broke open the door of the cashier's office with a sledge hammer and secured $3,000 in bills, which was lying on the desk. They then made their escape. Four men were arrested three hours after the robbery on suspicion of being implicated in the crime, but they have not as yet been identified.

Found Dead With Skull Crushed.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 31.—Joseph Uncather, aged 20, was found dead on a pile of ties near his front door with his skull crushed. He was the son of Charles Uncather. Saturday night young Uncather and Harry Grace, whose attentions to Myrtle Uncather, a sister of Joseph, had been ordered stopped by her father, met the father and mother. A quarrel followed and Grace threw a stone, striking Charles Uncather, who swore out a warrant for Grace's arrest. Mr. and Mrs. Uncather left the two young men together. Later, after Grace had been arrested, they returned home and saw young Uncather lying on the ties. They heard him breathing loudly, but did not disturb him. Sunday morning they found him lying in the same position, dead. No arrests have been made.
